Presented by ALDERMAN TWEED.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Common Council be requested to prepare the ANNUAL MANUAL of the Common Council, for the year 1852, and that, when prepared, he cause the same to be published under his direction and supervision.

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen, Feb. 2, 1852.

Adopted by the Board of Assistant Aldermen, Feb. 3, 1852.

Approved by the Mayor, Feb. 4, 1852.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of New York :

GENTLEMEN :—I submit this work to you as the result of my efforts in compliance with the resolution as above, and I remark, sincerely, that at no time have I lost sight of the responsibility of the undertaking, and to produce it equal to the anticipations of your Honorable Body. I have bestowed upon it the greatest attention in thought and research. Knowing, from the value placed upon its predecessors as “standard references” for information respecting Municipal matters, that accuracy would be regarded as one of its strongest recommendations, it has been my first aim to select and arrange matter, the correctness of which would be indisputable ; the latter portion of the MANUAL will be found a continuation of the Sketches of Olden Times in New York, which had been commenced in previous volumes, together with engravings, illustrating places where many interesting and important events occurred, and to which the attention of the reader is respectfully invited.

Very respectfully,

D. T. VALENTINE.

May, 1852.

AN ACT TO AMEND
CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

PASSED APRIL 7, 1830.—CH. 122.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows :

1. The legislative power of the Corporation of the city of New York, shall be vested in a Board of Aldermen and a Board of Assistants, who together shall form the Common Council of the city.

2. Each ward of the city shall be entitled to elect one person to be denominated the Alderman of the ward, and the persons so chosen, together shall form the Board of Aldermen ; and each ward shall also be entitled to elect one person, to be denominated an Assistant Alderman ; and the persons so chosen, together shall form the Board of Assistants.

3. The Aldermen and Assistant Aldermen shall be chosen for one year ; and no person shall be eligible to either office, who shall not, at the time of his election, be a resident of the ward for which he is chosen.

4. The annual election for charter officers shall commence on the second Tuesday in April, and the officers elected shall be sworn into office on the second Tuesday in May thereafter; and all the provisions of law now in force in regard to the notification, duration, and conduct of elections for Members of Assembly, and in regard to the appointment, powers and duties of the inspectors, holding the same, shall apply to the annual election of charter officers.

5. The first election for charter officers, after the passage of this law, shall take place on the second Tuesday in April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one; and all those persons who shall have been elected under the former laws regulating the election of charter officers, and shall be in office at the time of the passage of this law, shall continue in office until the officers elected under this law shall be entitled to be sworn into office.

6. The Board of Aldermen shall have power to direct a special election to be held, to supply the place of an Alderman whose seat shall become vacant by death, removal from the city, resignation, or otherwise; and the Board of Assistants shall also have power to direct a special election to supply any vacancy that may occur in the Board of Assistants; and in both cases, the person elected to supply the vacancy, shall hold his seat only for the residue of the term of office of his immediate predecessor.

7. The Boards shall meet in separate chambers, and a majority of each shall be a quorum to do business. Each Board shall appoint a President from its own body, and shall also choose its clerk and other officers, determine the rules of its own proceedings, and be the judge of the qualifications of its own members. Each Board shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and the doors of each shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy; and all resolutions and reports of Committees which shall recommend any specific improvement involving the appropriation of public moneys, or taxing or assessing the citizens of said city, shall be published immediately after the adjournment of the Board, under the authority of the Common Council, in all the newspapers employed by the Corporation; and whenever a vote is taken in relation thereto, the ayes and noes shall be called and published in the same manner.

8. Each Board shall have the authority to compel the attendance of absent members; to punish its members for disorderly behavior, and to expel a member with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to the Board; and the members so expelled, shall, by such expulsion, forfeit all his right and powers as an Alderman or Assistant Alderman.

9. The stated and occasional meetings of each Board of the Common Council shall be regulated by its own ordinances; and both Boards may meet on the same or on different days, as they may severally judge expedient.

10. Any law, ordinance or resolution of the Common Council, may originate in either Board, and when it shall have passed one Board, may be rejected or amended by the other.

11. No member of either Board shall, during the period for which he was elected, be appointed to, or be competent to hold any office for which the emoluments are paid from the city treasury, or by fees, directed to be paid by any ordinance or act of the Common Council, or be directly or indirectly interested in any contract, the expenses or considerations whereof are to be paid under any ordinance of the Common Council; but this section shall not be construed to deprive any Alderman or Assistant of any emolument or fees which he is entitled to by virtue of his office.

12. Every act, ordinance or resolution, which shall have passed the two Boards of the Common Council, before it shall take effect, shall be presented, duly certified, to the Mayor of the city for his approbation. If he approve, he shall sign it; if not, he shall return it with his objections to the Board in which it originated, within ten days thereafter; or if such Board be not then in session, at its next stated meeting. The Board to which it shall be returned, shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and cause the same to be published in one or more of the public newspapers of the city.

13. The Board to which such act, ordinance or resolution, has been so returned, shall, after the expiration of not less than ten days thereafter, proceed to reconsider the same. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of the members elected to the Board shall agree to pass the same, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other Board, by which it shall be likewise reconsidered; and if approved by a majority of all the members elected to such Board, it shall take effect as an act or law of the Corporation. In all such cases the votes of both Boards shall be determined by ayes and noes, and the names of the persons voting for and against the passage of the measure reconsidered, shall be entered on the journal of each Board respectively.

14. If the Mayor shall not return any act, ordinance, or resolution so presented to him, within the time above limited for that purpose, it shall take effect in the same manner as if he had signed it.

15. Neither the Mayor nor Recorder of the city of New York shall be a member of the Common Council thereof, after the second Tuesday of May, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one.

16. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Mayor, and whenever the Mayor shall be absent from the city, or be prevented by sickness, or any other cause, from attending to the duties of his office, the President of the Board of Aldermen shall act as Mayor, and shall possess all the rights and powers of the Mayor during the continuance of such vacancy, absence or disability.

17. It shall be the duty of the Mayor—

FIRST. To communicate to the Common Council, at least once a year, and oftener, if he shall deem it expedient, a general statement of the situation and condition of the city, in relation to its government, finances and improvements.

SECOND. To recommend to the adoption of the Common Council all such measures, connected with the police, security, health; cleanliness, and ornament of the city, and the improvement of its government and finances, as he shall deem expedient.

THIRD. To be vigilant and active in causing the laws and ordinances of the government of the city to be duly executed and enforced.

FOURTH. To exercise a constant supervision and control over the conduct and acts of all subordinate officers, and to receive and examine into all such complaints as may be preferred against any of them for violation or neglect of duty; and generally to perform all such duties as may be prescribed to him by the charter and city ordinances, and the laws of this state and the United States.

18. Annual and occasional appropriations shall be made by proper ordinances of the Common Council for every branch and object of city expenditure, nor shall any money be drawn from the city treasury, except the same shall have been previously appropriated to the purposes for which it was drawn.

19. The Common Council shall not have authority to borrow any sums of money whatever on the credit of the Corporation, except in anticipation of the revenue of the year in which such loan shall be made, unless authorized by a special act of the legislature.

20. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to publish, two months before the annual election of charter officers, in each year, for the general information of the citizens of New York, a full and detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Corporation during the year ending on the first day of the month in which such publication was made; and in every such statement the different sources of city revenue, and the amount received from each; the several appropriations made by the Common Council, the objects for which the same were made, and the amount of moneys expended under each; the moneys borrowed on the credit of the Corporation, the authority under which each loan was made, and the terms on which the same was obtained, shall be clearly and particularly specified.

21. The executive business of the Corporation of New York, shall hereafter be performed by distinct departments, which it shall be the duty of the Common Council to organize and appoint for that purpose.

22. It shall be the duty of the Common Council to provide for the accountability of all officers and other persons to whom the receipt or expenditures of the funds of the city shall be intrusted, by requiring from them sufficient security for the performance of their duties or trust, which security shall be annually renewed; but the security first taken shall remain in force until new security shall be given.

23. The Clerk of the Board of Aldermen shall, by virtue of his office, be Clerk of the Common Council, and shall perform all the duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the Common Council, except such as shall be assigned to the Clerk of the Board of Assistant Aldermen; and it shall be his duty to keep open for inspection, at all reasonable times, the records and minutes of the proceedings of the Common Council, except such as shall be specially ordered otherwise.

24. The division of the Common Council into two Boards shall not take effect until the officers to be elected under this law shall enter on the duties of their office. Each Board shall hold its first meeting for the purpose of organizing, on the second Tuesday of May in each year, at which time the Mayor or Clerk of the Common Council shall attend, by whom the oath of office shall be administered to the members elected. In the absence of the Mayor and Clerk, such oath may be administered by the Recorder, or First Judge of the city, or by any of the Justices of the Superior Court.

25. None of the provisions of this act, except the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-second sections, shall be construed as applying to the Common Council as now constituted.

26. Such parts of the charter of the city of New York, and of the several acts of the Legislature amending the same, as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this law, shall not be construed as repealed, modified or in any manner affected thereby, but shall continue and remain in full force.

CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

PASSED APRIL 2, 1849, "THREE-FIFTHS BEING PRESENT."

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows :

§ 1. The legislative power of the Corporation of the city of New York, shall continue to be vested in a Board of Aldermen and a Board of Assistant Aldermen, who, together, shall form the Common Council of the city. The Board of Aldermen shall consist of one Alderman from each ward, who shall be elected by the people of the respective wards for two years. The Board of Assistant Aldermen shall consist of one Assistant Alderman from each ward, who shall be elected in like manner, and shall hold their office for one year.

§ 2. The election for charter officers shall be held on the day of the general state election, when all charter officers eligible by the people shall be chosen, and the officers who shall be elected, shall be sworn into office on the first Monday of January thereafter; and the laws of the state regulating elections, shall apply to elections of charter officers; but the Common Council may, by law, extend the time for the canvass of the votes. The Mayor shall hold his office for a period of two years.

§ 3. The Common Council, during the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty, may hold its sessions as often as each Board shall, by resolution, appoint, and thereafter the Common Council shall annually hold only three stated sessions of not exceeding one month each, commencing on the first Monday of January, May and September. The Mayor may convene the Common Council or the Board of Aldermen, only, at any time between the sessions, if, in his judgment, any exigency shall have arisen to render such a proceeding necessary, on the request, in writing, of a majority of the members elected to each Board, specifying the purposes for which such meeting is called; in which case, the action of the Common Council shall be confined to the matters in reference to which it shall have been so convened, or to such other matters as may be submitted by the Mayor for its consideration, during such session; and the respective Boards may adjourn from day to day, until such business shall be completed.

§ 4. The Boards shall sit in separate chambers, and the doors shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy. A majority of each shall be a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members. Each Board shall appoint a President from its own body ; shall choose its Clerk and other officers ; determine the rules of its own proceedings ; be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members ; keep a journal of its proceedings, and have power to direct special elections to fill its own vacancies ; to compel the attendance of members ; to punish them for disorderly conduct, and expel a member by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, after five days' notice, and opportunity of being heard has been given to him ; but such resolution of expulsion shall be of no effect unless it contain a provision for a special election within two weeks thereafter to supply such vacancy ; provided, however, that such special election shall not be ordered unless there be at least two months of the term of the expelled member unexpired. The Clerk of the Board of Aldermen shall, by virtue of his office, be Clerk of the Common Council, and shall perform all the duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the Common Council, except such as shall be assigned to the Clerk of the Board of Assistant Aldermen ; and it shall be his duty to keep open for inspection, at all reasonable times, the records and minutes of the proceedings of the Common Council, except such as shall be specially ordered otherwise. The two Boards shall have concurrent powers, and a negative on each other's proceedings, and shall in all cases act as separate bodies, and shall not appoint Joint Committees, except a Committee on Accounts. Each Board may originate, amend, concur in, or reject any law, ordinance, resolution ; but no law shall pass either Board, except by a majority of the members elected. Neither Board shall adjourn for a longer period than three days, except by a resolution, to be concurred in by the other body.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of the Clerks of the respective Boards, to publish all ordinances, and amendments of ordinances which shall be passed, and also the proceedings, in the newspapers employed by the Corporation, except such parts as may require secrecy ; and whenever a vote shall be taken in either Board, upon the passage of a resolution or ordinance which shall contemplate any specific improvement, or involve the sale, disposition or income therefrom, or lay any tax or assessment, such resolution or ordinance shall, before the same shall be sent to the other Board, and immediately after the adjournment of the Board, at which the same shall have been passed, be published with the ayes and noes, with the names of the persons voting for and against the same, in at least two newspapers, as a part of the proceedings ; and no act, resolution or ordinance which shall have passed one Board, shall be acted upon by the other Board on the same day, unless by unanimous consent, except in case of invasion, insurrection, or pestilence.

§ 6. If any ordinance or resolution passed by each Board, as provided by sections twelve and thirteen of the amended charter of one thousand eight hundred and thirty, shall not be returned by the Mayor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the close of the session of the Common Council shall prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law until the expiration of five days after the commencement of the next session of the Common Council, by whom the ordinance or resolution shall be reconsidered, if returned within such time, and be disposed of in the same manner, and with the like effect, as if presented at the preceding session.

§ 7. No money shall be drawn from the city treasury, except the same shall have been previously appropriated to the purpose for which it is drawn ; and all appropriations shall be based upon specific and detailed statements, in writing, of the several heads of the departments, through the Comptroller.

§ 8. The Board of Assistant Aldermen shall have the sole power of impeachment of all city officers, not otherwise provided for, and pending such impeachment, and until the final disposition thereof, the party impeached shall not exercise any of the functions of his office. The Board of Aldermen shall have the sole power to try all impeachments ; when sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation, truly and impartially to try the impeachment, according to evidence ; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to said Board. Judgment, in case of impeachment, shall not extend farther than removal from office and disqualification to hold any office under the city charter ; but the party convicted shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

§ 9. The executive power of the Corporation shall be vested in the Mayor, the heads of departments, and such other executive officers as shall be, from time to time, created by law, and neither the Common Council nor any Committee or member thereof, shall perform any executive business whatever, except such as is, or shall be, especially imposed on them by the laws of the state, and except that the Board of Aldermen may approve or reject the nominations made to them, as hereinafter provided.

The chief officer of this department shall be called " the Comptroller of the City of New York." There shall be a bureau in this department for the collection of the revenue accruing from taxes, the chief officer thereof shall be called the " Receiver of Taxes," who shall nominate, and with the advice and consent of the Board of Aldermen, appoint so many Clerks as shall be authorized by the Common Council: provided that nothing in this act contained shall be held to interfere with the tenure of office of the present Receiver of Taxes and Deputy Receiver of Taxes, as established by the act passed April 11, 1848. ## FIRE DEPARTMENT FUND.

TRUSTEES' REPORT FOR 1851.

THE Trustees of the Fire Department of the city of New York, in presenting their annual report of the transactions of the Board for the past year, avail themselves of the occasion to express to the members and friends of the institution their heartfelt thanks for the liberal assistance which has been so generally extended, both in a pecuniary point of view and otherwise, since the date of their last statement. Such aid has been the more necessary and grateful, for the reason that there has been a steady increase of the expenditures annually, which have amounted during the past year to the very heavy sum of thirteen thousand three hundred and forty-six dollars and ninety-two cents, which has been expended in the payment of widows' pensions, donations to sick and disabled firemen and orphan children, and funeral expenses, and in the purchase and distribution of one thousand five hundred and two pair of shoes and one hundred and forty tons of coal; nor can these be diminished in any degree without producing, at this inclement season, a vast amount of suffering among the many meritorious beneficiaries of the department.

In this connection the trustees take great pleasure in calling attention to the very liberal and unlooked-for bequest, from the late Mr. Eugene Boisseau, of two thousand dollars to the fund; and they feel the more constrained to express their grateful sense of the benevolence of Mr. Boisseau, from the fact that he was a comparative stranger to the members of this institution, and at the time of his decease a resident of a neighboring state; added to which is the singular circumstance, that this is the first and only bequest ever made to this department. And while the trustees desire to place the act of this most benevolent gentleman before their fellow-citizens generally, in order to manifest their deep sense of gratitude, they at the same time would hold it up as a bright example worthy of consideration and imitation; for it is certainly a source of surprise and regret to the managers of this, (one of the oldest charities of our city,) that while other kindred institutions are almost daily receiving accessions to their funds, in the shape of bequests, &c., this legacy of our lamented friend should stand alone on the records of the Fire Department of this great city. All honor to the memory of Eugene Boisseau! The liberality of James Gordon Bennett, Esq., and the Editors of the Sun, who have made donations of the whole amounts of their respective bills for two years' printing, is most feelingly acknowledged. The Department is also indebted to our respected fellow-citizen, William B. Astor, Esq., for an additional donation of three hundred dollars to his previously liberal contributions. Attention is also directed to the proceeds of an exhibition given by Professor Anderson; and this occasion is embraced to express the grateful sense of the Department for the liberality of the Professor in exerting his wonderful talents in its behalf. The munificent donation of five hundred dollars from that public-spirited and philanthropic citizen, E. P. Christy, Esq., has been already publicly acknowledged in appropriate terms by our esteemed and worthy Treasurer. The Trustees have also to express their approbation to the Firemen's Ball Committee, who, by their indefatigable exertions and judicious management, have annually added large sums to the funds, the proceeds of the last annual ball at the Astor place Opera House, amounting to the unprecedented sum of three thousand three hundred and forty dollars and eighty-eight cents.

For the various other donations, and for an account of the receipts and expenditures generally, attention is directed to the accompanying Report of the Treasurer, where will be found a full and particular account of the transactions of that officer during the period already mentioned. The Treasurer reports that there was remaining in his hands last year a balance of three hundred and sixty-six dollars and eighty-five cents, since which time he has received from various sources the sum of nineteen thousand six hundred and ten dollars and twenty-nine cents, which, in the aggregate, amounts to nineteen thousand nine hundred and seventy-seven dollars and fourteen cents; out of which there has been expended, as already stated, the sum of thirteen thousand three hundred and forty-six dollars and ninety-two cents; invested, six thousand dollars; leaving a balance deposited in the Butchers' and Drovers' Bank, to the credit of the Fire Department Fund, of six hundred and thirty dollars and twenty-two cents. The Permanent Fund of the Department now amounts to fifty-eight thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars, which is invested as follows, viz: Loaned on bond and mortgage, fifty-eight thousand six hundred dollars; and two hundred and fifty dollars in Manhattan Bank Stock. In the Permanent Fund are invested, for the benefit of the widow and orphans of David Raymer, six hundred and thirty-five dollars and twenty-five cents; for the widow and orphans of James S. Wells, one thousand dollars; for the widow and orphans of George Kerr, two thousand dollars, and for the widow and orphans of John L. Guyre, two thousand one hundred dollars; which amounts have been subscribed by benevolent individuals, Associations, and the Common Council of this city, for their exclusive benefit during their widowhood and minority of the children, but eventually revert to the Permanent Fund of the Department. At present, the Trustees pay to them the interest, at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, which amounts, deducted, leaves the actual fund of the Department fifty-three thousand one hundred and fourteen dollars and seventy-five cents.

In consequence of the extension of the city, and in order the more readily to afford speedy and certain relief to those having claims upon the Institution, the Trustees have re-arranged the several Districts allotted to their care, by which the duties of each Trustee are more equalized, and more prompt and efficient aid thereby secured to the recipients in the distribution of coal, wood, shoes, and other necessaries. This arrangement will commend itself to the judgment of every member of the Department, for whose information the names and residences of the Trustees will be found in the list of the officers composing the Board. In the last Annual Report attention was directed to the fact that the Legislature, in its wisdom, had transferred from the State Treasury the small tax of two per cent. on their premiums, which had been placed on Foreign Insurance Agencies doing business in this city, to the funds of the Department, and that the Agents had very generally complied with the requirements of the enactment. The Trustees have now to announce, that the following Agents, although having duly signed the bond required of them by the statute, have refused to make good their engagements to the Department—viz: Alfred Pell, resident Agent for the British Companies of London and Liverpool; Joseph S. Noble, Insurance Agent for the Pennsylvania Companies; and Joseph Hoxie, representing the Lexington and Columbus Companies; against all of whom suits have been commenced by the Board. The law is said to be clear and explicit in its provisions—and for any attempt to avoid complying with its requirements, a penalty of one thousand dollars is recoverable for each offence; nor is this amount required to be paid merely to the Fire Department of this city, but it is general in its provisions, and applies to every city and village in this State where a Fire Department exists, and where the Agents do business.

The Trustees regret that the Agents named have assumed this untenable position—disregarding their written obligations, the requirements of the law, and depriving the widow and the orphan of the succor intended for them by the State Legislature. The Trustees are the more surprised when they reflect that when the tax has simply been transferred from the resources of the State, and applied to the wants and necessities of an Institution whose members peril health and life in affording protection to property covered by their policies, the Agents should have exhibited such a total want of generosity, in refusing to comply with the requirements of the statute, while they have been receiving their full share of the benefits from the otherwise unrequited services and exertions of the Fire Department. The application made by the Department last winter to the Legislature, so to amend the Charter as to permit the Permanent Fund to be increased to one hundred thousand dollars, was promptly complied with. A vacancy still exists in one of the “Van Schaick Scholarships” of the Department at the New York University, and application for the same, directed to this Board, will receive prompt attention.

Three Trustees are to be elected this year, for three years each, the terms of service of Messrs. John Goger, Jr., James Pryer, and Henry A. Burr, expiring by limitation at the Annual Meeting.

All of which is respectfully submitted, by order of the Board of Trustees.

* NOTE.—In March 1815, Mr. Clinton was removed by the Council of Appointment, and John Ferguson, Esq., appointed Mayor. Mr. Ferguson then being Naval Officer of the Customs, was required by the President to state which of the two offices he would hold. By the advice of friends he resigned the Mayoralty in June following, when the Council appointed Jacob Radcliffe, Esq., in his place. Mr. Ferguson held the Naval Office to the time of his death, in September, 1832. There being no minutes of this change in the books of the Common Council, the above is furnished for the compiler by a friend.

CROTON DAM.

EXTRACTS FROM THE
GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE LINE OF THE
CROTON AQUEDUCT.

BY JOHN B. JERVIS, ESQ., LATE CHIEF ENGINEER.

The Croton Aqueduct commenced about six miles above the mouth of the Croton river, where a dam has been constructed to elevate the water of the river forty feet to the level of the head of the aqueduct, or 166 feet above mean tide. The course of the aqueduct passes along the valley of the Croton to near its mouth, and thence passes into the valley of the Hudson. At eight miles from the Croton Dam it reaches the village of Sing Sing, and continues south through the villages of Tarrytown, Dobbs' Ferry, Hastings and Yonkers.

At the latter place it leaves the bank of the Hudson, crosses the valleys of Saw-mill river and Tibbits' brook; thence along the side of the ridge that bounds the southerly side of Tibbits' brook valley, to within three and a half miles of the Harlem river, where the grounds of the Hudson fall away so much as to require the aqueduct to occupy the summit of the country lying between the Hudson and East rivers.

This formation of country continues to, and is terminated by the Harlem river, at the point where the aqueduct intersects it; which is one mile north-westerly from Macomb's Dam.

The length of the aqueduct, from the Croton Dam to Harlem river, is 32.88 miles, for which distance it is an uninterrupted conduit of hydraulic stone and brick masonry. The high ground that bounds the northerly side of the Harlem river valley, is very near the level of the aqueduct at that place; and the width of the valley at the aqueduct level is about 1450 feet, or a little over one-quarter of a mile; over which a bridge is constructed at an elevation of 114 feet above the level of high tide in the Harlem river, on which iron pipes are laid to convey the water across the valley,

The shore on the southerly side of the river is a bold, precipitous rock, rising at an angle of about thirty degrees, to a height of 220 feet, or about 100 feet above the level of the bottom of the aqueduct.

After crossing this valley, the aqueduct of masonry is resumed, and continued 2.015 miles, to the termination of the high ground on the north side of Manhattan valley.

This valley is 0.792 miles wide at the level of the aqueduct; below which it descends 102 feet. The conduit of masonry here gives place to iron pipes, which descend into the bottom of the valley, and rise again to the proper level on the opposite side; from which point the masonry conduit is again resumed, and crossing the Asylum ridge, and Clendinning valley, is continued 2.173 miles, to the receiving reservoir at York hill.

This reservoir is bounded by Eighty-sixth street on the north, Seventy-ninth street on the south, Seventh avenue on the west, and Sixth avenue on the east. It is 1,826 feet long and 836 feet wide on the outside angle of the embankment; containing an area of thirty-five acres, divided into two divisions, and is (a little over) five miles from the City Hall. From the receiving reservoir, a double line of iron pipes, three feet in diameter, is laid down in Eightieth street and Fifth avenue, to convey the water 2.176 miles to the distributing reservoir at Murray hill. The location of this reservoir is on the Fifth avenue, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, and is three miles from the City Hall; it is 420 feet square on the cornice of the exterior wall, and contains an area of 4.05 acres, divided into two equal divisions, and has an average elevation of 44.5 feet above the level of the streets around it.

The length of the aqueduct from the Croton Dam to the distributing reservoir is 40.562 miles—to wit:

It is proper to add to the above, the length of the Croton reservoir, which has been formed by the erection of the Croton Dam and other work necessary to obtain the water at a suitable level on the Croton river, as without this dam and reservoir, the aqueduct would have required an extension of five miles to reach the proper level on the river; which is now attained by means of the dam. The entire length, therefore, from the point on the Croton which has the requisite elevation, to the distributing reservoir, is 45.562 miles. The large mains running from the distributing reservoir through the central part of the city, would add about four miles, making the total length of the main conduit nearly fifty miles.

A large proportion of the open cutting, and nearly the whole tunnel cutting, has been through rock. More than 400,000 cubic yards of rock have been excavated.

There are on the line sixteen tunnels, varying in length from 160 to 1,263 feet, making an aggregate length of 6,841 feet. The height of the ridges above the grade level at the tunnels, ranges from twenty-five to seventy-five feet.

CROTON DAM.

The southern shore of the Croton River at the point where the dam is located, is a gneiss rock; moderately sloping up the hill from the water's edge; but not appearing to extend far into the river. The dam required to be raised forty feet above low water in the river; and it was an important object to arrange the plan, so as to obtain a rock foundation for the masonry.

To effect this, the northern abutment was located as far in the river as the rock was supposed to extend, and from this to build up the dam to the level where the top line intersected the natural slope of the hill, and then to cut the hill away; making an opening sufficient for the waste weir of the dam.

In prosecuting the work, it was found that the rock descended more rapidly into the river than was supposed, which induced the moving of the abutment further towards the hill than at first located; and, finally, an artificial foundation had to be made for a small portion of it. It was intended to make the waste of the dam 100 feet, with abutments of eight feet high; but, in consequence of the disappointment in regard to the extent of the rock in the river, it was found difficult to obtain the desired length of water-way, and it was concluded to raise the abutment to twelve feet at the lower end, and fifteen feet at the upper end, and allow the water-way to remain an average length of ninety feet for this height. The natural rock formed the southern abutment, and the aqueduct being on this side, the water was conducted to the gateway, at its head, by a tunnel, cut 180 feet through the rock; this allowed the gateway to be located on solid rock, in a situation not exposed to the floods of the river. The water enters the gate-chamber by an archway through the second bulkhead. The gate-chamber is provided with a double set of gates; one set of guard-gates, of cast iron, set in cast-iron frames, and one set of regulating gates, made of gun metal, set in frames of the same material; the gates are all eighteen by forty inches, and there are nine gates in each set. They are all operated by means of wrought-iron screw-rods.

The gate-chamber and bulkheads are constructed of well-dressed masonry, laid up in hydraulic cement.

In the north abutment a waste culvert has been constructed, with suitable gates of cast iron, to draw the water down in the reservoir, at such times as it may be necessary, to facilitate the making of any repairs that may be required, and to discharge the river at ordinary times during the construction of the work. From this abutment the old channel of the river was filled by an embankment, with a heavy protection-wall on the lower side, which was raised fifteen feet above the waste weir of the dam, and designed to be fifty feet wide on the top, but was not completed the full width when the unprecedented flood of January, 1841, carried it away. The embankment stood well, and gave no indications of failure, until the water rose to near the surface, and passed through between the frozen and unfrozen earth about twenty inches below the top. After the breach was made in the embankment, large masses of heavy ice came down from the reservoir, which soon broke down the unfinished protection-wall, and carried off nearly the whole embankment. The masonry of the dam and abutment sustained but little injury. Such a flood had not been anticipated, and the watery-way proved insufficient to pass it off. Had the embankment been completed the full width, and the protection-wall carried up to the full height it was intended to carry it, the work might have proved adequate to the emergency. It was determined to fill the gap made by this breach (about 200 feet long) by a structure of hydraulic stone masonry, adapting 180 feet as waste weir. This work presented all the difficulties it was originally intended to avoid, by carrying the work partially into the hill. It was necessary to form an artificial foundation, and carry up a heavy body of masonry in the channel of the river, which, in some parts, had fifteen feet in depth below its ordinary level, subject, in ordinary seasons, to frequent and sudden floods, and affording no means to form another channel for it to pass, until the work could be accomplished.

Had it been admissable to construct the dam with timber, the difficulties would have been far less. But the importance of the object it was designed to secure, and its great height, demanded the most permanent and durable structure that could be made.

The greatest height of the weir of the dam is forty feet above the low-water level, and fifty-five feet above the bed of the river. The width of masonry, at low water line of river, is sixty-one feet.

The form on the lower face commences on a curve, described by a radius of fifty-five feet, and continues to within about ten feet of the top, when a reversed curve, on a radius of ten feet, carries the face over, and meets the back line of the wall. The back line is carried up vertically, with occasional off-sets. The main body of the work is laid up of rough stone; the curved face of large and closely-cut stone, with four heavy courses at the bottom, dovetailed together, the joints cut to the line of radius of curve.

Above the masonry an embankment of earth is filled in, and extends to 275 feet in width on the bottom, with a slope of one to five on the up-stream face. The north end of the new weir is terminated by an abutment that rises twelve feet above it. From the toe of the masonry an apron is extended thirty-five feet, composed of hewn timber secured by ties, bolts, and tree-nails, in a very substantial manner, and filled, for sixteen feet from the stone work, with concrete masonry, and the remainder with loose stone, and covered with a course of six inch white elm plank. A second apron is partly made, which is to extend thirty-feet further.

At 300 feet below the main dam, a second dam is in progress, which is to be nine feet high, constructed of timber, stone, and gravel, which will set the water back over the apron of the main dam, and form a pool to check the water as it falls on it.

A coffer-dam was constructed in the river to inclose about 120 feet of the work, from which the water was pumped by a steam-engine, and a concrete foundation laid down on a very firm hard pan. The remainder of the foundation was made by sinking timber piers at suitable distances, running parallel with the dam, and filling the spaces between them with concrete masonry. In preparing the specifications for this work, the method and order of prosecuting it, were particularly designed, and from which no material departure has been found necessary; the structure is now nearly completed.

The contractors, Messrs. McCullough, Black, McManus and Hepburn, have evinced a highly commendable energy and ability in its prosecution.

This dam sets the water of the river back five miles, and forms a reservoir of about four hundred acres, and has rendered it necessary to construct several new roads and bridges as a substitute for those covered by the flow; the principal of which is the Somerstown turnpike. The grounds lightly flowed on the margin, have been excavated so as to give four and a half feet for the least depth of water. From this reservoir the water flows into the bulkhead, at the upper end of the tunnel, from a level averaging ten feet below the surface.

HARLEM RIVER, OR HIGH BRIDGE.*

The width of the river at the place where the aqueduct line crosses it, is 620 feet at ordinary high water mark. As has been before stated, the shore on the southern side is a bold rock rising from the water's edge, at an angle of about thirty degrees, to a height of 220 feet. On the northern side, a strip of table-land forms the shore, and extends back from the river 400 feet to the foot of a rocky hill, which rises, at an angle of about twenty degrees, to a few feet above the level of the aqueduct. The table-land is elevated about thirty feet above the river; the channel of the river to which the water is reduced at very low ebb tides, is 300 feet wide, and the greatest depth sixteen feet. Each side of the channel the bed is a deep mud, covered from three to four feet at ordinary flood tide. Next below the mud there is a thin stratum of sand, and this is followed by a stratum

* The reader is reminded that this description was written previously to the completion of this most important work. Since then it has been finished in accordance with the original plan. Its beautiful yet massive proportions are themes of admiration with the thousands of persons who annually visit its romantic location. While the work was in progress, a branch, leading from one of the mains which crossed the river at the base, was converted into a gushing fountain; thus adding another charm to those with which the place was already invested. More recently an iron stair-way has been constructed on New York island, leading from the summit of the bridge to its base, affording increased facility to visitors. The annexed inscription is from the southerly face of the bridge:—

of sand and large boulders intermixed. Below the stratum of boulders, or detached rock, there has been found, in the coffer dams for two piers, Nos. 8 and 9, a compact marble rock, and in the coffer for Nos. 7 and 10, a stratum of clay and sand, that is quite impervious to water, and affords a good medium for piling.

The general plan of the bridge is as follows: Across the river there are eight arches, each of eighty feet span, resting on piers that are at each extremity and in the centre twenty feet wide at the spring line of the arches; with intermediate piers that are fourteen feet wide at the spring line; on the south of this range of large arches there is one arch, and on the north six arches, each of fifty feet span, resting on piers seven feet wide at the spring line, and two abutments that terminate the arch work of the bridge. From the abutments a continuous foundation wall of dry stone work is extended to the gate chambers on each side.

The whole length of the bridge is 1450 feet; the height of the river piers, above high water line, is sixty feet to the spring of the arches, and ninety-five feet above the lowest foundation that has been put down; the arches are semicircular, and the height 100 feet to the soffit, or under side, at crown; to the top of the parapets 114 feet above the ordinary high water line of the river, and 149 feet above the lowest foundation of the piers that have been commenced. The width across, on the top of the parapets, is twenty-one feet; the exterior of piers, spandrels, and parapets has a bevel of 1 in 48, and have openings in the interior walls.

The space between the parapets is arranged to receive and protect from frost two cast-iron pipes, each four feet in diameter, which are to lie twelve feet below the grade line of the aqueduct, to which they will descend from the gate chambers at the ends of the bridge. The object of using pipes in this case, is more effectually to secure the conduit from leakage, that might eventually injure the masonry of the bridge; and it incidentally allows the bridge to be constructed of less height.

RECEIVING RESERVOIR.

This reservoir is 1826 feet long and 836 feet wide, and, including its embankments, contains 35.05 acres, and its area at top water line, thirty-one acres, divided into two divisions. The northern division is designed to contain twenty feet depth of water, and the southern thirty feet in depth. But they are not fully excavated in some parts, where rock occurs, it not being deemed sufficiently important to incur the expense of excavation in rock for the increased capacity that would be obtained. The reservoir has a capacity for 150,000,000 imperial gallons, as it now stands. The reservoir is formed with earth banks, the interior having regular puddled walls to render them impervious to water; the outside protected by a stone wall, laid up on a slope of one horizontal to three vertical, the face laid in cement mortar and the inside dry. The inside is protected by a dry slope wall, laid on the face of the embankment which slopes one and a half horizontal to one vertical. The embankments are raised four feet above the top of water line, and are eighteen feet wide on the top, excepting the high banks on the southern division and the western bank on the northern division, which are twenty-one feet wide. The greater part of the embankments for the northern division are of moderate height; but a portion of the eastern and western banks of the southern division are thirty-eight feet high above their base. Vaults or brick archways are constructed, in which iron pipes are laid, so arranged that the pipes from the northern division connect with those from the southern division, and thence pass off to the distributing reservoir, and to supply the adjacent districts. The main vault is on the eastern side; it is 540 feet long, and is sixteen feet span; that on the western side is 400 feet in length, and eight feet span; designed for supplying, at a future day, the district on the North River side above Forty-second street. The pipes are all provided with stop-cocks, and so arranged that they can receive the water from either division; except one pipe from each division, that leads to the distributing reservoir. It is intended to carry three lines of pipes, each three feet diameter, to the distributing reservoir (at present only two lines are put down), and the arrangement will allow two pipes to be drawn from either division, so that in the event of emptying one division for repairs, the other would supply two pipes for the distributing reservoir, and all other pipes having a connection with each division would be in full supply, notwithstanding the suspension of one division. A pipe is put through the division bank, with a stop-cock, to allow the water or not, as may be desired, to pass from one division to the other.

The aqueduct intersects the reservoir at right angles with its westerly line, and 252 feet south of the north-westerly corner.

At this point a gate chamber is constructed, with one set of gates to pass the water into the northern division, and another set to pass it into a conduit of masonry constructed within the embankment of the reservoir to the angle of the southern division, where it enters by a brick sluice into this division. This arrangement gives the power of directing the water into either division, or both, at the same time, as may be desired.

In the division bank, a waste weir is constructed to carry off the surplus water from either division, when it rises to the proper height.

DISTRIBUTING RESERVOIR.

This reservoir occupies the highest ground in the vicinity, and higher than any part of the city south of it; the site is generally known as Murray Hill.

In order to maintain the elevation of the water, it was necessary to raise the walls of the reservoir to an average height of forty-five feet and a half above the grade of the streets that bounded it on three sides; the greatest height being forty-nine feet, and the least thirty-nine feet; the foundations were sunk five feet below the grade of the streets. The walls are of hydraulic stone masonry, constructed with openings, to reduce the quantity of masonry and give a more enlarged base.

The openings are made by an exterior and interior wall, connected at every ten feet by cross walls; which are carried up to within seventeen feet of the top, and there connected by a brick arch thrown from one to the other, and the spandrels between them leveled up solid, and a course of concrete put over the whole, six inches thick, which reaches a level ten feet below the top; whence the exterior wall is carried up single to the top.

The exterior wall has a bevel of one to six, and is uniformly four feet thick from the bottom to the top of the connecting arches; the inner wall is carried up plumb, with offsets, the lower section six feet thick, the middle section five feet, and the upper section four feet thick. The space between the exterior and interior walls, at forty-one feet below the top, is fourteen feet, or twenty-four feet from the outside of exterior to inside of interior walls; and the space between them at the spring of connecting arches in consequence of the bevel of the exterior wall, is reduced to nine feet and nine inches, and from outside of exterior to inside of interior walls, 17.75 feet.

The cross walls are four feet thick at bottom, and have one offset of six inches on each side, at eight feet below the spring line of connecting arches; they have an opening six feet high, and one foot and a half wide, at a suitable level near the bottom, to allow a drain to be formed, to collect any water that may leak through the work, and carry it off in sewers provided for that purpose, and also to allow persons to go in and examine the work.

Some modifications in the cross walls are made to accommodate the gate chambers, and connect the corners of the work. On each corner of the reservoir, pilasters, forty feet in width, are raised, projecting four feet from the main wall, and in the centre, on the streets and Fifth avenue, there are pilasters sixty feet wide and projecting six feet from the wall. The pilaster in the centre, on the Fifth avenue, rises seven feet above the main wall, and all the others four feet above. Doors are placed in the central pilasters on Fortieth and Forty-second streets, which give access to the pipe chambers, to work the influent and effluent stop-cocks, from which chambers an entrance is made to the openings in the walls.

In the central pilaster on the Fifth avenue, an entrance is made by a door to a stairway that leads up to the top of the walls. On the outside walls an Egyptian cornice is laid, which accords with the general style of the work. The pilasters are laid in courses, and well-dressed ashlar face, and the main wall with coursed rubble work, rough hammer-dressed. Inside of the walls of masonry, a thorough puddled embankment of suitable earth is formed, fifty-eight feet and a third wide at the line of reservoir bottom, and sloping on the inside face one and a half to one for twenty-four feet high, and one to one for the remaining sixteen feet high, and making, with the walls on top, a width of seventeen feet; the faces of the banks are lined with a course of rubble hydraulic masonry fifteen inches thick, and coped with dressed stone. The bottom is a very impervious hard-pan, on which two feet of puddled earth is laid, and this covered by twelve inches of hydraulic concrete. The reservoir is divided into two divisions by a wall of hydraulic masonry, at the toe of which a sloping bank of puddled earth is raised eighteen feet high and covered with rubble masonry; this wall is nineteen feet thick at the bottom, six feet and two-thirds thick at top water line, and four feet at top. In this wall a waste weir is placed, with a well of two falls, together fifty-two feet, from which the waste water enters a sewer in Forty-second street, and passes off about one mile to the Hudson River. In each division there is a waste cock to draw the water from the bottom.

The reservoir is designed for thirty-six feet of water, and when full will stand 115 feet above mean tide. The walls rise four feet above the water line. An iron railing is to be placed around the walls on top of the cornice. The capacity of this reservoir is 20,000,000 imperial gallons.

CITY INSPECTOR'S REPORT,

The whole number of deaths reported to this Department during the year 1850 was 16,978; which number includes the still-born and those who died from malformation and old age, together with the premature births, amounting together to 1,533; deducting these, and also the number brought from other places to this city for interment, 68; making together 1,601, we have the number of deaths which actually occurred from disease, casualties, &c., 15,377. If a further deduction be made of the number of casualties, such as drowning, &c., with suicides and murders, amounting in all to 648, the remainder will show the total number of deaths from disease alone to have been 14,729,

The object of the Society, as presented in their constitution, is the promotion of moral purity in the city of New York, in a way both corrective and preventive, by contributing to the support of a competent and respectable agent, who shall be an authorized minister of some evangelical church; by rendering assistance to females who show signs of penitence, and manifest a desire to return to the paths of virtue, from which they have swerved; by procuring employment for their future support, and by diffusing such information, concerning the objects of the Association, as time and circumstances may seem to justify.

Since April 1, 1851, fifty-three individuals have been received as inmates, most of whom give cheering evidence of reformation. Our number might be increased were our pecuniary means adequate, and a building suitable for their accommodation provided.

The objects of the Institution are—first, to meliorate the condition of prisoners, whether detained as witnesses, for trial, or finally convicted; second, the improvement of Prison discipline and government of State and County Prisons; third, the support and encouragement of reformed convicts after their discharge, by affording them employment and sustaining them in their efforts to reform.

The business of the Association is intrusted to a Committee on Finance, a Committee on Detentions, a Committee on Prison Discipline, and a Committee on Discharged Convicts, which, together with the officers, form the Executive Committee of the Association.

Its charter gives it the power to establish a work-house, and make its duties to examine all our Prisons, and report their condition to the Legislature.

Since its organization, it has relieved 977 convicts, the present state of whom, as far as ascertained, is as follows:—

Doing well.....	225
Hopeful .....	470
Doubtful .....	126
Returned to Prison .....	19
Unknown.....	137
	—977

Connected with the Association, and auxiliary to it, is a Female Department called "THE HOME," under the care of an Executive Committee of Ladies, which takes charge of discharged Female Convicts.

The officers of this department are—

Sarah P. Doremus, Second Directress.
Anna J. H. Fitch, Treasurer.
Caroline M. Kirkland, Corresponding Secretary.
Anna Curtiss, Recording Secretary.

This institution was established in the year 1790, for the purpose "of relieving such sick poor and indigent persons as are unable to procure medical aid." In the year 1795, an act, conforming to the usual corporate privileges, was passed by the Legislature. The following are the names of the first trustees, who were among the most respectable citizens of the city, viz: John Rodgers, D. D.; John H. Livingston, D. D.; Abraham Beach, D. D.; Gen. Matthew Clarkson, Gen. Jacob Morton, Hon. John Watts, John Charleton, M. D., Samuel Osgood, M. D., John Courie, Esq., Hon. John Broome, James Watson, Esq., Moses Rogers, Esq., and Lawrence Embree, Esq.

Commencing on a small scale, and gradually increasing its operations with the increasing population, the New York Dispensary has, from a few hundred patients, arrived to so great an extent of operation as to have dispensed, during the year 1851, medical aid and medicine to 50,462 persons, viz: at the Dispensary, 37,079; at their dwellings, 10,661, and vaccinated, 2,722.

The office of the Dispensary was, for many years, in a small building on what was called Tryon Row, on the north-east end of the Park, and so limited was the accommodation, that the patients of both sexes, and of all ages and color, were obliged to be received in one small room. In December, 1829, the office was removed to its present location, corner of Centre and White streets, the fee of the lot having been granted by the Common Council. On this lot the trustees erected a three story brick edifice, with a front of 45 feet on White street, and extending 60 feet on Centre street.

Two House Physicians, aided by ten Attending Physicians, who attend each one hour, are in attendance at the rooms from 9 to 2 o'clock. There are three large rooms, one for the reception of males, one for females, and one for vaccination. There are also four small consulting rooms, and two rooms for teeth drawing, &c. There are six District Physicians, whose sole duty is to attend to those patients who are unable to come to the Dispensary. There are also six Consulting Physicians, chosen from the most eminent of the profession.

The Apothecary Department is in charge of an apothecary and an assistant.

The office is open from 8 A. M. until sunset.

EASTERN DISPENSARY.

The Eastern Dispensary, (located on the corner of Ludlow street and Essex Market place,) was chartered 15th of April, 1830, and commenced its operations under the management of the late Dr. Samuel Ackerly, who was its first president, and a number of philanthropic gentlemen residing in the eastern section of the city. From small beginnings, it has become one of the most useful benevolent institutions in the city, extending to all the sick poor within its district, without reference to age, sex, or place of nativity—medicines and medical attendance of the first class without charge.

The whole number of patients who have participated in the benefits of the Institution the past year, is.....	21,323
Of this number were

Provided, that when the distance exceeds half a mile, and is within a mile, one-third more shall be added to the above rates and prices, and in the same proportion for any greater distance. And if any public cartman shall ask, demand, receive, take, exact or extort any greater rate, price, pay or compensation, for carting or transporting any article or thing whatsoever, than is mentioned, allowed, expressed and limited, as aforesaid, it shall not be lawful for him to receive any compensation for the said carting or transportation, and the such asking or receiving shall be deemed a violation of this ordinance.

It shall not be lawful for any public cartman to neglect or refuse to carry and transport a good and sufficient load, as much as can be conveniently and safely stowed on his cart, or is reasonable for one horse to draw, nor any article of less than two thousand pounds weight, when required so to do, unless he be then actually otherwise employed; and every public cartman and public porter shall be entitled to be paid the legal rate or compensation allowed and provided in this ordinance, immediately upon the carting or transportation of any article or thing; and it may be lawful for any such public cartman or public porter, to retain any article or thing so carted or transported by him, for which he is not so paid his cartage, and to convey the same without delay to the office of Chief of Police, and he shall be entitled to the lawful rate of pay or compensation for the so conveying. All disputes or disagreements as to distance or rates of compensation, between public cartmen or public porters, and persons employing or owing them for cartage or transportation, shall be determined by the Mayor.

It shall not be lawful for any public cartman, or any other person, to cart or transport through any of the streets of said city, any poles, plank, spars, timber, or other thing exceeding thirty feet in length, except on a suitable truck or other vehicle, and such plank or other thing be placed lengthwise thereon, so as not to project at either end beyond the line of the side or width of such truck or other vehicle; and all persons so carting or transporting any such poles, plank, timber, spars, or other things, in any other manner, shall be deemed guilty of a violation of this article.

It shall not be lawful for the driver or other person having charge of any public cart, dirt-cart, or any other vehicle, to be off or away from any such cart, or any other vehicle, while the same is moving or passing along any of the streets or avenues of said city; nor shall it be lawful for any public cartman, while waiting for employment at any place assigned for his cart, to stand waiting for employment, or at any other place, to snap or flourish his whip, or to be away from his cart, unless from necessity or on business, or to set or stand about the door-steps or platforms in front of any house, store or other building, to the annoyance of the occupants thereof.

It shall not be lawful for any person, who has been licensed to keep public carts, or to be a public cartman, and whose license has been suspended or revoked by the Mayor, to keep, drive or use any public cart in the city of New York, under the penalty of twenty-five dollars for every such offence.

The stanchions of every public cart employed in the transportation of any fire-wood, shall be shouldered with a band of iron around the part which enters the mortice, and the mortice eased with iron so as to prevent the wearing of the stanchion or mortice; or at least three feet distant from the floor of the cart, there shall be fixed across from one stanchion to the other an iron chain, so as to prevent the stanchions from spreading, and no public cartman shall cart any fire-wood in violation of any of these provisions.

It shall not be lawful for any person to keep, drive, use, or employ, any cart, wagon, truck, dray, or other vehicle, other than such as are licensed as herein provided, for the transportation or conveyance of any article or thing, from place to place in the city of New York, unless the name and residence or place of business, where such owner can be found [of the owner thereof,] be fairly and distinctly painted with red paint, on a white ground, in plain letter and figures, at least two and a half inches long, in a conspicuous place, on both sides of such cart or other vehicle, so as at all times to be easily seen thereon.

LAW TO REGULATE PUBLIC PORTERS.

1. The Mayor shall license and appoint as many and such persons as he may think expedient, to be public porters of the city of New York, and revoke or suspend any or all of such licenses at his pleasure; and it shall not be lawful for any person to use any wheelbarrow or hand-cart, to carry, transport, or convey baggage, goods, or other things from place to place, within said city, for hire, wages, or pay for such conveyance, or to be at any hotel, boarding-house, ferry, steamboat landing, railroad station or depot, and solicit of strangers, travelers, citizens, or other persons, or accept the conveyance of baggage or other articles, without being licensed as aforesaid by the Mayor.

This section shall not be construed to prevent any person keeping, or employed in, any hotel or boarding-house, from conveying any baggage or other articles to or from such hotel or boarding-house, and using a hand-cart or wheelbarrow therefor; provided the name of the hotel or boarding-house, and the keeper thereof, be painted distinctly on both sides of such wheelbarrow or hand-cart, and on a badge worn on the front of his hat or cap, so as to be easily and distinctly seen.

2. All licenses to public porters, granted as aforesaid, shall run one year from the date thereof; and may be renewed by the Mayor at any time within the said year, for a succeeding year.

3. Every person receiving a license to be a public porter, as aforesaid, shall pay to the Mayor, for the use of the city, one dollar; and a further sum of seventy-five cents upon the renewal of every such license.

4. Every public porter shall wear, in a conspicuous place about his person, so as to be easily seen, a brass plate, or badge, on which shall be engraved his name, the words "public porter," and the number of his license: and it shall be unlawful for any other person to wear or exhibit any badge, purporting to be, resembling, or similar to, the badge of a public porter; and no public porter shall permit any other person to wear his badge or use his name in any way whatever, in the transportation or conveyance of anything.

5. Public porters shall be entitled to charge and receive for the carrying or conveyance of any article, any distance within half a mile, twelve cents, if carried by hand, and twenty-five cents, if carried on a wheelbarrow or hand-cart; if the distance exceeds half a mile and is within one mile, one-half of the above rates in addition thereto, and in the same proportion for any greater distance.

6. If any public porter shall ask or demand any greater rate of pay or compensation for the carrying or conveyance of any articles than is herein provided, he shall not be entitled to any pay for the said service; and to so ask, demand, or receive any such greater pay or compensation, shall be deemed a violation of this ordinance.

7. It shall not be lawful for any person to represent himself as, or to wear or exhibit any badge, inscription, card, or device, purporting or implying that he is employed or authorized by the keeper, proprietors, agent, or officer of any hotel, boarding-house, vessel, steamboat, or railroad company, to solicit, receive, or convey persons, baggage, or other things to or from any such hotel, boarding-house, vessel, steamboat, or railroad company's station or depot, without being actually and duly authorized by such keeper, proprietor, officer, or agent so to do, under the penalty of twenty-five dollars for every offence.

All persons who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished, pursuant to the provisions of sections 20 and 21 of an act relative to the powers of the Common Council of the city of New York and the criminal courts of said city, passed by the Legislature of the State of New York, January 23d, 1833; or in lieu thereof shall forfeit and pay, for the use of said city, ten dollars for each and every offence, except where a penalty is prescribed in said ordinance.

The total amount at the credit of the United States Treasurer, and subject to draft, with Assistant Treasurers, and designated depositors, and in the Mint and branches, by returns received to Monday, 26th of April, 1852, was $13,777,468 45, of which $2,285,678 30 was in the hands of the Assistant Treasurer of New York, and $5,649,900 in the Mint at Philadelphia.

The yearly average of these deposits should be added to the amount of specie in the banks, to render these returns as nearly reliable as practicable. The Compiler is indebted to Isaac L. Platt, Esq., for the foregoing interesting and important Table.

Newspapers, in 1851, 366,196; 1852, 435,136.

* Since these instructions issued, the Postmaster-General has decided that any subscription for a period of less than three months, will be charged transient rates.

Showing an increase, in favor of the first quarter of 1852 of 67,101 letters, and 68,940 papers.

To the gross amount of sea letters, 1,332,461, add the domestic correspondence of the quarter, 5,603,493, and 180,000 circulars, and it will give 7,115,954 letters and circulars, that have passed through the office during the quarter, or a daily average of nearly 80,000.

The gross amount of domestic and foreign letters sent and received for the quarter ending June 30, 1851, being the last quarter under the old law, was 4,494,430, showing an increase in favor of the quarter ending March 31, 1852, of 1,119,063 letters, or about twenty-five per cent., independent of the vast increase of circulars.

The average number of daily mails made up and despatched for the same quarter is about 4,900; and about the same number are received, assorted, and delivered, or distributed daily.

The number of dead letters received at this office from the dead letter office at Washington for the same quarter, and containing property of value, consisting of money in various sums, bills of exchange, &c., for amounts ranging from $1 to $62,000, is three hundred and thirty-three, two hundred and twenty-five of which have been delivered to the proper parties, and the remaining one hundred and eight, having been unclaimed, were returned to the dead letter office.

In addition to the above, must be taken into consideration the enormous quantity of domestic papers daily passing through the office, as exchanges and to subscribers, and the reader may then form only a slight estimate of the very great quantity of work transacted in the Post office. This vast amount of business, which allows of no interruption or postponement, is transacted by ninety-five clerks; eighty-nine commence their labors at half-past five o'clock in the morning, and remain on duty until five o'clock, p. m., when six night clerks go on duty, and remain until five o'clock in the morning.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

OF ALL THE MAGISTRATES OF NEW AMSTERDAM.

Jan Vigne,
Schepen, in 1655, 1656, 1661, 1663.

THIS individual was a son of Guleyn Vigne and his wife, Ariantje Cuvilje. He either was born in this place, or came hither with his parents at a very early age. His mother owned a farm on the present site of Wall and Pearl streets, and the adjacent parts. On this farm was a wind-mill, standing upon a hill near the corner of Wall and Pearl streets. The widow of Guleyn Vigne died about the year 1643, leaving one son, the subject of our sketch, and three daughters, Maria, (who married Abram Verplank,) Christiana (married Dirck Volckeson, of Bushwick,) and Rachel (married Cornelius Van Tienhoven )

The homestead farm, which was the nearest farm of any extent to the city, and was undoubtedly one of the oldest cultivated sections in this state, was occupied by Jan Vigne, where, in addition to the cultivation of his lands, he carried on the brewing business and kept the ancient wind-mill at work.

The history of Jan Vigne is mostly curious from its associations with the early condition of our city. The following extracts from the court records, exhibit a country farmer in actual every day operation, on the present thriving precincts of Wall, Pearl, Pine and adjacent streets.

1653.—“Jan Vigne against Daniel Litschoe.—The plaintiff complains that defendant’s pigs have been in his corn-grounds, and done considerable damage. Defendant does not deny that his pigs were in there, but says that it was owing to the fences being bad. He says, moreover, that he cautioned the plaintiff about his fences before, to which no attention was paid, and now his pigs have been in again, and one of them, worth about thirty guilders, had its legs broken. He therefore desires to know if he should not be paid her value.”

The case was referred to arbitrators.

1654.—“Jan Vigne appears in court complaining of the damage sustained by him in consequence of the erection of the city walls,” a line of palisades and banked earth which had been constructed in the present year on the present line of Wall street. “He further says, that his land has been thrown open, and the cattle destroyed his planted crops. He requests that he may be reimbursed for damage. Referred.”

1657.—A similar application is made by Vigne, in conjunction with the other heirs of Ariantje Cuvilje.

1656.—“Jan Vigne against Frans Clasen.—Plaintiff says that the defendant’s son, with three or four other school-boys, were found among his peas and corn, where they did much damage with their foot-prints, &c. Having spoken to the defendant about it, he found him surly and abusive.

“Defendant says that his boy came home, black and blue from a beating given him by the plaintiff. That he believes three or four children were coming from school, and might have been in the field, but not maliciously; and he does not believe they damaged the worth of a pea’s pod.

“Plaintiff says he could not catch the other boys, or he would have served them the same.”

In this case the court considered that plaintiff had lost his remedy for damage by having beaten the boy.

Jan Vigne died in 1691, in this city. It is believed that he left no children, but many descendants of his sisters still live among us.

Arent Van Hattem,
Burgomaster in 1653, 1654.

ARENT VAN HATTEM was an intelligent trader, who had been for some years in the peltry trade, traveling up the Hudson river, and through other Indian country. He amassed a considerable fortune, and was one of the pioneers in the trading business in this part of the world. He was the first burgomaster of this city, and the head of the municipality. His residence here was not constant, as his occupation called him often into other parts. In 1653 he was sent, in company with Cornelius Van Tienhoven, to Virginia, to negotiate a treaty with the authorities there. He was captain of the citizen's company, organized in 1653, for the defence of the city against the people of New England. A year or two after he departed from this country for Holland. He had no family here, but left an illegitimate child at Fort Orange, Albany, the mother of which afterwards married one Hans Vos. The child was bound out to Jacob Van Colaer, (a man of some note) for five years, then to be returned to Van Hattem, or to be subject to his orders. The father, however, never claimed it after his departure, and it was delivered to the mother. Van Hattem left some property in this country, which was left in charge of Jaques Cortelyou.

Johannes De Peyster,
Schepen in 1655, 1657, 1658, 1662, 1665.
Alderman in 1666, 1669, 1673, 1676.
Burgomaster in 1674.
Deputy Mayor in 1677.

THIS magistrate was a merchant, in good circumstances, residing and doing business in the "Winckel," or shop street, now Whitehall street, opposite the Bowling Green. The nature of the business pursued by Mr. De Peyster, was a general trading business. We find the records speak of his fitting out the stores of a ship; at another place of dealing in tobacco. He also sells wine by the cask, and trades with one De Kemper for an ox

From this De Peyster are descended the numerous and respectable citizens of that name of the present day. In former times the members of that family appear to have been members of the city government almost continually until the Revolutionary war.

A BRAHAM DE PEYSTER was Alderman in 1685.--Mayor in 1691, 1692, 1693 and 1694.

JOHANNES DE PEYSTER was Assistant in 1694, 1695, 1701.—Mayor in 1698.

CORNELIUS DE PEYSTER was Assistant in 1704, 1705, 1706, 1709, 1710, 1711, 1712, 1713, 1714, 1715, 1716, 1717, 1718.

ISAAC DE PEYSTER was Assistant in 1730, 1731, 1732, 1733.

ABRAHAM DE PEYSTER was Assistant in 1735, 1736, 1737, 1738, 1739, 1740, 1741, 1742, 1743, 1744, 1745, 1746, 1747, 1748, 1749, 1750, 1751, 1752, 1753, 1754, 1755, 1756, 1857, 1758, 1759.

WILLIAM DE PEYSTER was Assistant in 1750, 1751, 1752, 1753, 1754.

Johannes Pietersen Van Brugg,

Schepen in 1655, 1656, 1659, 1661, 1662, 1665.

Alderman in 1665, 1671, 1672.

Burgomaster in 1674, 1679, 1680, 1682, 1686.

THIS highly respectable and intelligent burgher, of New Amsterdam, was, at his first coming to this country, (we believe about the year 1640,) a commissary in the employment of the West India Company. He soon left the public service and engaged in trade, amassing a considerable fortune, and maintaining, until his death, an influential position in the community of the city. His city residence was in the "Hoogh straat," now Pearl street, near the Battery. As a farm, he owned and occupied Domine's Hook on this island.

Paulus Leendersen Vandiegrist.

Schepen in 1653, 1654.

Burgomaster in 1657, 1658, 1661, 1664.

THIS citizen, who was a prominent public man in his day, was, upon his first visit to these shores, a captain in the merchant service. We find his name among property-holders as early as the year 1644. In 1646, Vandiegrist commanded one of four ships, forming the fleet which conducted Gov. Stuyvesant hither. Stuyvesant appointed him naval agent, and Captain Vandiegrist took up his permanent abode in this city, and commenced business as a trader. He owned a sloop, (sailed by Frederick Hendrickson,) in which he navigated the waters, adjacent to New Amsterdam, on trading expeditions. He likewise kept a store of general merchandise, consisting of dry goods, groceries, agricultural products, etc. His residence and place of business in the city, was in Broadway, opposite the Bowling Green, and, as was usual with all citizens in comfortable circumstances in those days, he likewise had a farm on this island a short distance from the city, from which much of his family stores were produced.

Captain Vandiegrist was frequently called upon, in times of trouble, for his personal aid in military expeditions. In 1647, Stuyvesant procured his services in cutting out an English vessel, which had been covertly trading in Dutch waters, and being pursued, had taken refuge in the harbor of New Haven.

In 1655 a party of savages, consisting of Mohegans, Pachamis, and others, estimated at nearly 2000 in number, landed one morning before day-break, at this city. Scattering themselves through the town, they pretended to be looking for certain Indians from the north; but, in reality their design was vengeance for the death of a squaw, who had been killed by the Dutch Attorney General Van Dyck, for stealing peaches in his garden. The people on awaking, gathered together in the fort, and thence sent to ask the Indians why so many came armed in the city. The savages explained their motive, and demanded satisfaction. The townspeople at last prevailed on them to go out of town, and they accordingly retired about sun-down, though under exasperated feelings, to Nutten Island (now called Governor's Island,) to stay the night. But soon they were seen coming again in the evening, and meeting Van Dyck, they shot him in the breast with an arrow. Captain Vandiegrist was also felled down with an axe. Upon this the cry of murder ran through the town,—the citizens assembled, and flew upon the savages, driving them into their canoes, leaving three Indians dead on the shore at the foot of the present Whitehall street.

Captain Vandiegrist was in command of one of two militia companies, formed in this city in 1655. These companies had no music but a drummer.

After the city capitulated to the English, Vandiegrist began to make preparations for breaking up his business and leaving the country. He departed in 1669 for Holland, taking with him a considerable fortune, which he had acquired here in trade.

William Beekman,

Schepen in 1653, 1654, 1656, 1657 and 1673.

Burgomaster in 1679, 1680, 1682, 1685, 1691, 1692, 1693, 1694 and 1695.

THIS magistrate was born at Hasselt, in Overyssel, in Germany, in the year 1623. He emigrated to this city in the year 1647, at the age of 24 years. His first employment in this country was in the service of the West India Company, as clerk. But he left that service in the year following that of his arrival (1648) and engaged in mercantile pursuits. About the same time he purchased a farm in the vicinity of the present Beekman street, and established a brewery. The residence of Beekman was upon a bluff on the west of what was then the high road to Boston (at present Pearl street) overlooking the East river. His farm covered the neighborhood now known as the swamp, (for a long time called Beekman's swamp) then a marshy tract covered with bushes. His land extended beyond Franklin square, on one side, and nearly to the present Park on another. His neighbors, owning farms and country residences adjoining his property, were Welfert Webber, Leendert Arsdén, Tomas Hall, Cornelis Jacobs Stille. The orchard on Beekman's farm lay upon a side hill, running down to the swamp. Beekman street now passes through its site

In 1658, Beekman was appointed Vice Director, having the principal authority over a colony of the Dutch, at the head of Delaware Bay. He remained in that office until the year 1663, when he was transferred to "Esopus," (now Kingston) then a thriving agricultural settlement, in which place he held the office of sheriff, or chief officer. He returned to New York after the establishment of the English authority in the province, and continued to reside here until his death, which took place in 1707, at the age of eighty-five years.

The wife of Beekman was Catrina De Boogh, by whom he had six children, the descendants of whom have been prominent and wealthy members of the community.

Maximilianus Van Gheel,
Schepen in 1653.

THIS magistrate was a civil officer of the West India Company at the time of his appointment of Schepen. His residence here was merely temporary, and he left the city the following year.

---

Johannes Nevins,
Schepen in 1655.

MR. NEVINS was, for a number of years, Secretary of the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens, succeeding Jacob Kipp in that office in the year 1658, and holding it until 1665, at which time the city had fallen under the control of the English. Nevins tried to hold over under the foreign government, but was superseded by Nicholas Bayard in 1665.

Secretary Nevins lived in the City Hall, which then stood facing the river, on the present line of Pearl street, opposite Coenties slip. That building was of stone, two stories in height, and about fifty feet front, built in 1642. It stood for a long period upon an unfenced lot, which was used by the neighbors for piling lumber, &c. It was afterwards fenced in. Nevins applied for permission to sow grain in the yard of the City Hall, which was granted. The jail occupied a part of the City Hall in the rear, the entrance to it being by that narrow alley way now called Coenties alley, which then adjoined the City Hall, and was left as an entrance way to the jail. The Court room occupied a portion of the second story of the City Hall. In 1669, Governor Nicolls, the English commander-in-chief, who had taken the city from the Dutch in 1664, built a tavern, as a matter of speculation, on the lot adjoining the alley way next to the City Hall. This was a fine building in those days. He constructed a passage way, after getting above the first story, over the alley way, so as to lead from the second story of his tavern into the court room.

Jochem Pieterse Kuyter,
Schepen in 1654.

MR. KUYTER was originally from Darmstadt, and had been in the Danish service in the East Indies. He was persuaded by the West India Company to emigrate to this country, and brought hither his family in 1639. The town then being a mere hamlet, with a few hundred inhabitants. He was the first deacon of the new church, built in 1642. This was the second church erected in the city, the first having been "a mere barn," and having fallen into complete decay. "It is a shame," such was the argument for the new edifice, "that the English should see, when they pass, nothing but a mean barn, in which public worship is performed. The first thing they did, in New England, when they raised some dwellings, was to build a fine church. We ought to do the same. We have good materials, fine oak wood, fine building stone, good lime, made from oyster shells, which is better than the lime in Holland." This church was built within the walls of the fort. It was built of rock-stone, seventy-two feet long, fifty-two feet broad, and sixteen feet in height, the cost being about one thousand dollars.

On the arrival of Stuyvesant Kuyter, who superseded Governor Keft in 1647, and Cornelius Melyn, who had been among the most active opponents of the former governor, presented his conduct to the consideration of the new government. These inquiries, however, found little favor with Stuyvesant, who was a strong stickler for the rights of those in authority, and was despotic in his own character. Accordingly the petition was rejected. The tables were now turned upon Kuyter and his associates. Kieft accused them of being the authors of certain calumnies and lies against him, and demanded that they should be banished as pestilent and seditious persons.

The accused were arraigned for trial. The charge against Kuyter was that he had compared Kieft to Saul, whose passions were soothed by music; of having charged him with proposing to throw an Indian sachim into the cellar while negotiating a treaty of peace, and threatening to pinch him with a red-hot tongs. Other charges were also made, and the trial was allowed to go on. Kuyter denied comparing Kieft to Saul, but said that, while the popular council, of which Kuyter were deliberating on one occasion, they were unexpectedly interrupted by Kieft who cried out, "Yes, there be many among you who say that I have more ready cash in my house than four horses can draw," whereupon he, Kuyter, became excited and exclaimed, "What signifieth all this, sir? We are convened here to deliberate on the interests of our country, and not on the private affairs of individuals," with other words, at which the director became enraged, and flung himself out of the room, saying, "Thou art an ungrateful fellow!" It was proved, however, that Kuyter threatened Kieft with his finger. Stuyvesant, in his judgment in the case of Kuyter, relied upon scriptural and civil law. "He, who slanders God, the magistrate, or his parents, must be stoned to death." Bern de Muscatel: "Ye shall not curse your judges, neither shall ye calumniate the chiefs of the nation." Exod. xx. 2. The sentence against Kuyter was that he be banished for three years, and pay a fine of one hundred and fifty guilders.

The influence of Kuyter with the government in Holland, was not, however, impaired by these proceedings. In 1654, a commission was sent out to him as sheriff, but it reached New Amsterdam after his death, which happened July 21st of this year. Although a friend of the savage race, and conspicuous in his efforts to maintain peace with the surrounding nations, he became the victim of their animosity to his people, and was murdered by a party of Indians.

His family, it is believed, returned soon after this event to Holland, and none of his name remained in this city.

Kuyter had a considerable farm near Harlem, bordering on the Harlem river. His town residence was on the "Heere graaft," now Broad street.

Issac Greveraet,
Schepen in 1664.

ISAAC GREVERAAT WAS A SON OF Metje Greveraet, a resident of this city.

Isaac kept a dry goods store. He inherited considerable real estate from his mother. A good house for its day, in Broadway, brought him a rent of 220 guilders ($75) per annum in 1666. Here he afterward resided.

Nicholas de Meyer,

Schepen in 1664.

Alderman in 1669, 1670, 1675.

Mayor in 1676.

THIS gentleman was one of the wealthiest citizens of New Amsterdam. The first mention made of him in the public records is in 1658, when he purchased of Jacob Van Couwenhoven "his stone house, mill and lot." De Meyer also owned a farm on the Harlem river, which he had worked by a farmer. His own residence was on Pearl street, near Broad, where he continued to reside for many years. His descendants are numerous in this state.

Martin Krigier,

THIS was an active and conspicuous man in his day, not so much for his wealth and personal prosperity, as for his public spirit and ready appropriation of himself to the call of his country in time of need. He was an innkeeper, occupying, for his tavern, a site opposite the Bowling Green. That open space was then used as the public parade ground, being opposite the gate of the fort, and was likewise occupied as a market place on certain days in the week. The lot was purchased by Krigier in 1643, before any names were given to the thinly populated thoroughfares of this city. The houses of the inhabitants were then scattered hither and thither, according to the convenience of hill, dale and meadow.

The military expeditions, in which Krigier was engaged, were numerous. He was captain of one of two militia companies, organized in the city for mutual defence against the savages and other enemies. In 1657, he commanded a company of forty men on an expedition to settle difficulties which had arisen in the Dutch colony at the mouth of the Delaware river.

In 1659, he commanded a force of sixty soldiers to the same region, to repel a party of English who had invaded that country.

In 1663, he commanded the force sent to Esopus to punish the savages for an inhuman massacre of the Dutch settlers there. Of this expedition we have given some particulars in the biographical sketch of Pieter Wolfessen Van Couwenhoven the lieutenant. Stuyvesant, the governor, designated Kregier to this command, with many encomiums. Stuyvesant himself had, a year or two previous, commanded a party of citizens who went to Esopus for a similar purpose of chastising the savages, or bringing them to submission. On that occasion the Indians made a treaty with the Dutch governor, and the forces were about to return with a bloodless victory to New Amsterdam, and were waiting on the shore for boats from the ships to embark, when a dog was heard to bark, which occasioned such embarrassment among the citizen-soldiers, from fear that the treacherous savages were at hand, that many swam off to the vessels. The alarm was false, but the governor reports the circumstance with the remark that he "blushes while he mentions it."

Kregier still held his favorite office of Captain of the "Burghery," or Citizens Company, until after the capture of the city by the English. The last military duty we find performed by him was superintending the fortifications, in anticipation of the coming of a new English force in 1674.

At an advanced age, still indulging his taste for frontier duty, he removed with his family to the remote country called by the Indians Canastagione, (now Niskayunna,) on the banks of the Mohawk, in the State of New York, a place "where the Indians carried their canoes across the stones." In this wild country he lived until a century had nearly passed over his head, when he died in 1713. Many of his descendants still remain in this country.

Cornelis Van Tienhoven,
Schout (Sheriff) in 1653, 1654, 1655.

THIS citizen was a native of Utrecht, in Holland, and came to this country at a very early period. We find him a book-keeper in the service of the West India Company, in this city, as early as the year 1633, about ten years after the establishment of the Company's colony on this island. Van Tienhoven married here Rachel, daughter of Guleyn Vigne and his wife Ariantje Cuvilje. In the year 1638, he was promoted to the office of Colonial Secretary, with a salary of about two hundred and fifty dollars, besides fees.

Van Tienhoven was a man of violent passions, and entertained the strongest hatred of the Indian inhabitants of this country. He is believed to have been one of the principal causes of a sanguinary warfare between the Christian settlers and their native neighbors which occurred in 1640, and several succeeding years. The Dutch Governor, Kieft, was a passive and timid man, totally out of place in this wild country. He seldom left his house in the fort, and used no means in maintaining personal relations and understanding with the savages; listening, however, to the advice of men whose experience of the native character was relied upon by him as his guiding rule of conduct, but whose judgments were, in fact, tinctured by private dislike, he applied force where conciliation should have been used.

Upon a slight misunderstanding with some Indians residing on the Raritan, growing out of the stealing of some hogs on Staten Island, Kieft, in 1640, dispatched Van Tienhoven, with a force of seventy men, against that people. The planted crops of the Indians were destroyed, and several Indians, including the brother of the chief, were killed. This affair was the precursor of a war which lasted for several years.

On the arrival of Governor Stuyvesant in 1647, Van Tienhoven became a personal friend and champion of that functionary. Stuyvesant soon made enemies, so that charges were preferred against him in Holland. Van Tienhoven was sent over to defend the governor. There he made many ill friends himself, but he was successful in silencing the traducers of Stuyvesant. He was about to return to this country, when he was detained on pretence of being examined relative to the cause of the Indian war. Being thus kept too late for the vessel sailing in the fall, he remained in Holland through the winter. He there engaged the affections of a young girl, said to be respectable, and under promise of marriage, induced her to reside with him. In the spring, arranging for his departure, his enemies procured the issuing of a warrant against him for his offence against public morals. He, however, succeeded in evading the service of the paper, and embarked for this country, accompanied by the girl he had betrayed. Upon arriving home, his victim discovered that he had a wife living, and commenced an action against him, but Van Tienhoven succeeded in convincing the Court of his innocence.

Politics in those times ran high. Mynheer Van Dyck, the Attorney General, sided with the popular party against Stuyvesant, who thereupon set about deposing him. The Attorney General, as he himself says, was "charged to look after the pigs, and keep them out of the fort." Van Dyck objecting to this, the Governor got angry as though he would swallow him up, and finally put the Attorney in confinement, and bastinadoed him with his cane. Van Dyck retired from office, and Van Tienhoven succeeded to his place of Attorney General in 1652.

In the following year, 1653, Van Tienhoven was sent to Virginia to negotiate a treaty with the English respecting the boundaries between the Dutch and English territories. In 1654, he went as public agent to New England in the time of the troubles with the people of that section.

In 1655, Van Tienhoven's enemies in Holland, succeeded in effecting his downfall from public station ; and orders were sent out by the West India Company to employ him no longer. A considerable excitement ensued in this city consequent upon the disgrace of this active and prominent man. The triumph of his enemies could not be endured by his spirited nature, and he left the scene suddenly. His hat and cane were found floating in the river, as was generally supposed, to induce the belief of his suicide, while, in fact, he had decamped and gone to some more congenial sphere. His wife administered upon his estate as if he were dead.

The residence of Van Tienhoven was near the present Hanover square, where he owned several acres, partly purchased, partly inherited from his mother-in-law. His farm, of about two hundred acres on the East river, on this island, was called the "Otterspoor," or Otter Track. Rachel, his wife, died in this city in February, 1663. Van Tienhoven left three children, Lucas, a surgeon of this city, Joannes, and Jannekin.

Hendrick Kip,
Schepen in 1656.

THIS individual, the ancestor of the family of Kips in this State, was one of the early inhabitants of this city. When he came hither from Holland, the town probably contained about 300 inhabitants. He was a tailor, and carried on that business in this city until his death.

In 1643, Kipp purchased a lot "east of the fort," afterward known as Bridge street, then however, upon no particular line of buildings. He built his dwelling-house and shop there.

Hendrick Kipp was a politician and leading man in his day. He was one of the popular party, which in those times opposed the sanguinary Kieft, Director General. Kieft was a good liver, and seldom moved out of doors. He provoked the Indians, who had lived very peaceably with the Dutch, into a war, which made the whole community dread the approach of night from fear of massacre by their savage neighbours. It is said that Kieft, during the six or seven years he was at the head of the government, "had never been farther from his kitchen and bed-room than the middle of this island." He dictated the battles which others fought. Hendrick Kip hated him with a thorough hatred. When Kieft was deposed, and about to depart from the city to fatherland, the towns people generally tendered him a respectful farewell, all except "Hendrick Kip the tailor," who would have nothing to do with him.

Kip lived to see the city pass into the hands of the English, when he died, leaving several sons and daughters residing in this city.

Adrian Blommaert,
Schepen in 1657.

THIS individual was captain of the merchant ship New Amsterdam, sailing between this port and Holland. He subsequently settled in this place with his family, and engaged in trade. He died about the year 1663. His family soon after removed to Holland.

---

Jacob Kip,
Schepen in 1659, 1662, 1663, 1665, 1674.

JACOB KIP was son of Hendrick Kip, a sketch of whom appears in another place. He was born in Amsterdam in 1631, and accompanied his father to this city, while still a child. At the age of twenty-two (1653) he was appointed Clerk of the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens, and was the first who held the office of Clerk of the Municipal authorities of this city. He married in 1654, Maria, daughter of Johannes La Montagne, senior, then a girl, in her seventeenth year. In the following year he built a house upon a farm in the neighborhood of Kip's Bay. He was engaged in his office and in writing as notary, and similar duties until 1658, when he engaged in trade as a merchant and became a prosperous citizen.

His house in the city was built in 1657, on a lot purchased by him or 100 guilders (about $35.) It was situated in what was called the "Prince graaft," now known as Exchange street.

Cornelius Steenwyck,
Schepen in 1658, 1660.
Burgomaster in 1662, 1664, 1665, 1666.
Mayor in 1668, 1669, 1670, 1682, 1683.

THIS magistrate was one of the most intelligent and wealthy merchants of New Amsterdam. Like many others of those who afterward became the principal citizens, Steenwyck came to this city in government employment, while a young man, and after gaining a foothold, embarked in trad<sup>e</sup> on his own account. He married a daughter of Lysbet Greveraet, who resided in this city, and established his residence and place of business near the corner of Whitehall and Bridge streets. His business was of that general character peculiar to country storekeepers, and he enlarged it so as to engage in foreign trade, and owned interests in several ships. His connection with the Holland trade became more extensive than that of any other merchant of his time.

His influential position was such, that in the time of the anticipated arrival of an English expedition against the city, in 1663, he was unanimously called on by the government and magistrates to proceed to Holland for the purpose of soliciting aid in maintaining the possession of the city by the Dutch. His mercantile interests were such, however, as to oblige him to decline until it was too late.

He died in this city full of years and honors.

Oloff Stevensen Van Cortland,

Burgomaster in 1655, 1656, 1658, 1659, 1662, 1663, 1665.

Alderman in 1666, 1667, 1671.

THIS was one of the prominent citizens of New Amsterdam. He came to this city in the year 1637, attached to a military company. In the summer of that year he was transferred to the civil service as Commissary of Cargoes, at a salary of thirty guilders, or about twelve dollars per month. In 1643 he left the Company's service and embarked in the brewing business, having built a brewery near the fort, in what was afterwards called the "Brouwer" or Brewer street, since called Stone street, from the circumstance of its being the first street paved with stone in this city.

Van Cortland was a politician of influence. In 1650 he was president of a body called "the nine men," being the people's representatives. As such, he opposed the policy of Governor Stuyvesant with considerable effect. Stuyvesant retaliated by turning the nine men out of their pew in church, and tearing up the seats. Van Cortland, as president, protested against this affront, and was charged in turn by Stuyvesant, with making 100,000 guilders out of his office of Commissary, on a salary of 30 guilders per month. The parties soon after became reconciled, and in 1660 he accompanied the governor to the Esopus, and concluded a treaty with the Mohawk, Mohegan, Wappinger, Minqua and Esopus Indians.

In 1663, Van Cortland was one of the Commissioners for treating with the authorities of New England respecting the boundaries between the Dutch and English territories.

In the following year he was one of the Commissioners on the part of the Dutch to settle the terms of the capitulation of the city to the English, which event took place on the 6th September, 1664. The English fleet consisted of the Guinea, 36 guns, commanded by Captain Hugh Hyde; the Elias, 30 guns, Captain William Hill; the Martin, 18 guns, Captain Edward Groves, and the William and Nicholas, 10 guns. The whole of the force on board this fleet was commanded by Colonel Richard Nichols. On Monday, 8th September, the Dutch soldiers, led by Stuyvesant, marched out of the fort with the honors of war.

Van Cortland died some time subsequent to 1683, at an advanced age. He had seven children, Stephanus, who married Gertrude Schuyler; Maria, who married Jeremias Van Rensselaer in 1662; Catharine, who married, first, John Derval, and secondly Frederick Philipse; Cornelia, who married Brant Schuyler; Jacob, who married Eva Philipse; Sophia, who married Andrew Teller, and John, who died unmarried.

The city residence of Van Cortland was, as before-mentioned, in "Brouwer," now Stone street. His farm, of about 80 acres, was on the North river, near "Sapocanichan," now in the Eighth Ward, above Canal street. His farm was purchased by him in 1647.

The descendants of Van Cortland were prominent citizens in this city for many years subsequent.

His son, Stephanus, was Schepen in 1674 and 1675; Alderman in 1676; Mayor in 1677, 1686, 1687.

His son, Jacobus, was Alderman in 1686, 1694, 1695, 1696, 1698, 1699, 1700, 1702, 1703; Mayor in 1710, 1719.

His son, Johannes (John,) was Assistant in 1686.

His grandson, Philip, was Assistant in 1715, 1716, Alderman in 1717, 1718, 1719, 1720, 1721, 1722, 1723, 1724, 1725, 1726, 1727, 1728, 1729.

His grandson, Stephen, was Alderman in 1743, 1744, 1745, 1746, 1747, 1748, 1749, 1750, 1751, 1752, 1753, 1754.

Nicasius D'Sille,

Schout (or Sheriff) in 1658, 1659, 1660.

MR. D'SILLE arrived in this colony in 1653, bearing the following commission from the Directors in Holland, directed to Governor Stuyvesant: "We have deemed it advisable for the better administration of the government in New Netherland to strengthen your council with another expert and able statesman: and whereas Nicasius D'Sille, the bearer of these open letters, did apply to us for the appointment, so we have, trusting in the good reports of his character, and confiding in his talents, appointed him First Councilor to the Director, to reside as such at Fort Amsterdam, and deliberate with you on all affairs relating to war, police, and national force."

D'Sille accompanied Governor Stuyvesant in 1655, in his expedition against the Swedes, on the Delaware River, in which the Dutch were successful.

It was a part of the Schout D'Sille's duty to go round the town at night to see that order was kept. He complains on one occasion in the following terms to the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens: "That when he goes his rounds at night, the dogs make dangerous attacks upon him." He says, moreover, that there is much halloing of the Indians in the streets and cutting of hoekies by the boys, all which, being against good order, should be remedied. We can understand the matter of his complaint, except the Dutch term "hoekies," which cannot, we believe, be now translated, although tradition has handed down a similar term among truant boys in some of the villages on the Hudson River.

Although D'Sille was confided in as an expert and able statesman, he, nevertheless, could not control his wife. He goes so far as to complain of her in 1659, to the magistrates, as habitually intoxicated and of squandering his property in the most lavish manner. In 1663, the Governor, through the mediation of some of the principal citizens, attempted to reconcile these parties, but found their mutual animosity so great that interference was useless. They separated, and the property was divided equally between them.

After the surrender of the country to the English, D'Sille resided at New Utrecht. He built the first stone house in that town.

Mrs. D'Sille survived her husband, and died in 1694, leaving by her will all her property to her cousin, Jacobus Croeger.

D'Sille left one son and two daughters, by a former marriage, but no issue by his last wife.

Pieter Wolfersen Van Couwenhoven,
Schepen in 1653, 1654, 1658, 1659, 1661, 1663.

THIS citizen came to New Amsterdam as early as the year 1633, the population of the town then numbering about two hundred and fifty. He engaged in mercantile pursuits in company with his brother Jacob, who was also a miller, a considerable trade being then carried on in flour, which was bolted in windmills. Jacob Van Couwenhoven became embarrassed in some private speculations, and his brother separated his business connection. The property of Jacob was sold, consisting, in part, of a good stone dwelling and mill. Pieter continued his mercantile pursuits, and also engaged in brewing, then a profitable business. The merchants of those times did not confine themselves to any particular branch of trade, but dealt in every kind of merchandize. They raised their own poultry and pork. We find in the court records a neighbor complaining of Pieter Van Couwenhoven, that he sold him a hog that was meazled. The defendant answered that it was a fair trade, that he told the plaintiff at the time of the bargain, upon killing the animal he would return the money for "two pots of beer," meaning a friendly treat.

Van Couwenhoven was on several occasions called upon to join military expeditions against the Indians. It happened in the year 1663, that the Dutch settlers at the "Esopus" (now Kingston) were set upon by a large band of savages. The male portion of the settlers had gone out to their accustomed field labors, when a number of savages entered the Dutch village in a careless manner, sauntering among the habitations. Soon after they sounded their war-whoop, and began to kill or take captive the women and children. Many of the men were also killed in the fields; the total loss being seventy—twenty-five killed, forty-five taken captive; twelve dwellings, being every house, excepting one, occupied as a mill, were destroyed. The news of this disaster coming to New Amsterdam, Governor Stuyvesant despatched a company under the command of Martin Krigier, as captain, and Van Couwenhoven as his lieutenant to retaliate upon the savages. The company, consisting of two hundred and ten men (forty-one of whom were Indians,) commenced their march from Esopus late in the afternoon of a day in July. Proceeding four miles, they halted until the moon arose, and commenced their march again; but the country being wild, they could not proceed by night. The day being come, they marched forwards, felling trees to cross streams (for they had wagons and a cannon with them.) With great difficulty they proceeded about twenty-four miles, and came within four miles of the Indian fort, to which all the captives had been taken. Van Couwenhoven was sent forward with one hundred and sixteen men to surprise the fort; but when he arrived, the Indians had decamped, and gone into the mountains with their captives. The fort was taken, and Couwenhoven continued in pursuit; but when he reached the Indian camp, in the hills, he found it unoccupied. Finding it useless to continue the pursuit, the Dutch returned to Esopus, after burning all the Indian stores of maize, and beans, and grain growing in the fields.

The company then marched against another Indian fort, about thirty-six miles south-west of Esopus. This they were so fortunate as to surprise before the savages had notice of their approach. The savages retreated across a creek which ran close to their fort. On the opposite side they rallied. The Dutch pursued them across the stream, where a fight took place, in which the savages were defeated, losing their chief, Popogunachen, fourteen warriors, four squaws, and three children, as they were counted lying dead on both sides of the creek. The Dutch loss was three killed and six wounded. Fourteen Indians, unable either to fight or run, were taken prisoners, and led off by the Dutch. One very old man, after traveling half a mile, refused to go further from his home; "whereupon," says the official dispatch, "we took him a little aside, and gave him his last meal."

Pieter Van Couwenhoven, in 1665, lost his wife, who was buried in this city. He became involved in some pecuniary embarrassment, and also was soured in temper by some adverse decisions in suits in which he was a party. For some expressions derogatory to the character of the court he was imprisoned in this city and fined. He afterward occupied, principally, his farm-house at Elizabethtown, New Jersey. His house in this city was in Pearl street, near Whitehall. Many descendants of this family of Van Couwenhoven are now living in this State and in New Jersey.

Jacob Strycker,

Schepen in 1655, 1656, 1658, 1660, 1663.

THIS magistrate was a respectable farmer and trader, a man of property and standing. The family of Striker in this city, at the present day, is descended from this citizen of New Amsterdam.

---

Allard Anthony,

Schepen in 1653.

Burgomaster in 1655, 1656, 1657, 1660, 1661.

Schout (Sheriff) in 1663, 1665, 1666, 1671, 1672, 1673.

THIS burgher, who was a prominent citizen of New Amsterdam, was a merchant. He lived in Pearl, near Broad street. His trade consisted in part in traffic with Holland, where he was connected with some mercantile houses. He is frequently found as the consignee of ships from the fatherland. He besides engaged in retail trade in all branches. Thus, he sells to one Jan Van Cleef, in 1660, a hanger, for which Van Cleef agrees to pay "as much buckwheat as Anthony's fowls will eat in six months." He likewise raises his own pork, as we find his wife complaining in 1668, that certain negroes killed some of her pigs. Anthony had a farm near the city on this island.

The first mention of his name in the records is in 1652. He is found an active citizen in 1677 and is believed to have died in this city. Many of the name being now resident here.

At the time of Peter Stuyvesant's administration, there were no lawyers in this city. Each citizen stated his own case to the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens, which was also composed of citizens unversed in law.

Allard Anthony was a persevering and successful litigant. It seems most others were afraid to meet him in legal disputes. He is found to have kept several vessels sometime behind their day of sailing by involving their captains in law-suits. He is believed to have been a wealthy citizen at the time of his death.

Timotheus Gabry,
Schepen in 1660, 1661, 1662, 1664.

TIMOTHEUS GABRY was, before establishing (1658) his residence in this city, Secretary of the Dutch colony on Delaware Bay. He removed thence to this city, and held several official positions in the city. In 1661 he was vendue master. He was a man of good education, speaking the French language fluently. In after years (1667) he got in pecuniary difficulties, so that he was for a short period imprisoned for debt. He extricated himself from his embarrassments, however, and continued to reside in this city on the present line of Pearl street, near Whitehall.

Jacobus Backer,
Schepen in 1664.

THIS citizen was a store-keeper, in a general way. He also dealt considerably with Holland, and was a man of property. In 1663, being in Holland, he was in company with Jeremias Van Rensselaer, instructed to bring the affairs of New Netherland before the authorities there. Backer kept store and resided in Broad street, (then called the Heere graaft.)

---

Jeronimus Ebbingh,
Schepen in 1659, 1661, 1673.

MR. EBBINGH was a respectable merchant, dealing in peltries, and connected with merchants in Holland. He was accused, in 1661, of smuggling peltries, or passing them through his hands without paying duties to the West India Company. His residence in this city was in the Brouwer straat, (Brewer street,) now Stone street.

Pieter Tonneman,
Schout (Sheriff) in 1661, 1663, 1664.

MR. TONNEMAN was engaged in little other than official business in this city, being an employee of the West India Company, and filling several stations in a public capacity. He was schout or sheriff of the several villages on Long Island in 1654. In 1658 he is an assessor in the Company's employment. In 1661 he was designated as sheriff of this city. We find, however, that he dealt somewhat in tobacco, then an article of exportation. After the taking of the city by the English, we find no record of Pieter Tonneman. He is not supposed to have had any family resident here, nor to have left any descendants in this country.

---

Christophel Hoaghlant,
Schepen in 1664, 1674.
Alderman in 1668, 1678.

MR. HOAGHLANT was a highly respectable citizen and a man of property. He resided on the corner of Pearl and Broad streets.

---

Jacques Cosseau,
Schepen in 1662, 1663, 1665.

MR. COSSEAU was a Frenchman by birth, who emigrated to this place in the Huguenot troubles. He was a general store-keeper, but dealing principally in liquors and wines. His place of business being in Pearl street, near Broad street, he dealt in the retail as well as wholesale liquor business. This being profitable, Mr. Cosseau prospered in circumstances, and at one period was so much in advance in pecuniary means, as to be able to offer a loan of one thousand florins toward expense of defending the city against the English,—a sum four times as much as was offered by any other citizen. In 1664 he was one of the commissioners on the part of the Dutch, for settling the terms of capitulation of the city to the English. Cosseau became embarrassed in after years, his property being heavily mortgaged to Frederick Philipse.* He, however, succeeded in releasing himself, and lived many years subsequently in this city.

Frederick Philipse who became the richest man in the colony of New Netherland, was a carpenter by trade, and came to this city to pursue that calling when a young man. He was then poor. In 1661 he married a rich widow, whose former husband, Pieter Rudolphus, had been a trader, and amassed a considerable property. Rudolphus had been dead but a short time, when Philipse married his widow. In the hands of Philipse the property accumulated to the largest private fortune in the country. Many descendants of the family are married into families of the nobility of England,

Isaac De Forest,

Schepen in 1658

THIS citizen, who was one of the earliest emigrants to New Amsterdam, was a Huguenot. He arrived here about the year 1635. He commenced trade in liquors, wholesale and retail, in what was afterward known as the "Brouwer straat," now Stone street. He afterward became a large holder of real estate in the city and adjacent. He died about the year 1675, leaving his widow, Sarah, who continued for some years after to reside in this city. There are numerous descendents of Isaac De Forest now in this state.

---

Hendrick Jansen Vanderwin,

Schepen in 1657, 1659.

THIS gentleman was a merchant of respectability, residing in Pearl, near Whitehall street. He was living as late as 1677.

---

Govert Lookermans,

Schepen in 1657, 1660.

THIS burgher came to the city of New Amsterdam in the year 1633. He was at that time a youth of intelligence, and was taken into the office of the West India Company as clerk. He shortly after retired from public employment, and embarked in trade between New Amsterdam (New York) and Fort Orange (Albany.) He navigated the Hudson in his own sloop, of which he was, for a time, commander. He was one of the earliest if not the first captain of a regular line between New York and Albany. The principal down freight was peltries or furs. The up freight consisting of goods for the settlers at Albany, and for the Indian trade. The country then, between the two cities was a wilderness, without a Christian habitation in its whole extent.

Lookermans, by this sort of life, became acquainted with the Indian tongue, and was one of the few Dutch people who could trade with the Indians in their own language. He gathered, by his intercourse with the natives, the deepest contempt for their character, and was always one of the foremost in visiting destruction upon the race with every opportunity. His first exploit recorded is that of personally butchering a Raritan chief whom he had taken prisoner in 1640.

In 1642, a party of Mohawks, who were the terror of, and dread of neighboring tribes, came down upon the Hackinsacks and Tappan Indians for the purpose of levying tribute. It was in the midst of winter, and the destitute Indians, who were assailed, fled to New Amsterdam to seek the protection of their civilized neighbors. There were three or four hundred in number—men, women and children, and half dead with hunger and cold, they presented themselves at the houses of the Dutch. They were hospitably received and provided for during fourteen days. They received information that many of their tribe, left behind in the flight, were destroyed. Grief now lent distraction to their terrors, and they fled again, scattering themselves through the country. A large number afterward congregated at Pavonia, under the protecting care of a large force of Hackinsack warriors, others pitched their camp at "Rechtanck," now called Corlaer's Hook. From some unexplained reason, these poor fugitives became objects of distrust to the Dutch. Suffice it to say, that on the night of the 23d February, 1643, a party of volunteers from the town, under the command of Maryn Adriensen and Govert Loockermans, fell upon the camp at Corlaer's Hook, with sword in hand. They returned to New Amsterdam with thirty heads of the natives, which were kicked about the town. At Pavonia another party of Dutch committed still greater slaughter on the same night. An eye witness says, "I remained that night at Governor Kieft's, and took a seat near the fire in the kitchen. At midnight I heard loud shrieks, and went out on the parapet of the fort. I saw the flashing of the guns, but heard no more the cries of the Indians."

Loockermans, while going up the river in his vessel, in 1644, was shot at from an island near Albany, on account of some dispute with the inhabitants of Renselaenoyck.

Loockermans extended his trade so as to import goods from Holland to carry on his Indian trade. These consisted of guns, ammunition, rum, &c. The government forbid the trade of these articles, above enumerated, with the Indians, and such as could be seized were confiscated. Loockermans' interests and those of the government were so conflicting, and his acts were so much in opposition to the government, that he was sentenced to be banished in 1651, but the sentence was not enforced.

In 1658 Loockermans was called upon, from his acquaintance with the Hudson river Indians, to accompany Stuyvesant to the Esopus (Kingston,) to persuade the Indians to sell their lands. While there they set about building a fort, and being so engaged, discovered a body of savages approaching. A parley was demanded by the savages. "They came, they said, to request the Governor to accept the land on which he had commenced his settlement, as a free gift. They gave it to grease his feet after so long and painful a journey to visit them."

The place of residence of Loockermans, in this city, is described in the deed of the property, when purchased by him in 1642, as follows: "A dwelling house and lot situated on the East river, on Manhattan Island, beginning at a brook of fresh water emptying into the East river, till to the farm of Cornelius Van Tienhoven, whose palisades extend from the long highway toward the East river, as may be seen by the marks by him made, bordering on the aforesaid land, from the fence till to the great tree." Citizens of the present day would not recognize, in this description, the neighborhood of Hanover square.

Loockermans, besides his extensive trading and shipping operations, carried on an extensive brewery at the place of his residence in Pearl street. He died in the winter of 1670, then the richest man in the colony. His widow Maria Jansen, survived him, and died in 1677. He had by her five children, Elsje, Cornelis, Jacob, Johanna and Marraye.

MEMORIALS OF THE ANCIENT CONDITION OF THIS CITY.

HABITS, &amp;C., OF THE NATIVE INHABITANTS.

SOME authentic facts, as to the savages who inhabited this island, are given by an early visitor (1621.) He says they were in the habit of clothing themselves in skins, the fur inside, the smooth side without, which, however, was painted so finely as to resemble lace. On one occasion, while visiting the ship, they were taken for some kind of game by a large dog on board the ship, so that he could with difficulty be kept from seizing them. Their language was very diversified among the different villages; one might meet with a neighbor, living five or six miles distant, and hardly be able to understand him. They were in the habit of cultivating several kinds of grain and vegetables, the women performing the field labor. They were very superstitious, and afraid of ghosts and spirits. The cries of the wild animals and sounds of the wind at night, were as solemn and fearful to them as to those brought up in Christian countries. They paid great attention to the changes of the moon and the general appearance of the heavens. The first moon following that at the end of February was hailed by a festival; their year commenced then. Another feast followed the August moon, it being the harbinger of harvest.

The habitations of the natives were built in a circular form, having an opening at the top for the escape of smoke; they had doors constructed of the bark of trees, swinging upon hide hinges. Sleeping and eating are performed upon the ground, making their bed of leaves and skins.

The men were expert marksmen with the bow and arrow, bringing down the swiftest animals. Game was more easily procured in winter than in summer, hunger making the animals approach the villages.

Fruits, such as plums, wild cherries and pears, grew wild in the woods; birds were also very plentiful, particularly pigeons, which were chased by the foxes like fowls.

Some of the ancient names of the islands about New York are given thus:—Manhattan, now New York; Hobokan Hackingh, now Hoboken; Sewan Hacking, now Long Island; Pagganck, now Governor's Island; Sujnen, now Staten Island; Teukenas, now Great Barn Island; Minna-hanouth, now, Randall's Island; Conynen Hackingh, now Coney Island.

THE FIRST PERMANENT SETTLEMENT OF THIS ISLAND BY THE WHITES.

The first ship sent by the West India Company to colonize the country was the "New Netherland," in which came thirty families. These arrived in 1623. They proceeded, however, past the island, and established themselves near Albany, upon an island.

In April, 1625, one hundred and three head of cattle were sent out, consisting of stallions, mares, steers and cows, for breeding and multiplying; also, a considerable number of sheep. These animals were shipped in two vessels, in which also came six full families, numbering forty-five persons; these being country people, brought all furniture proper for the dairy, together with a great variety of seeds, ploughs, and agricultural tools; two months afterward, a number of vessels were despatched containing emigrants, cattle, and implements of husbandry.

The cattle, upon their arrival in the bay of New York, were landed upon Governor's Island, until the people could, in a manner, establish themselves on the main. The want of water compelled a speedy transfer of them to Manhattan Island, where they were put upon pasture and thrived well at first, although a distemper soon after destroyed about twenty of them.

The settlers established themselves in houses built of the bark of trees, clustering around the south point of this island. A rude fort was staked out by Kryn Frederycke, and having thus provided for the more pressing wants of shelter and defence, a stone house was constructed for the counting house of the Company. The roof, however, from want of other material, being made of reeds. Thirty private dwellings were built by the settlers arriving out in the vessels above alluded to, each family having its separate habitation. The first mill erected was by one Francis Molemacher, who had brought out the gearing for a horse-mill. The second story of this building was the meeting place for religious worship.

For a number of years subsequently there were no streets in the town, although some deference was paid by the inhabitants in locating their buildings to two principal road-ways, one of which extended along the East river shore, afterward known as the "Hoogh straat," now Pearl street, and another running to the pasture lands in the vicinity of the present Park; afterward known as the "Heere straat," now Broadway.

 SOME FURTHER ACCOUNT OF EARLY STREETS.

We gave in our Manual of last year (1851,) an account of the origin of some of the the streets in the lower part of the city. Thus, we gave the reasons why Pearl street has its circuitous form; why Broad street, from having a creek through its centre in its natural condition, became of unusual width after the creek was filled in; why Beaver street, from similar reasons, is also unusually wide; why Marketfield street, from its being originally only a path-way to the market-place, is now so narrow; why Maiden lane was laid out through a valley, as a lane for cattle to the pasture lands. We will add some account of other short streets in the lower part of the city, the history of which has been lost in the lapse of time.

SOUTH WILLIAM STREET, AND THE ALLEY FROM SOUTH WILLIAM TO STONE STREET.—In early times, the grinding of grain in this city and neighborhood, was by means of either wind or horse mills, water power being only to be had in situations exposed to assaults of the savages. Several mills were thus worked in this city; one of which was erected upon the side of a hill, a little south of the present junction of South William and Beaver streets. A road led to this mill from Broad street, and turning from the mill at right angles, it came out in a road, now Stone street. The road from Broad street to the mill was afterward left open, and in course of time became known as "Mill lane," subsequently as "Mill street lane," afterward as "Mill street." In course of years, the old mill was taken down, and in late days the ancient mill lane has been extended through to William street. Its name has been changed to South William street, which it holds at the present time. The narrow lane, or way of egress from the mill, still is as narrow as it was originally, being barely sufficient for the passage of a cart.

COENTIES ALLEY.—This little street was formerly an alley-way, adjoining the first City Hall, which was erected in 1642, in Pearl street, at the head of Coenties slip, on the west corner of this alley. The entrance to the jail, which occupied a portion of the building, was in the rear part, and accessible by this alley-way. On the opposite corner of the alley a tavern was built, about the year 1674, by Governor Nichols, the English commander-in-chief. The second story of this tavern was connected with the City Hall by a balcony stretching across this alley-way. This tavern was partly a private speculation of the Governor, and partly built with a view to supply a want of the city at that time, by having a good house of entertainment for travelers in the town. The English had just taken possession, and there was no English tavern before that in this city.

MORRIS STREET.—This small street, the first above the Battery, leading from Broadway to the North River, was, in early times, a steep path-way leading to the shore of the river, which then ran along Greenwich street. It was called "the Alley that leads to the Oyster Pasty." It was known within the present century as Beaver lane.

RECTOR STREET.—The name of this street was given to it from the circumstance that a plot of ground, on the north corner of Broadway and the present Rector street, was, at the time the first Trinity Church was built, about 1696-7, appropriated for a residence for the Episcopal clergyman. The purpose was changed, however, and the plot was made a part of the burial ground.

MOORE STREET.—The Custom House of this port formerly stood on the north side of Pearl street, opposite to this street. The water line of the East river then ran along Pearl street. A pier was built out in front of the Custom House, upon which goods were landed from small boats and vessels, which could approach it. This pier was commonly called "The Bridge," or "The Landing place." About the year 1690, the first filling in of a part of the present Water street was commenced east of this bridge, and extended to Broad street. In course of time the old landing place became a part of terra firma, and being public property, was left as a street. It became known as Moor street from having been the mooring place of boats; but the signification of the name having been lost by lapse of time, it was supposed to be called after some individual named "Moore," which name it has since borne.

HANOVER STREET.—This street is mostly of modern date. Previous to the year 1700, the whole space between William, Wall and Pearl streets was not crossed by any street. Soon after that date a slaughter house was built in the vacant space, in the centre of that block, about the present south-west corner of Beaver and Hanover streets. To reach this a lane led nearly on the present line of Beaver street from William street, and then turned at right angles for a way of egress into Pearl street. The lane running into Pearl street, was on the present line of Hanover street. The whole lane was then called "Slaughter-house lane," subsequently shortened into "Sloat street lane," afterward into "Sloat street."

The part of the lane running from William street has, in recent times, been extended into Pearl street. The short lane has formed part of Hanover street, which has been opened to Wall street within the present century.

STUYVESANT'S HOUSE.

The following interesting extracts in relation to New Netherlands, are from Dunlap's History of New York, viz :

1659 On the 7th of July, 1659, the Commissioners of the United New to England Colonies sent a letter to Governor Stuyvesant, from Hart-1663 ford, saying, they presume he has heard from the Dutch of "Fort of Orania," that some New England people had been lately seeking "some meet place for plantation within the bounds" of Massachusetts colony,
 "which is from the latitude of 42 degrees and 30 minutes; and so northerly extends itself from east to west in longitude through the main land of America, from the Atlantic ocean to the south or west sea." Massachusetts had granted liberty to "erect a plantation in those parts," and intended "to effect the same." The commissioners therefore desire liberty for these planters (as they would not entrench on Dutch rights) to pass up Hudson river by the Dutch forts and towns, paying moderate duties. This the commissioners think a reasonable request, and that a denial would interrupt neighborly and amicable correspondence. They say they conceive that the agreement made at Hartford, "that the English should not come within ten miles of Hudson's river, does prejudice the right of Massachusetts in the upland country, nor give any right to the Dutch there ;" that treaty only, they say, intending the settlement between New Netherland and Connecticut, and not concerning Massachusetts in any way.

I find no immediate answer to these pretensions. But Bancroft says, in his history, that Connecticut, in 1662, "regardless of the provisional treaty, claimed West Chester, and was advancing towards the Hudson ; and that Stuyvesant repaired to Boston and entered his complaints." And I find* that on July 9th, he complained before the commissioners that the English colonies did not observe the treaty made at Hartford in 1650, and requested to know if the Commissioners accounted the said treaty as remaining in force. John Winthrop and John Endicott, Commissioners for Connecticut, craved the United Commissioners not to decide immediately ; but the Commissioners " saving the right of Connecticut by their charter," do account the agreement of 1760 to be binding. Still Connecticut maintained its claim, and so did Massachusetts. "Where then is New Netherland ?" say the Dutch. "We do not know," reply the English.†

In 1657, Oyster bay and Huntington were, by permission of the Commissioners, received into the jurisdiction of New Haven. In 1660, liberty was granted by the Commissioners of the United Colonies for the jurisdiction of Connecticut to take Huntington and Santanket into her government.

The Commissioners of the United New England Colonies having advised that the claims of the Dutch and of Connecticut should be deferred until 1664, and then brought before the court or Congress for judgment. Governor Stuyvesant replied, on the 21st of September, 1663, that he wished a friendly and neighborly settlement of differences concerning "East Dorfe, by the English called West Chester," and all other disputes, "that the parties may live in peace in the wilderness where so many barbarous indians dwell." He requests of the commissioners a categorical answer, whether the treaty of Hartford, made in 1650, remains "firm and binding," and whether the patent of Hartford, newly obtained, shall extend westward. He says the answer already given is not so decisive as he expected. He is willing to abide by the treaty of Hartford, if the rights of the United Netherlands and the Dutch West India Company are held sacred. He declines the proposition of deferring the decision until 1664, but is willing, for the prevention of strife, to submit the question to impartial arbitration. This letter is dated at Boston.

On the 23d he writes again, hoping, that "in consideration of the happy good understanding between Holland and England, the matter of limits," which he had come to Boston for the purpose of finally adjusting, "might be settled." But he found the demands of the commissioners no way answerable to the rights of his superiors. He therefore again urged the referring the matter to the two European governments. He desired to know whether there might not be such correspondence in America, with the goods and growth "of this poor country," as is admitted in Europe, and union against danger from Indians. In reply the commissioners say that their demand, in respects of limits, is less than their patent authorizes; that they cannot act, in respect to trade, but according to act of Parliament, and that as to confederacy respecting the Indians, it shall be presented to the General Court. The Commissioners of Connecticut made a similar answer to Stuyvesant's proposals. The colony of New Haven was not at this time merged in that of Connecticut, and was averse to such a measure.

But while Stuyvesant was endeavoring to promote the interest of Holland in New Netherland, and relied upon the pacification and professions of friendship between England and Holland, the profligate and faithless Charles the Second, with that liberality which distinguishes monarchs, magnanimously gave to his brother James that which his Majesty did not possess, had no rightful claims to, and could not use for the immediate gratification of his sensuality, the whole of the New Netherlands and that part of Connecticut lying westward of the Connecticut river.

James, finding that all Long Island had been previously given to <sup>1664</sup> the Earl of Sterling, bought that claim for £300. As to the Dutch rights of discovery or possession, they were disregarded; and while Holland confided in the treaties with England, her fleets were committing piracies upon the Dutch possessions in Africa, and wresting from them the whole New Netherland.

The Royal Duke sent Colonel Richard Nicolls, with a squadron which carried Commissioners to New England, and had orders, with the assistance of Massachusetts, to take possession of the Dutch province. Massachusetts, ever opposed to the governments of the Stuarts, pretended inability to assist in the reduction of the Dutch settlements. This opposition to the Commissioners was continued after the seizure of New Netherland, and its charter was pleaded against the royal authority.

Lord Clarendon says, that the Royal Commissioners sent out to the colonies, in 1664, found those of the North already "hardened into Republics." The truth is, that the people were republicans from the first. The first government founded in New England was democratic. England interfered as much as she could, but the people persevered in republicanism, always struggling against the power which had driven them from their homes, and still pursued them. The Dutch of New Netherland were governed by officers appointed by the trading Company that sent them out, and by the States' General; but they had certain privileges secured to them; they knew their rights as men; and when they submitted to England, they jealously watched the encroachments both of Church and State, which were attempted on the liberties secured by the capitulation.

Chancellor Kent has observed that the conquest of the New Netherlands proved to the inhabitants very fortunate. They were relieved from controversy with their encroaching English neighbors, had the privileges of English subjects, (or were entitled to them,) and in a few years participated in the blessings of a representative government. 'They exchanged,' he says, 'their Roman jurisprudence for the freer spirit of the English Common Law.'

The instructions of Charles II. to Nicolls, Carteret, Carr, Cartwright, and Chaverick, were, that the Dutch be reduced to an entire obedience. 'It is high time,' his majesty says, 'to put them out of capacity of doing such mischief,' as they had done elsewhere. Their right is altogether disclaimed.

Although Massachusetts had evaded the order to assist the Commissioners in subduing New Netherland, John Winthrop, the amiable and accomplished Governor of Connecticut, joined the expedition personally, and aided it by a body of troops, who were subsequently landed and encamped near Brooklyn.

Governor Stuyvesant had procured intelligence of the approach of an English squadron, with hostile intentions, and consisting of two vessels of fifty guns each, and one of forty, with six hundred soldiers, besides a full complement of men as sailors. He had assembled his Council and Burgomasters, repaired and furnished his fortress, and taken such measures for defence as his spirit and experience dictated. The fleet anchored in Gravesend Bay. Stuyvesant sent a deputation, consisting of John De Clyer, one of his Council, the Rev. John Megapolensis, Major Vandergreft, and some others, requesting to know the intention of their approach, without giving notice to the magistrates.

Nicolls issued a proclamation, dated on board his majesty's ship, the "Guyny," stating that the Commissioners were sent to receive into his majesty's obedience, all foreigners who have, without his majesty's consent, seated themselves among his majesty's subjects; promising to all, who will submit to his Majesty's Government, protection by his majesty's laws, with security to property, "and all other privileges with his majesty's subjects." And to the Governour and Council "of the Manhattans," he addressed a letter by his deputies, to let them know that "his majesty of Great Britain" had commanded him to require the surrender of all places, in possession of the Dutch, into his hands. He, therefore, demands the town and forts, promising to all, who shall readily submit, estate, life, and liberty; otherwise the miseries of war. An answer is requested by return of "Colonel George Carteret, one of his Majesty's Commissioners in America," and Messrs. Robert Needham, Edward Groves, and Thomas Delavall.

Governor Stuyvesant promised an answer on the morrow, and immediately convened his Council. He proposed a defence ; and fearing the terms offered by the surrender would be acceptable to the people, whose discontent with the Government of the States he was well aware of, refused to submit to them the summons of Nicolls.

Governor Winthrop, who probably had joined in this expedition, with the hope of preventing bloodshed by his interposition, wrote to the Dutch Director, recommending acceptance of the terms offered, and a surrender by capitulation. These terms Stuyvesant refused to communicate to the burghers, and issued his orders for the defence of the place intrusted to him.

On the 22d of August the Council again met, and demanded to know the terms offered by Nicolls. The Governor again refused, and tore the summons to pieces before them. To the Commissioners he wrote a letter, stating the Dutch claims to the province, and concluding with his determination to defend the fort and city.

It was in vain that Petrus Stuyvesant endeavored to infuse his own spirit into the people of the colony, who had already made up their minds, that if their property could be secured to them, a change of government was for their interest. In vain he represented that the fatherland required resistance to English injustice ! In vain he asked how a surrender without a struggle would be viewed in the land of their fathers ! The subjects of England were already mingled among those of the States, and all wished for the promised rights of Englishmen. The proclamation of Nicolls had its effect. Hide, who commanded the squadron under Nicolls, was ordered to attack the fort. Stuyvesant sent deputies with a second letter, proposing delay and accommodation. But Nicolls knew full well the disposition of the people, and answered that he would only treat of surrender.

The next day, the 26th of August, the Governor of New Netherland agreed to a surrender, with an overpowering force arrayed in hostility before him, and no disposition evinced by those within call or view to support him.

Nicolls had said, "on Thursday I will see you at Manhattoes, with my ships." The armament entered the harbor, and the sturdy old governor yielded to necessity, and surrendered. After the capitulation had been agreed to by the magistrates, he reluctantly signed it. On the 3d of September, New Amsterdam became New York, and the fort was called "James." On the 24th, Fort Orange surrendered, and took the name of Albany ; and early in October the settlements on the Delaware capitulated.

Although Stuyvesant did not show to his burgomasters the terms offered by Nicolls, or the letter of advice from Governor Winthrop, of Connecti-ent, there can be no doubt that the reasons for surrender which the latter gave had great weight with the Director-General of New Netherland.

When the terms of surrender were signed by the English deputies, who met the deputies of the Dutch at Governor Stuyvesant's house, in the Bowery, although favorable, and agreed to by those he had nominated, (John De Decker, Cornelius Shemoyek, James Cowpease, Nieholas Verleet, Samuel Megapolensis, and Oloffte S. Van Kortlandt), he yet withheld his signature for two days. At length the compact was concluded; and to the above-mentioned names, and those of Robert Carr, George Carteret, John Winthrop, Samuel Wyllis, Thomas Clarke, and John Pinehon, was added that of Petrus Stuyvesant

By these articles it was agreed that the States General and West India Company should enjoy all their fast property, except that in forts; and all arms and ammunition belonging to them, at the time of surrender, to be transported or paid for; that the public buildings should continue for the uses intended: that the people should enjoy all property, as before, with the privilege of removing, if they choose so to do; and any public officer, if he wishes to go to England, should be conveyed in his Majesty's frigates; that people might freely come from the Netherlands, and plant in this colony: that ships and goods should be received and depart for six months as theretofore: that the Dutch should enjoy liberty of conscience and Church discipline: that no Dutchman or ship should be pressed into military service: that no soldiers should be quartered on the townsmen without being paid for: that the Dutch should enjoy their own laws of inheritance, and public records should be kept as usual; neither should any decision of court, heretofore made, be called in question: that the Dutch should have liberty of traffic with the English and Indians: that any public debt of the town should be paid as theretofore: that magistrates should continue until the time of election, and then be chosen by the people as before, said officers taking the oath to his Majesty of England: that contracts theretofore made should be determined by Dutch usage: that the military should march out with their arms, drums beating, colors flying, and lighted matches; and that if any of them choose to become planters, they should have fifty acres of land, and become free denizens: that the fort Aurania (Albany) should be levelled; but if any persons should have property therein, they should enjoy it: that soldiers, or others, wishing to go to Europe should have free passport from Colonel R. Nicolls: that the copy of the King's grants to his Royal Highness, and his Royal Highness's commission to Richard Nicolls, testified by Mr. Winthrop, should be delivered to the Hon. Mr. Stuyvesant, the present governor. These articles were signed by Colonel Nicolls, and fort and town were accordingly delivered to him.

The inhabitants of New Netherland very generally became subjects of Great Britain. Governor Stuyvesant remained on his estate; and after a voyage to Holland, passed the remainder of his life on his estate in the Bowery. At his death, his remains were interred within a chapel which he had erected upon his own land. Chief Justice Smith,* writing about 1757, says that the Stuyvesant estate was at that time possessed by the Governor's great grandson, "Gerardus Stuyvesant, a man of probity, who had been elected into the magistracy above thirty years successively."†

GOVERNOR PETRUS STUYVESANT came from Amsterdam. Arrived here the 27th of May, 1647. He was married to Judith Bayard, (a fugitive from France,) who died in 1686. They had two sons, Balthaza Lazar, born 1647, and Nicholas William, born 1648.

Balthaza, after the surrender of the Province to the English removed (in disgust) to St. Thomas, in the West Indies, he died at Nevis, 1675. He married in the West Indies, and had two daughters born at St. Eustace, viz.: Judith, born in 1674—married to — Edsall; and Katharine, born in 1675—married to Abraham Tasamaker.

Nicholas William (the son of the governor,) married to Maria Beekman, of New Amsterdam, who died without issue; he then married Elizabeth Slegthenhorst, by whom he had two sons and one daughter, viz., Petrus, born March, 1684, drowned in 1705, having never been married; Anna, who married the Rev. Wm. Pritchard, of New York, a clergyman of the Church of England, and died without issue; and Gerardus, who married Judith Bayard, who had four sons, only two of whom survived their father, viz., Nicholas William, who subsequently died without issue, having never been married, and Petrus, born 1727, died, September 7, 1705; he married Margaret Livingston (daughter of Gilbert Livingston,) who died January 8, 1818. They had several children, six of whom survived their parents; viz, Judith (the wife of Benjamin Winthrop,) Cornelia (the wife of Dirck Ten Broeck,) died February 24, 1825; Nicholas William died

† The pear tree which now stands at the corner of Thirteenth street and Third Avenue marks the spot of the old Governor's garden, and was, probably, brought from Holland when he repaired thither to account to his superiors, which he did immediately after the surrender.

March, 1833, leaving several children; Margaret died unmarried, October 29, 1824; Elizabeth, the widow of Colonel Nicholas Fish, and Peter Gerard Stuyvesant, Esq., the present representative and head of the family, and President of the New York Historical Society.

Of the children of Petrus Stuyvesant, there are now living Peter Gerard Stuyvesant, Esq., Mrs. Winthrop, and Mrs. Fish; also a large number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

SUGAR HOUSE IN LIBERTY STREET.

THE annexed engraving is a correct representation of the SUGAR HOUSE, formerly in Liberty street, and which was used, in conjunction with several churches, as a prison, in the War of Independence, by the British, under command of Sir William Howe, during the period of their occupation of the city. The sufferings of those confined in this place, were of the most frightful character, occasioned by cruel treatment, famine and disease, and was made the subject of special correspondence by General Washington. The building was five stories high, each story being very low, and divided into two apartments, and ventilated by small windows, similar to port-holes. The prisoners were literally packed together, without regard to their condition in point of health or cleanliness; the only time exercise was allowed them, occurred during the summer of 1777, when the jail fever, of the most malignant kind, broke out among them, and then they were permitted, in companies of twenty, to walk for half an hour at a time each day, in the yard attached to the prison.

A Committee appointed to welcome the New Governor.

3 Novembr., Ao. 1674, Burgomasters and Schepens being met at the City Hall, with the Burgher Council of War, they, with the approbation of the Hr. The foregoing Commissioners, returning this date, reported that they welcomed the Hr. Capt. Manning's Petition to the Governor and Court Martial, at the Time of his Trial.

Manning's Answers to the Charges Against Him.

IMPRIMIS, I Answer, That I did not know y<sup>r</sup> shipp<sup>s</sup> to bee Enemies before the 29th of July at five o'clock in y<sup>e</sup> Euening, but aboute five Moneths before hearing of an Enemys flecte that was bound for Verginia, and feom thence to this place; Gouvernor Louclane being then at Mr Pells at Anhookes Neck I imediately sent notice to him of the same who imediately came and seeing noe Enemy slited my care and said this is one of Manning's Larrums, w<sup>ch</sup> news I thought would haue receued him forthwith to prepare y<sup>e</sup> ffort, and procure such necessaryes as would haue beene Conuenient and were waiting to wth stand an Enemy, He haueing rece'd into his Custody the Contribuçon money that was gathered for that Intent. Notwithstanding the s<sup>d</sup> newes the money soe receued he did not make any preparaçon in the ffort, onely sent for the Soldiers from Albany and other places, and upon the first of May mustered them and they did amount to neare 130 listed men. And upon the 29th of May did mak another muster and then wth Volunteers and Souldiers we did amount to 330 After w<sup>ch</sup> said muster the Gouvernor dischargeing some and dismissing others sent back all that came from Albany wth Capt Salisbury and just before the

Enemeyes Comeing heare takes his Jurny for Conetticot and leaves me in the ffort wth out any order to reparaire the same for to make defence against an Enemy ; But I heareing Newes of the shippes being upon the coaste did send notice wth all expedicon to y<sup>e</sup> Gouvernor at Connetticot and did to y<sup>e</sup> Best of my Indeavor send out my Warr<sup>s</sup> for aide to come to y<sup>e</sup> ffort and likewise caused the drums to beate up for Vollunteers and of all those that before proffered their serviee but few came w<sup>ch</sup> was discouragem<sup>t</sup> to the whole Garrison I likewise caused a Smith forthwth to reparaire 100 fyrelocks ready upon the works for such as should come in ; and sent out to the Comesary Mr Barker to fetch all sorts of prouision w<sup>ch</sup> was in y<sup>e</sup> Towne into the ffort for feare we should haue occasion for it, soe that haueing but eighdene howers time after I knew them to be an Enemy before they attackt us and being dismay<sup>d</sup> at soe sudaine surprisall we were not capable to make more [defence] then [we did] I alsoe sent Mr to go to the Lutheran Domine he
it but could not.

2y. To the Second Article I Answered that the s<sup>d</sup> Gouvernor being Absent and the ffort being soe Vncapable of defence I did in hopes of the Gouvern<sup>rs</sup> Returne and the Countryes Comeing in for my Better Assistance send on Board the s<sup>d</sup> Shippes Tho Louelace Mr Sharpe and Mr Carr to know upon w<sup>t</sup> Acc<sup>t</sup> they came &c. Thinking thereby to Stoppe them one tide at Stratton Iseland till further defence could be made against them, w<sup>ch</sup> I did out of reall thought to delay their Comeing and not out of Treacherry ; And for my Innocency thereof I referr my selfe to their saying that were sent whether they thought or Knew I sent them upon any Treacherous designe or noe.

3y. To the third Article I Answered that the s<sup>d</sup> Louelace Sharpe and Carr being aboard and not returned a shoare before the s<sup>d</sup> Shippes did come to an Anekor I did not fyre thinking it was not usuall when Ambassadors were on Board soe to doe ; But that I should Comand upon paine of Death noe man to fyre, that I cannot well remember.

4y. To the forth Article I answered that after the s<sup>d</sup> Embassad<sup>rs</sup> were return'd and Acc<sup>t</sup> was giuen why they came, I in hopes and wth an Intent to haue the Advice of the Maior and Alderme I sent Mr Sharpe a Board y<sup>e</sup> second time to demand liberty till 10 o'Clock the next day to give them an Answer thinking still to prolong the time in expectagon for y<sup>e</sup> Gouvern<sup>rs</sup> and the Countryes comeing in for Assistance during w<sup>ch</sup> time of his being a Board they did land their men w<sup>ch</sup> was unknowne to me soe that Sharpe being upon a second Embassage caussed me not to fyre expecting theire Answer to be According to my demand.

5y. To the fifth I answered that Vnderstanding the Enemy had Landed near 800 Soldiers and Mr Lovelace and Carr giueing such an Acc<sup>t</sup> that we were not able to wthstand soe greate forse I did by y<sup>e</sup> Instigacon of Capt Carr Concent that y<sup>e</sup> flagg of truce should be put upp but not the Kings flagg to be pulled downe. But Mr Carr wthout my order or Concent struck the Kings flagg to putt out the flagg of truce. And I hope that yor Honer & Council will Consider in what Condicion the ffort was to wthstand soe greate an Enemy Armed as they were wth Hand Granadoes ready for a Storme their being but about 70 or 80 men in y<sup>e</sup> ffort and but foure Ladles and Spunges to all the Gunns in the ffort wthout any platformes or any other necessaryes fitt for defence.

6y. To the Sixth Article I Answered that I did Neauer aske any Articles for my private Intrest Neither did I directly or Indirectly hold any Correspondence wth the Enemy either by private Messeng<sup>rs</sup> or papers neither did I Treacherously cause the Gates to be Opened wthout Articles sent to be signd bud did send Mr Sharpe w<sup>h</sup> Articles that we should March out wth our Drums beating Cullers flying Baggs and Baggadge &c Who brought word to the best of my Knowledge before the Gates were Opened, we should haue them Graunted whereupon the Gates were Opened but noe otherwise but in Consideration for the Articleles being graunted and for want of men to keepe it Longer against soe greate an Enemy as they were; The truieth of all these my Answeres I referr my selfe to y<sup>e</sup> papers formerly Giuen in to yor Hon<sup>r</sup> and Councell, hopein yow will make a fauorable Construction of what Errors I comitted it being for want of discregon to manage it better & not out of any Intention of Treachery to Defraud his Ma<sup>tie</sup> his Royall Highness or any of their Subjects, of any of their Right or Interest in y<sup>e</sup> leaste Measure.

When his wife heard we were to be carried as prisuors she preferred a Peticon to the Admirall for some few necessaryes w<sup>ch</sup> was graunted [as by] the s<sup>d</sup> Peticon appeareth at w<sup>ch</sup> time our Creditors applied themselves to y<sup>e</sup> Admiralls [stat- ing that] the s<sup>d</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> was Indebted to them whereupon he Comanded an Inuenty of w<sup>t</sup> Estate he left and it amounted unto 15413 Gilders and the Debts to not aboue 5000 lb. or their aboutes besides 100 lb<sup>s</sup> losst in the ffort; Besides the Totall Ruin of y<sup>e</sup> Recall ffortune he left behinde and after 4 Moneths Imprisonm<sup>t</sup> one board their Shippes of himself and family and Souldiers he was put a shore at Viall where necessity inforst him to sell y<sup>e</sup> necessaryes he had to lay in Wine for y<sup>e</sup> Securityt of and in our way for England it pleased God to take away his wife w<sup>ch</sup> was his onely Comfort [in this world] after my arriual in England wth all speed I went to his Royall Highness and calls God to Witness [that] it was his clear Conscience that Carried him before his Ma<sup>tie</sup> and his Royall Highness [for if] he had either the thoughts of Vnfaithfullnesse Treachery or Cowerdise he neauer durst haue presumed to haue come in the p<sup>r</sup>sence of [his Ma<sup>ty</sup>] or Royall Highness much less dare haue [ventured] to haue paid 30 or 40<sup>lb</sup> for his passage he felt not any Guilt in y<sup>e</sup> least upon him all w<sup>ch</sup> he [wishes] to Make appeare to<sup>r</sup> Honor. & Councill.

JOHN MANNING.

Whereupon they gaue us halfe an hower's time After our men were Landed for our finall Answer.

They being Anckored under yo<sup>e</sup> ffort and the halfe hower Expired I sent this second Answer—

That they would giue us halfe an hower's time longer and noe more an accordingly they turned up the Glass.

The time being neare expired before Mr Sharpe returned they [turned] 10 Gunns to the Leward and immediately began to make yo<sup>e</sup> same [to bear] upon yo<sup>e</sup> ffort and when they had fyred 2000 greate Shott [from out] yo<sup>e</sup> boutes upon us aud Killed and Wounded us some Men, they then Landed about 600 men and upward w<sup>ch</sup> had g-anadoes wth all materials ready for a storme & then we findeing their power to greate for us they advanceing wee beete a Parley and putt out a flagg of truce yett they fyred many Gunns Afterward notwithstanding we sent out Capt Carr Tho. Louelace Esqr Mr Gibbs to meet them to make yo<sup>e</sup> Best Condicions they could for us who findeing them all drawne upp and their forlorne Marching they tould them they were all prisnors at Warr and that if they had anything to say they must speak it Quickly.

The quarter of an hower being Expired they sent a Trumpeter to know why Capt Carr did not return wth our Answere, Captain Manning and Capt Louelace replied that Capt Carr had not been their and that we had Gent<sup>l</sup> wth them to make Condictions [to this] Answer when the Trumpeter returned to them [they] replied this is the third time they haue played the fool with us—March on and giue the English noe Quarter—this the Gentlemen informed us that was then prisnors under the Standard.

SELECTIONS.

Feb. 2, 1770.—The citizens, animated with the spirit of liberty, notified the Common Council that they were determined to erect a Liberty Pole opposite St Paul's Church in Chatham street; but the Corporation refused the spot, and it was erected on private ground near.

September 21.—The great fire; 493 houses, one-eighth part of the city, burnt.

Mr. Grim's Account of the Great Fire, 21st September, 1776.

The fire of 1776 commenced in a small wooden house on the wharf, near the Whitehall Slip. It was then occupied by a number of men and women of bad character. The fire began late at night. There being but a very few inhabitants in the city, in a short time it raged tremendously. It burned all the houses on the East side of Whitehall Slip, and the west side of Broad street, to Beaver street. A providential and happy circumstance occurred at this time. The wind was then south-westerly. About two o'clock that morning, the wind veered to the south-east. This carried the flames of the fire to the north-westward, and burned both sides of Beaver street to the east side of Broadway, then crossed Broadway to Beaver lane, and burning all the houses on both sides of Broadway, with some few houses in New street, to Rector street, and to John Harrison, Esq.'s three-story brick house, which house stopped the fire on the east side of Broadway. From thence it continued burning all the houses in Lumber street, and those in the rear of the houses on the west side of Broadway to St. Paul's Church; then continued burning the houses on both sides of Partition street, and all the houses in the rear (again) of the west side of Broadway to the North River. The fire did not stop until it got into Mortkile street, now Barclay street. The College yard, and the vacant ground in the rear of the same, put an end to this awful and tremendous fire.

Trinity Church being burned, was occasioned by the flakes of fire that fell on the south side of the roof. The southerly wind fanned those flakes of fire in a short time to an amazing blaze, and it soon became out of human power to extinguish the same, the roof of this noble edifice being so steep that no person could go on it.

St. Paul's Church was in the like perilous situation. The roof being flat, with a balustrade on the eaves, a number of the citizens went on the same, and extinguished the flakes of fire as they fell on the roof. Thus, happily, was this beautiful church saved from the destruction of this dreadful fire, which threatened the ruin thereof and that of the whole city.

The Lutheran Church being contiguous to houses adjoining the same fire, it was impossible to save it from destruction. This fire was so furious and violently hot, that no person could go near it, and there were no fire-engines to be had at that time in the city.

The number of houses that were burned and destroyed in this city at that awful conflagration were thus, viz. :—

From Mortkile street to Cortlandt street .....	167
From Cortlandt street to Beaver street .....	175
From Beaver street to the East River.....	151
Total .....	493

There being very few inhabitants in the city at the time, and many of those were afraid to venture at night in the streets, for fear of being taken up as suspicious persons.

An instance, to my knowledge, occurred. A Mr. White, a decent citizen and house carpenter, rather too violent a loyalist, and latterly had addicted himself to liquor, was, on the night of the fire, hanged on a tavern sign-post, at the corner of Cherry and Roosevelt street. Several of the citizens were sent to the Provost Guard for examination; and some of them remained there two and three days, until they could give satisfactory evidence of their royalty.

Mr. Hugh Gain, in his Universal Register for the year 1787, page 119, says—"New York is about a mile and a half in length, and half a mile broad, containing, before the fires on the 21st of September, 1776, and 3d of August, 1778, about 4,200 houses, and 30,000 inhabitants."

Mr. Grim's Account of the Great Fire, August 3, 1778.

Another great fire happened on the 3d of August, 1778, on Cruger's Wharf, in which there were about fifty houses consumed. The cause of so many houses being burned at this time was, the military officers taking the ordering and directing of the fire from the firemen. The citizens complained thereof to the Commander-in-Chief, who immediately gave out, in general orders, that, in future, no military man should interfere with any fire that may happen in the city, but leave the extinguishing thereof to the entire direction of the firemen and inhabitants. The military should place sentries over the goods that were saved from the fire.

1782.—Sir Guy Carleton commanded the British army in New York.

1783.—November 25—The city evacuated by the British troops, and Gen. Washington entered at the head of the American army.

On the 25th of November, the day appointed for the evacuation of this city, the American troops, under the command of Major General Knox, early in the morning, entered into the suburbs of the city, and remained in the Bowery until noon, when the British army was withdrawn from their various posts and were relieved by the Americans. A large number of Tories and loyalists also left the city with the British fleet, fearing to encounter the fury of their returning countrymen.

As soon as the city was quietly in the possession of the American army, General Knox, with a great number of respectable citizens, on horseback, repaired to the Bowery to receive His Excellency General Washington, and George Clinton, the Governor of the state, who, with their respective suits and followed by the Lieutenant-Governor and Senators, the officers of the army, and citizens on horseback, eight abreast, and citizens on foot, four abreast, entered the city through the Bowery, Chatham and Pearl streets, to the Battery, where they found the British flag still flying; as our foes had greased the staff so liberally, that some time elapsed before it could be hauled down, and the thirteen stars and stripes hoisted in its place.

A public dinner was given the same day to Washington and his general officers, at the principal tavern, then situated on the corner of Wall and Nassau streets, and in the evening a splendid display of fireworks was made in the Bowling Green, under the direction of the French officers.

This happy anniversary has ever since been properly commemorated in the recollection of our citizens.

At this period, there was not more than twenty thousand inhabitants in this town; but the citizens soon returned to their homes, from which they had been exiled seven years. The city did not extend farther north than Murray street. Most of the houses, even in the best streets, were built of wood.

The line of works erected by the British during the war, and which extended across the island, was near Duane street, and thence in an irregular line towards Corlaer's Hook, many remains of which were to be seen in various places until within ten years past; and for several years after the war, the land, in the vicinity of the Hospital and Broadway, without the lines, was a rural, secluded spot. The large sheet of water, called the Collect, or fresh water, which nearly intersected the island, then laved the foot of several lofty hills surrounding it, which have since been entirely levelled.

Most of the streets in the old parts of the city, were narrow, crooked, and poorly paved, and numerous vacant lots existed. All the churches but the Episcopal, had been destroyed, or used for military purposes, such as hospitals, barracks, riding schools, &c. There were no public monied or charitable institutions, no banks or insurance offices; trade was at a low ebb; education had been entirely neglected, and the schools and college were shut up.

Such was the gloomy condition of this city, which had not been rebuilt from the ruins of the great fires which took place during the war; but the scene soon changed, when the regular municipal government of the city was re-established, and the country at large began to revive from the shock of the revolution.

The books and accounts of the Corporation, during the revolutionary war, were taken away by Mr. Cruger (treasurer,) who joined the British army, and left this country.

1784.—The civil authority again resumed their functions, and endeavored to restore order out of confusion—to collect the city debts and rents, which had fallen greatly in arrear, and were, in a great measure, totally lost during the war—to trace out and secure the public property of every description, such as leased ground, water lots, &c.

The seat of the State Government was removed to Albany, and the Council of Appointment vested with authority to name all civil officers in the State, which, before the war, was exercised by the Governor.

February 10.—James Duane, Mayor.

Richard Varick, Recorder.

April 14.—The Exchange in Broad street, turned into a market place.

September 11—La Fayette arrived in the city to embark for France, and was waited upon by the Corporation with an address and the freedom of the city voted to him.

October 2.—John Jay arrived from Europe, and was welcomed by the Corporation, who paid him the highest honors in their power.

October 6.—Baron Steuben arrived, and was addressed by the Corporation, and the freedom of the city voted to him.

December 2.—General Washington arrived, and was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the citizens. The Corporation made him an address of congratulation and thanks, and voted the freedom of the city.

NORTH RIVER TRAVELING, STEAMBOATS, &c.

In the year 1800, merchants residing a hundred miles, or more, from New York, and distant from the North River ten or fifteen miles, sent their bed and bedding to the landing from which they were to sail for the city, by a team, and themselves followed on horseback. At the landing, their bed, &c., was placed on board the sloop that conveyed their produce to market, and by it they took passage for the city. The horse was put to pasture, or in the stable, until their return, when the owner rode him home; and by the team that went for the merchandise the bed and bedding were returned. Such was the convenience of traveling at that day.

THE PARKER STEAM BOAT.

In November, 1806, five gentlemen associated themselves together, for the purpose "of rendering the passage between Hudson and New York by water more expeditious, convenient, and pleasant to ladies and gentlemen traveling North and South through the State of New York, as well as to promote the interest of those concerned" (as expressed in the words of the agreement), by building a packet of one hundred and ten tons burthen, for the purpose of carrying passengers only. To accomplish this object, they bound themselves to each other to furnish the sum of six thousand dollars. In accordance with this agreement, the superior packet sloop Experiment was built, and superbly fitted up with state-rooms and berths, her whole length below deck for the accommodation of passengers, and performed the passage between New York and Hudson in an unprecedented short space of time.

In January, 1807, some new names were added to the original subscribers, and a further agreement entered into to build another packet of the same class, and for like purposes, to accomplish which the subscriptions were increased to twelve thousand dollars. This packet, like the first, was fitted up in style, and placed, with the other, on the North River; and at the time the two created quite an excitement. We have before us a bill and a receipt for a passage on board one of these vessels forty years ago. It is somewhat formal, and we give it at length as a curiosity, as it shows the manner in which things were done on the North River at that day. The passage referred to was performed in twenty-seven hours:—

"~~On~~ Sloop Experiment, Laban Paddock master, for the accommodation of passengers on the North River, will sail from Hudson every Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, and from New York every Saturday evening, at six o'clock. And the sloop Experiment, Elihu S. Bunker, master, for the same purpose, will sail from Hudson every Sunday morning, at nine o'clock, and from New York every Wednesday evening, at five o'clock, throughout the season.

" On board the Experiment, Captain Laban Paddock.

In 1807, Fulton made his successful passage to Albany by steam; and in 1810 the old North River steamboat was performing the distance between Albany and New York in thirty-six hours; and Oliver Evans, of Philadelphia, was predicting that the person was then living who would see the distance between Philadelphia and Boston accomplished in three days. This individual made a number of useful improvements. He commenced a steamboat on the Delaware before Fulton, but had not the means to finish it. He was many years in advance of the age in which he lived, and finally died in New York about the year 1819.

The old North River boat, in her original construction, had a strange appearance. Her water-wheels were without houses, as at the present day, and crossheads connected with the piston, instead of the walking-beam, now in general use. The countryman, when he first saw her from Hudson, told his wife he had seen the devil going to Albany in a sawmill.

After the North River, the Car of Neptune was built, then the Lady Richmond, the Paragon, the Chancellor Kent, and others. Afterward, lines were formed to New Brunswick, New Haven and Providence, and to Charleston and New Orleans; and, at a later period, from Liverpool to Boston and New York, and from New York to Bremen. Recently, Collins' splendid line of steamers from New York to Liverpool have commenced their trips. In the mean time, the Mississippi, and the great lakes, are alive with steamers; and lines are forming to connect with Havre. Railroads are threading the country in every direction, even to competition with the North River. What is to be the end, for steam is yet but in its infancy?

In connection with the sloop Experiment, was a project by the same parties to run a horse-boat on the North River from Hudson to Albany, uniting at the former place with the sloops. This appears from articles of agreement entered into by the parties, which are now before us. This experiment was made in 1810, and proved a failure. There is reason to suppose the sloops proved profitable at first, but they were driven from the river by the steamboats. They were sold, and a final settlement of their accounts made in February, 1813.

Steamboats on the North River first performed their trips with wood. Lackawana coal was afterward introduced, by which the expense of fuel was reduced from $150 a trip to $30. This was the commencement of a new era in steamboating, hardly less important than the original application of steam to boats.

TO THE
TRADE AND MANUFACTURES OF THE PROVINCE OF NEW YORK, 1705-1757.

TRADE AND MANUFACTURES OF THE PROVINCE, 1705.

Lord Cornbury to Sec. Hodges.

[Lond. Doc, XVI ]

The Trade of this Province consists chiefly in flower and biskett, which is sent to the Islands in the West Indians, in return they bring Rum, Sugar, Molasses, and some times pieces of Eight and Cocoa and Logwood; to Europe our people send skins of all sorts, Whale Oyle and Bone, which are the only commodity this Country sends to Europe, of its own produce as yet, but if they were encouraged, the people of this Province would be able to supply England with all manner of Naval Stores, Pitch, Tar, Rosine, Turpentine, Flax, Hemp, Masts and Timber of all kinds and sizes, and very good in their kinds.

When I said on the other side that if the people were encouraged they would be able to supply England with all manner of Naval Stores, I mean (by encouraged) if they had a certain sure market for their produce; for as the case now stands, they aply their land to corn of all sort, but chiefly wheat, because they have a certain market for that in the Islands, but if they had a sure market Hemp and Flax in England, they would greedily fall to the planting of Hemp & Flax, because they want Commodities to make returns to England for the goods they take from thence.

Besides if part of their lands were employed to those uses, their corn would fetch a better price, besides the want of wherewithall to make returns for England, sets mens witts at work, and that has put them upon a trade which I am sure will hurt England in a little time; for I am well informed that upon Long Island and Connecticut, they are setting up a Wollen Manufacture, and I myself have seen Serge made upon Long Island that any man may wear. Now if they begin to make Serge, they will in time make course cloth, and then fine; we have as good fuller's earth and tobacco pipe clay in this Province, as any in the world; how farr this will be for the service of England, I submit to better judgments; but however I hope I may be pardoned if I declare my opinion to be, that all these Colloneys, which are but twiggs belonging to the Mane Tree (England) ought to be kept entirely dependent upon, and subservient to England, and that can never be if they are suffered to goe on in the notions they have, that as they are Englishmen, soe they may set up the same manufactures here as people may do in England; for the consequence will be that if once they can see they can cloath themselves, not only comfortably but handsomely too, without the help of England, they who are already not very fond of submitting to Government would soon think of putting into execution designs they had long harboured in their breasts. This will not seem strange when you consider what sort of people this country is inhabited by.

MY LORDS—This comes to ask pardon for all the trouble I have given your Lordships in my severall letters relating to the Naval Stores. What I aimed at chiefly therein, was the service my Nation & I do assure yor Lordships (notwithstanding I may have been otherwise represented) is very dear to me. And what in the first place I aimed at by my proposals was, to have diverted the Americans from going on with their linen and wollen manufactories, and to have turn'd their thoughts on such things as might be usefull and beneficiall to Great Britain. They are already so far advanced in the manufactories that  $\frac{3}{4}$  of ye linen and Wollen they use, is made amongst 'em; especially the courser sort, & if some speedy and effectual ways are not found to putt a stop to it, they will carry it on a great deal further, & perhaps in time very much to the prejudice of our manufactories at home. I have been discoursed with by some to assist them in setting up a manufactory of fine stuffs, but I have for the present putt it by & will for my own part never be concerned in yt, nor any thing of yt nature, but use all the little interest and skill I have to prevent it.

Gov. Hunter to the Board of Trade, 12th Nov. 1715.

---

[Lond. Doc. XX.]

The Trade of this Province has consisted chiefly of Provisions. We may reckon considerably [decreased] since the late peace, by reason that the Spaniards do not permit our vessels to come on their coasts, as they did formerly, having lately as I am well informed sent several ships, some of which are French with Spanish Commissns. to Guard their Coasts from that traffick, which formerly we had by private commuication with them; and these Provinces raising much more than serves for their own consumption and that of the West Indias, I can think of no solid way of preventg the total decay of Trade, and consequently the ruin of the Provinces but by setting on foot and carrying vigorously the production of Naval Stores, and if hemp were not so bulky a commodity, we know experimentally that our swamps and low land will produce as good as any in the world.

The People in this Town (N. York) and Albany, which make a great part of the Province, wear no clothing of their own manufacture; but if the letters mentioned in your Lordships' mean the Planters and poorer sort of Country People, the computat'n is rather less than more, but the several sorts are coarser than what comes from England. I know no way to prevent it than by encouraging them to go on some manufactures that may be useful to England and beneficial to themselves; for few that are able to go to the expense of English manufacture do wear home spun; and a law to oblige such as are not able to go to that expense to do it, under penalties, would be equivalent to a law to compel them to go naked; for your Lordships well know that goods at 100 per cent. advance are reckoned cheap here; nor does it consist with my knowledge, that ever any home spun was sold in the shops.

Cadwallader Colden on the Trade of New York, 1713.

[Lond. Doc. XXII.]

THE Trade of New York is chiefly to Britain, & the British Plantations in the West Indies; beside which we have our wines from Madeira, & a considerable Trade with Curacoa, some with Surinam, and some little private Trade with the French Islands. The Trade to the West Indies is wholly to the advantage of this Province, the balance being everywhere in our favor, so that we have money remitted from every place we trade with, but chiefly from Curacoa and Jamaica, these places taking off great quantities of Flower for the Spanish Trade. The Trade to Barbadoes is more considerable than to any one of the rest, Provisions being carried thither, not only for the supply of that Island, but likewise for Transportation to the Spanish coast, while the Apiento Factors were settled there, and to the French Islands, so that tho' we consume more of the produce of that Island in Rum, Sugar & Molasses than of all the others put together, we have money frequently remitted from thence on Bills of Exchange for England. The Trade to Madeira is to our Loss, this Province consuming more wine from thence than can be purchased with our commodities, which obliges the Merchant either to send money, or to pay the Ballance of Bills of Exchange for London. But whatever advantages we have by the West India Trade, we are so hard put to it to make even with England, that the money imported for the West Indies seldom continues six months in the Province before it is remitted for England, the Current Cash being wholly in the Paper Bills of this Province, and of few Lyon Dollars.

In the time of the last war, when the great scarcity of provisions happened in France, we had a very profitable Trade with Lisbon for wheat, by which several have made estates; but that Trade was of no long duration, for the distance made the carriage so chargeable, being the ships were obliged to return empty, that the Trade could not be carried on any longer without loss. After wheat fell to its usual price, tho' the Wheat of America be of greater value there than the European: and we cannot hope for a return of this Trade, unless such a general scarcity of Provisions happens over Europe as did then.

The Staple Commodity of the Province is Flower & Bread, which is sent to all parts of the West Indies we are allowed to trade with. Besides Wheat, Pipe Staves and a little Bees' Wax to Madeira, we send likewise a considerable quantity of Pork, Bacon, Hogshhead Staves, some Beef, Butter, and a few Candles to the West Indies. The great Bulk of our commodities, in proportion to their value, is the reason why we cannot trade directly to the Spanish Coast as they do from the West Indies, it being necessary to employ armed vessels to prevent Injuries from the Spaniards and Pirates; but we sometimes send vessels into the Bays of Campechie & Honduras to purchase Logwood, and we have it imported from thence frequently by Strangers. This commodity is entirely exported again for England.

From Barbadoes, we import Rum, Molasses & Sugar, which are all consumed in the Province; from Antigua, and the adjacent Islands, Molasses & some Rum for the country consumption, and sometimes Sugar & Cotton for exportation to England; from Jamaica, some Rum, Molasses, & the best Muscovada Sugar for the consumption of the Country, & sometimes Logwood, but the principal returns from thence are in Spanish money. From Curacoa the returns are in Spanish money & Cocoa, which is exported again for England. Surinam returns nothing besides Molasses & a little Rum, which are consumed in the Province. In the time of war, when the English could not trade with the French, there was considerable trade to the Island St. Thomas, the Danes from thence supplying the French with our Provisions. We have Cotton from thence, & now from the French Islands; we sometimes have Cocoa, Sugar & Indigo, the far greatest part of which are exported again from England.

Several of our Neighbours upon the Continent cannot well subsist without our assistance as to Provisions; for we yearly send Wheat and Flower to Boston & Rhode Island, as well as to South Carolina, tho' not in any great quantity. Pennsylvania only rivals us in our Trade to the West Indies, but they have not that credit in their Manufactures that this Province has.

Besides our Trade by sea, this Province has a very considerable inland Trade with the Indians, for Beaver and other Furrs & Peltry, & with the French of Canada for Beaver, all which are purchased with English commodity, except a small quantity of Rum. As this Trade is very profitable to England, so this Province has a more considerable share in it than any other in His Ma'ty's Dominions, & is the only Province that can Rival, and, I believe, out do the French, being the most advantageously situated for this Trade of any part of America.

This Government, (since the arrival of the present Governor,) considering that the French of Canada buy yearly of the People of this Province great quantities of English Goods, in English Cloaths, fit for the Indians' use, & being convinced that the French cannot, without great difficulty and expence, import these goods directly from Europe, & that without them they cannot carry on their trade with the Indians exclusive of the English, did, by a severe Law, prohibit the selling of any Indian Goods to the French; at the same time considerable encouragement was given to a number of young men to go into the Indian Country, as far as the pass between the great Lakes at the Falls of Iagara, to learn the language of these Indians, and to renew the Trade with the far Indians, which our Traders have disused ever since the beginning of the Wars with France. This they could not be persuaded to undertake of themselves, having of late fallen into the more save and less toilsome Trade with the French tho' less profitable.

The Government has pursued this with a good deal of dilligence, notwithstanding many difficultys put in the way by the merchants who trade with the French; and these measures are likely to have a very happy effect to strengthen the British Interest on this continent. For if the Indians shall be once convinced that the French cannot supply them with the Goods they want, or that they are furnished much cheaper by the English, it will take off the dependence of the remote Indians on the French, which has been increasing of late to the Great Danger of this Province, in case of a War, as well as to the loss of its trade in time of Peace. What is already done has had so good effect, that but a few days ago 80 Indian men, besides Women & Children, arrived at Albany from the furthest nation, who live about the place called by the French Missilimakenak, 1,200 miles from Albany. They could not be stopt in their design by all the art of the French, who, in several places, endeavored to divert them. When they came to Albany, they entered into a league of Friendship with this Government, & desired to be added to the Six Nations under this Government, and that they may be esteemed the seventh Nation under the English Protection. The language of those Indians is not understood by any Christian among us, & is the first time we have had any league with them. It is the opinion of many here that, by the arts of Peace, with the assistance of a less sum than a tenth of what the expedition to Canada, cost the Nation the settlement of Canada, would be rendered useless to the French, and that they would be obliged to abandon it.

It is evident that the whole Industry, Frugality and Trade of this Province, is employed to balance the Trade with England, and to pay for the goods they yearly import from thence, &, therefore, it is undoubtedly ye Interest of Britain to encourage the Trade of this Province as much as possible. For if the people here could remit, by any method, more money or goods to England, they would proportionably consume more of the English Manufactures. We have no reason to doubt that it is truly the desire of our mother country to make her colonys flourish. The only thing in question is, by what methods the produce and Trade of the Plantations can be best encouraged with the greatest advantage to England? It may be that many in England are not so well informed what their Colonys are able to produce, & by what means the people in the colonys will most effectually be put upon such Manufacture or Trade as shall be most beneficial to the Kingdom, for the Colonys differ very much in the soil & inclinations & humor of the Inhabitants.

It seems to be the desire of the Government of Great Britain that ye Kingdom be supplied with naval stores from their Plantations, that they may not rely so much on the Pleasure of foreign Princes for what is so necessary to ye strength & wealth of ye Kingdom. Towards this end none of his Maty's. Provinces can be more useful than this, and perhaps no country in the world is naturally better fitted for such produce or manufactures. There is not anywhere a richer soil for producing Hemp than in many places in this Province. Such land as has every year borne grain for above 50 years together without dunging, in which, I believe, this excells all the other Provinces in North America. Our barren sandy lands bear great quantitys of pitch-pine for tar; the Northern parts of the Province large white pines for masts: and for iron, we have great plenty of that oar in many places, close by the Bank of the River, where ships of 3 or 400 tuns may lay their sides, the ground everywhere covered with wood for the Furnace, and no want of water streams anywhere for the Forge.

The reasons which have hindered the inhabitants from going upon any of these manufactures are the difficulty with which people can be persuaded to leave the common means by which they have supported their families to adventure upon any new methods, which are always expensive in the beginning and uncertain in the profits they yield. This reasoning has the more force, because few of the Planters have any stock of money by them, but depend yearly on the produce of their Farms for the support of their Families. North America containing a vast Tract of Land, every one is able to procure a piece of land at an inconsiderable rate, and therefore is fond to set up for himself, rather than work for hire. This makes labor continue very dear, a common laborer usually earning 3 shillings by the day; and, consequently, any undertaking which requires many hands must be undertaken at a far greater expense than in Europe; and too often this charge only overbalances all the advantages which the country naturally affords, and is the hardest to overcome to make any commodity or manufacture profitable which can be raised in Europe.

The Merchant will not readily adventure his stock in raising Hemp, or making Tar, being unacquainted with husbandry, and will more difficultly be induced, because he knows the farmer does not gain yearly half the common Interest of the value of his land and stock, after he has deducted the charge of labor.

One of the methods already thought of for making this Province more useful as to naval stores, is a severe prohibition of cutting any white Pines fit for masts. No doubt, the destroying of so necessary a commodity ought to be prevented, and would be difficult to frame a law for that end, with many exceptions or Limitations, which could be of much use; on the other hand when the literal Breach of the Law becomes generally unavoidable, it must lose its force. The Lands of this Province are granted upon condition that the Grantee, with three years after the Grant, effectually cultivate three acres for every fifty granted; and it will not be supposed that it is the intent of the Law to put a stop to cultivating the Land, which, however, cannot be done without destroying the Timber that grows upon it. One, at first, is ready to fear that the poor planter is under a sad Dilemma. If he does not cultivate, he cannot maintain his family, and he must lose his Land. If he does cultivate, he cuts down Trees, for which he is in danger of being undone by prosecution and fines. The inhabitants cannot build Houses without pine for boards and covering, nor send Vessels to sea without masts. It cannot surely be the intent of the Legislature to put the inhabitants under such extreme hardships, by denying us necessary timber, while we live in the midst of such Forests as cannot in many ages be destroyed. And the more that the King, for whose use these Trees are reserved, does not, nor has not, made use of one Tree for many years in this Province.

Nor need we mind the apprehensions of some who tell us of what ill consequence it may be if the People of these Plantations should apprehend that the People of England design to cut them off from the common body of English subjects, by denying them the fundamental English Privilege of being tried by their country. Our mother country, the nursery of Liberty, will never give up her children to the ravenous appetites of any one man; nor will they lose the surest tie she has upon affections of the people in the Plantations, especially in a Frontier Province in the Neighbourhood of so potent and cunning a nation as the French are, where the native English are less in number than Foreigners, French, and Dutch, who at present think themselves happy under the English liberty; for the maxim, that free subjects are more useful to their Prince than slaves will be found as true in America as in Europe.

But suppose the people could be restrained from cutting any White Pines, it will not answer the end for which it was designed; for if the King were to send People to cut down Masts in the place where they grow, and to transport them to such places where they can be carried by water, the charge will amount to treble the sum they might be bought for at New York, if the carrying of them were left to the Inhabitants themselves. The King, in this case, must have a great many hands and overseers in constant pay; he must buy horses, oxen, and carriages, and maintain them, or hire them after the most chargeable manner; whereas the country people carry these Trees in the Winter upon the snow and Ice when they cannot labor in the ground, and are glad to make a little profit at any rate.

To balance any hardship which the Colonys may apprehend themselves to be under, the British Parliament has given such rewards and encouragements to their Plantations as no other nation has done the like for the manufacture of Hemp and Tar. The benefit of this, however, does not so immediately reach the Planters as the before-mentioned penalties affect him. There is a considerable difference between encouraging the exportation and sale of a commodity, which is already the manufacture of the country, and engaging people to go upon a new commodity or manufacture. In the first, it is sufficient to give the merchant encouragement to buy and export; in the other, the encouragement would be more effectual if it were immediately applied to the persons who were to begin the manufacture, and run the whole risque of its turning to advantage or not.

Now, I shall mention the means which I think most probable to make this Province usefull in producing Naval Stores, and which may, with the least difficulty, be put in practice. In the first place, to prevent the decay of timber fit for masts, every one that improves lands on which white Pines grow, ought to be obliged to plant white Pines at proper distances all around his fields and enclosures; when any of these shall dye or be cut down, to put another in its place; and some officer be obliged to see this punctually observed. And for the encouragement of such as shall raise Hemp, that the Receiver General be directed to receive Hemp when offered in lieu of money for the King's Quit Rents, at an encouraging price, which Price the Receiver General ought to publish, pursuant to the directions he shall receive from England. The Commissioners of the Navy to appoint a Factor at New York, whose credit must be punctually kept up, to purchase Masts and Tar, made according to the direction of the Act of Parliament, who shall yearly publish the prices he will give for any of these commodities, and the Government to save themselves the Benefit of the Bounty. For some years, the price to be allowed be above the intrinsic value of the commodities, the loss of which to be defrayed by some publick fund, which, I believe, without great difficulty, may be found; and if these proposals be thought practicable and useful, shall be the subject of another paper.

The Parliament appears desirous to encourage the importation of materials for dyeing, which hitherto have been only brought from foreign Parts. I have seen fine Reds and Yellows and good black (the country people say they have seen all colors) died by the Indians with some roots and weeds, which grow plentifully in the country.

As the Indians know very little of the art of dyeing, from what I have seen of their Reds, I am apt to believe the root they dye that color with may be very valuable, and we may find some commoditys which at present are not, in the least, thought of. When I go next to the Indian's country, I intend to procure some quantity of them, sufficient to make a few experiments.

NEW YORK, 18th December, 1732.

MY LORDS:—I acknowledge the receipt of your Lordships to me, of the 16th June last, and in pursuance of His Mat'y's directions to your Lord'pps

Board have made the strictest inquiry in respect to manufacturers sett up, and trade carryed on in this Province of New York and can discover none that may in any way affect or prejudice the Trade and Manufactures of the kingdom of Great Britain. As to the laws made here, I beg leave to refer your Lordships to the acts which I shall transmit to your Lordships so soon as they are engrossed, which I fear I cannot have time to have done to send by this opportunity.

The inhabitants here are more lazy and inactive than the world generally supposes, & their manufacture extends no further than what is consumed in their own familys; a few coarse Lindsey Woolseys for clothing, and linen for their own wear: the hatt making trade here seemed to promise to make the greatest advances to the prejudice of Great Britain; but that the Parliament having already taken into their consideration, needs no more mention; whatever new springs up that may in the least affect or prejudice the Trade or Navigation of Great Britain, shall be narrowly inspected & annual returns of your Lordships querries constantly sent. In the meantime I have the honor to be, with the greatest respect imaginable,

My Lords,

Your Lord'pps most obedient & most humble servant.

Wheat is the staple of this Province, and tho' that commodity seems literally to interfere with the product of Great Britain, it do's not so in fact, for it's generally manufactured into flower and bread, and sent to supply the sugar Collony's, and whenever a markt in Spain, Portugal or other parts of Europe has encouraged the sending it thither in Grain; the adventurers have often suffered by the undertaking, for at this remote distance, the intelligence of a demand reaches us so late, that the markets are supplied before our vessells come there, and even if it were otherwise, our merchants lye under vast and certain disadvantages besides, for freight of wheat from hence in time of warr was at least two shillings and sixpence, and in time of peace is eighteen pence sterling per bushell, and by the length of the passage it often grows musty, at least cannot come so fresh to market as from Great Britain; whence freights (as it's said) are not above one quarter part of what they are here.

The main bent of our farmers is to raise wheat, and they are like to remain in that way until the price of it becomes so low, that necessity puts upon some other way of cultivation; which in process of time is like to happen, because the sugar Islands cannot increase in the proportion which the Northern Collonys do, and whether some other encouragement may bring them over sooner, I cannot affirm.

In this Collony are a great many lands extream fit for hemp, and there is not one farm in it but has land proper to raise flax; but little more of either is raised than what is for private use; the former they apprehend to require more hands than they have to spare, and labor is so dear that they cannot afford to hire people for that purpose. Nor do they (as I believe) well understand how to rost [rot ?] and dress it.

Tar, Pitch and Turpentine may be got here, but more plentifully in some of the other Northern Collonys, in greater quantitys than can be made use of by the Navy or Nation of Great Britain, if the price at home will encourage it, which I am informed it has not done for several years past, notwithstanding the bounty allowed on the importation.

I am told your Lordships formerly sent hither the method used in Russia for making of tar, and that upon tryal thereof it was found not to answer here, which is attributed more to the difference of the nature of their pitch pine, and that of this Country, than to the unskillfulness of our people.

In the Jerseys is an extraordinary rich mine and some others are discovered there which afford a good prospect, but in this Province none have as yet been discovered, tho' a good deal of money has been expended in search of them. Some lead mines have been found in several parts of this Collony, but they hitherto not by farr quitted the cost expended on them, and if they happen to prove good, I believe the proprietor will rather send it home in Oar than be at the charge to erect smelt houses here.

We have a great many Iron mines both of the bogg, and of the Mountain Oar, but as yet no Iron Work is set up in this Province if any encouragement was given upon the importing of it in Piggs and Barrs, at least that it might be free of dutys. It is very probable that in a few years the nation might be amply supplied from her own Plantations, and it is evident that the whole amount thereof wo'd be paid in the manufactures of Great Britain, who now pays ready money (as I am informed) for the greatest part of the Iron it has now from Sweden.

I am Informed that when the Dutch were in possession of this Collony they sett up a Potash work at vast expence, but found it wo'd not answer. About twenty-five years agoe it was attempted here again at the expence of a Gentleman in London, but dropt for the same reason, and a like essay is lately set on foot in Jersey, which it is feared will be attended with the same fate.

ANSWER OF THE COLLECTOR OF NEW YORK TO QUERIES OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.—1747.

The referred queries from the Lords of Trade and Plantations and the required Answer from the Collector of the Customs here as by direction of his Excellency the Governour of His Majtys Province, vizt,

From British Colonies: enumerated commodities, Rum, Limejuice, snuff, piemento sulphur, straw-plat, deer-skins, conch-shells, mahogany, ebony and Negroes. From Europe and both English and Foreign settlements in America together in Africa: Salt.
What trade has the Province under your Governmt with any Foreign Plantations					First: The Country people here have for many years, & yet their home spun (so termed) of wool & flax to supply themselves somewhat with the necessaries of clothing, etc. From the year 1715 or thereabouts, have been raised Linsced & milled into oil: hats made of Beaver-fur, the exporting whereof prevented by the Act, from Michelmas 1732, also Lamp Black work'd up. From the year 1730 Sugar backing & its refining have been for home consumption, & transportation hence to other districts on the Continent & to the West Indies by regular certificates, & latterly the distilling of Rum & other Spirits, for there are three houses erected. In this Province are mines of Iron & Lead ores, the manufacturing of which have been of late proposed & the raising of Hemp likewise. Lastly: of these several besides, of grain of all sorts & other provisions, with Tobacco a diminutive quantity naturally produced out of this soil, yet being with such like brought hither from the Eastern & Western parts of this continent are saleable & indeed abroad cannot be distinguished as to ascertain the annual exporting of their value: neither practicable could it be from the imports thereof separated; because their prices according to the Markets currently vary in the respective species.

From Africa, within the proper limits directed, Negroes now less than formerly bro't hither. From Madeira: Wines the growth thereof. From Northern & Southern parts of this Continent: Cyder, Oil, Blubber, Whale-fins, flax-seed, hops, Flax, Bricks, Seal-Skins & certain Wrought Iron, Brasury & Tin. Lastly from Plantations not under His Majesties Dominions: small quantities of Molasses, Sugar & Rum, since the Act imposing new duties thereon, Sunff, Lign'vitate, Indico, Log-wood & other dyeing wood, cotton wool, cocoa nuts, etc.

From the Admiralty Court adjudicated upon proper certifying. To Madeira & Azores: Grain and other provisions, Bee-wax and staves. To English districts North & South of this Continent & West Indies: provisions, chocolate, lumber, European & India goods with those species enumerated & such others as brought here for export regularly. Lastly: to the neutral Ports: as St. Thomas, Caracoo & Surrenhaim: provisions, Lumber & Horses with provinder.

These on each column are particularized into the quarterly lists of Trading Vessels; the transmitting whereof to their Lordships, is from the Naval Officer here, constituted by the Governour & also such Lists duly to their Honours the Commissioners of the Customs from their Officers, hence, thereby may appear, that within the queries mentioned, time, how the increase or diminution differ each respectively.

Such as are prescribed in the principal Laws of trade & aptly used hereat, whereby to effect the intended preventing any what contrary to those Laws: & that upon any breach thereof carefully inquired after by the deputed officers, process is issued against the same in the Vice Admiralty: or it happening sometimes in the Courts of records of this Province, for the Recovery of the subjected penalty on the fraud or abuse committed.

What methods are there used to prevent illegal Trade, and are the same effectual?

Gov. Clinton's Certificate about Iron Rolling Mills, etc , 1750.

[Lond. Doc. XXIX.]

By His Excellency Honble George Clinton, Captain General, and Governor in Chief of the Province of New York and territories thereon depending in America, Vice Admiral of the same, and Admiral of the White Squadron of His Majesty's Fleet.

In Obedience to an Act of Parliament, Entitled " An Act to Encourage the Importation of Pig and Bar Iron from His Colonys in America, and to prevent the erection of any Mill or other Engine for Sliting or Rolling of Iron, or any plating Forge to work with a Felt Hammer, or any Furnace for making Steel in any of the said Colonys," passed in the twenty-third year of His Majesty's Reign, His said Excellency doth hereby certify, that there is erected within the said Province, in the County of Orange, at a place called Wawaganda, about twenty-six miles from Hudson's River, one plateing Forge to work with a Tilt Hammer, which belongs to Lawrence Serauley, of the said County, a Blacksmith ; has been built about four or five years, and is not at present made use. And further, that there are not erected in his said Excellency's Government, any other, or more plateing Forges to work with a Tilt Hammer, or any Mill or Mills, or other Engine, for sliting or Rolling of Iron, or any Furnace or Furnaces for making Steel. In testimony whereof, his said Excellency hath subscribed these Presents, and caused the Great Seal of the Province of New York to be hereunto affixed, at Fort George, in the city of New York, the fourteenth day of December, in the year of Our Lord one thousand seven hundred and fifty, and in the twenty-fourth year of his Majesty's Reign.

New York, 1st December, 1757.

MY LORDS,—I had the honour of your Lordship's letter of the 9th of June, directing me forthwith upon the receipt thereof, to take the most effectual method for obtaining an account of the quantity of Iron made in this Province, from the year 1749 to the 5th of January, 1756. I accordingly wrote to Mr. Robert Livingston, who has the only Iron work in this Province which is carried on, & I send your Lordship enclosed the account I received from him, as soon as it came to my hands. This country abounds in Iron ore, especially in the Highlands, and several works have been begun, but were dropt through the mismanagement or inability of the undertakers. Of these were two Furnaces in the Mannor of Cortlandt, & several Bloomeries; but they have not been worked for several years past. It is probable, after the war upon the encouragement, the Parliament of Great Britain are giving the Colonies in this Article, these and several others will be carried on in this Province.

I have the honor to be your Lordship's

COUNCIL MIN. XXVI.

At a Council held at Fort George, in the City of New York, on Friday, the 7th day of Novr., 1766.

Present—His Excellency Sir Henry Moore, Baronet, Capt. Genl., &c., Mr. Horsmanden, Mr. Read, Mr. Apthorpe, Mr. Smith, Mr. Morris.

His Excellency communicated to the Council a Letter to him of the 1st of August from the Right Hon'ble the Lord Commissioners for Trade & Plantations, requiring his Excellency, in Pursuance of the Address of the House of Commons to His Majesty on the 27 March last, and of His Majesty's Commands thereupon, forthwith to prepare and transmit to their Lordships, in order to be laid before the House of Commons at their next Sessions, a particular and exact Account of the several Manufactures, &c. [As in the preceding Letter.]

The Council declared, that no manufactures had been set up within this Colony since that period, or received any public encouragement, nor did they know of any Manufacture of Wool, or Woolen Cloth, but what was principally confined to private Families, for their own particular consumption.

Gov. Moore to the Lords of Trade.

[Lond. Doc. XL.]

Fort George, New York, 12th Jan'y, 1767.

MY LORDS:—Having rec'd your Lordships' commands, in a letter dated the first of August last, in which I was directed to prepare and transmit, as soon as possible, an account of the Several Manufactures set up and carried on within this Colony, since the year 1734, I took the liberty of giving Mr. Peter Hansenclaver a Letter of Introduction to your Lordships, as he was then ready to sail for England, imagining that, from his character and knowledge of the Country, a more perfect Account might be obtained from him of what was required in the beforementioned Letter than I could possibly give by that opportunity. I have since made all the Inquiries I could; and the whole of the Information given to me may be reduced to the following Heads:

There is a small Manufactory of Linen in this City, under the Conduct of one Wells, and supported chiefly by the Subscriptions of a set of men who call themselves the Society of Arts and Agriculture. No more than fourteen Looms are employed in it; and it was established in order to give Bread to several poor families which were a considerable charge to the city, and are now comfortably supported by their own daily Labour in Spinning of Flax. It does not appear that there is any established Fabric of Broad Cloath here; and some poor Weavers from Yorkshire, who came over lately in expectation of being engaged to make Broad Cloths, could find no Employment. But there is a general Manufactory of Woollen carried on here, and consists of two sorts, the first a coarse cloth, entirely woollen,  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a yard wide; and another, a stuff which they call Linsey Woolsey. The Warp of this is Linen, and the Wool Woollen; and a very small quantity of it is ever sent to market. Last year, when the Riots and Disorders here were at their height, on the occasion of the Stamp Act, these manufactures were greatly boasted of, and the quantity then made greatly magnified by those who were desirous of distinguishing themselves as American Patriots, and would wear nothing else. They were sometimes sold for three times their value; but the manufacturers themselves shewed that they had more good sense than the persons who employed them, for they never clothed themselves with the work of their own hands; but readily brought it to market, and selling it at an extravagant price there, bought English Cloth for themselves and their families.

The custom of making these Coarse Cloths in private families prevails throughout the whole Province, and almost in every House a sufficient quantity is manufactured for the use of the family, without the least design of sending any of it to market. This I had an opportunity of seeing in the late Tour I made, and had the same accounts given me by all those persons of whom I made any inquiry, for every house swarms with children, who are set to work as soon as they are able to Spin and Card, and as every family is furnished with a Loom, the Itinerant Weavers who travel about the Country, put the finishing hand to the Work.

There is a Manufactory of Hats in this City, which is very considerable; for the Hats are not so good as those made in England and are infinitely dearer. Under such disadvantages as these, it is easy to imagine with what difficulty it is supported, and how short the duration of it is like to be; the Price of Labour is so great in this part of the world, that it will always prove the greatest obstacal to any Manufactures attempted to be set up here, and the genius of the People in a Country where every one can have Land to work upon leads them so naturally into Agriculture, that it prevails over every other occupation. There can be no stronger Instances of this than in the Servants imported from Europe of different Trades; as soon as the time stipulated in their Indentures is Expired, they immediately quit their masters and get a small tract of Land, in settling which for the first three or four years they lead miserable lives, and in the most abject Poverty; but all this is patiently borne, and submitted to with the greatest cheerfulness; the satisfaction of being Landholders smooths every difficulty, and makes them prefer this manner of living to that comfortable subsistence which they could procure for themselves and their families by working at the Trades in which they were brought up.

The Master of a Glass-house which was set up here a few years, ago now a Bankrupt, assured me that his ruin was owing to no other cause than being deserted in this manner by the Servants, which he had imported at a great expense; and that many others had suffered and been reduced, as he was, by the same kind of misfortune.

The little Foundry lately set up near this Town for making small Iron Potts is under the direction of a few private persons, as yet very inconsiderable.

As to the Foundaries which Mr. Hasenclaver has set up in the different parts of this Country, I do not mention them, as he will be able to give your Lordships a full account of them and of the progress he has already made; can only say that I think this Province is under very great obligations to him for the large sums of money he has laid out here in promoting the Cultivation of Hemp, and introducing the valuable Manufacture of Iron and Pot Ash.

I have the honor to be, &c.

H. MOORE.

Governor Moore to Lord Hillsborough.

[Lond. Doc. XLI.]

FORT GEORGE, New York, 7 May, 1768.

MY LORD--I have the honor to transmit to your Lordship the copy of a letter I wrote in the beginning of the last year to the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, in answer to a letter I received from their Lordships in consequence of the Address of the House of Commons to His Majesty concerning the Manufactures of this Country, dated March 27th, 1766. Another copy of this Address has been enclosed to me in your Lordship's Letter, marked No. 3, to which I must make the same answer, as the Progress of Manufactures in this part of the world by no means corresponds with the pompous accounts given of them in the public papers.

No mention is made in the former Letter of the great quantities of Leather being tanned in this country as this branch of business has been carried on for many years; the leather is greatly inferior in quality to that made in Europe; and they are not yet arrived to the perfection of making sole leather.

Your Lordship may be assured that I shall, from time to time, give every due information required in this Address, and be particularly attentive to any new establishments of which we have no instances since my last letter, except in the paper-mill begun to be erected within these few days, at a small distance from the Town.

I am, &c.

H. MOORE.

THE TONTINE BUILDING.

THIS edifice stands on the north-west corner of Wall and Water streets, in this city. It was commenced in, or about 1792, by an Association of merchants, and completed in, or about 1794, for the purpose of providing suitable accommodation for the common convenience, and centre for the daily intercourse, of the mercantile community. By the constitution under which such association was formed, 203 shares were subscribed for, at $200 a share, severally depending upon a life selected by each subscriber, who stated, in the memorandum accompanying such subscription, the age, sex, and parentage of the respective nominees, during whose natural existence he was to receive his equal proportion of the net income of the establishment.

Upon the death of the nominee, the subscriber's interest ceased, and his interest became thereby merged in the owners of the surviving nominees. The original shares were assignable, and held as personal estate, and the whole property was vested in five trustees, who were to be continued in the manner pointed out in the above constitution, and who were to hold the same until the number of such nominees were reduced to seven, when the holders of the shares, contingent upon these surviving nominees, become entitled to a conveyance in fee by trustees of the entire premises, to be equally divided between them.

The nominee himself did not necessarily have an interest in the Association; for each subscriber, in naming some person—generally a child—looked to such as had the promise of “length of days.”

The plan of this Association originated from the scheme of Lorenzi Tonti, a Neapolitan, who introduced it into France in 1653, under Louis the XIV., and hence the word Tontine came to designate “a loan advanced by a number of associated capitalists for life annuities, with benefit to survivorship.”

There is, however, a distinction between the present plan and the scheme of Tonti. His intent was the establishment of a company who should each contribute a like amount of capital, to be loaned to a responsible party, at a certain rate of interest, which was to be divided equally between the members of the same age; but where there was a diversity of age, according to a fixed ratio, the elder received more and the younger less. As the members died off, the survivors absorbed their respective interests, and when the last survivor died the borrower took the whole capital.

But in the plan of this Tontine Association, the owners of the seven surviving shares, depending upon a like number of lives, take the whole property in equal proportion to their surviving nominees; and, as in this case, all the nominees are dead, who represented several interests from the circumstance of their selection by different subscribers, the remaining shares are now respectively represented by, and depending upon, a similar number of lives, which, in May, 1851, were reduced to sixty.

The above constitution bears date on the 4th of June, 1794, but the nominations by the subscribers were not completed until March, 1795. The Association, in their preamble, named the building the Tontine Cof-

Copied for

THE TONTINE BUILDING.

THIS edifice stands on the north-west corner of Wall and Water streets, in this city. It was commenced in, or about 1792, by an Association of merchants, and completed in, or about 1794, for the purpose of providing suitable accommodation for the common convenience, and centre for the daily intercourse, of the mercantile community. By the constitution under which such association was formed, 203 shares were subscribed for, at $200 a share, severally depending upon a life selected by each subscriber, who stated, in the memorandum accompanying such subscription, the age, sex, and parentage of the respective nominees, during whose natural existence he was to receive his equal proportion of the net income of the establishment.

Upon the death of the nominee, the subscriber's interest ceased, and his interest became thereby merged in the owners of the surviving nominees. The original shares were assignable, and held as personal estate, and the whole property was vested in five trustees, who were to be continued in the manner pointed out in the above constitution, and who were to hold the same until the number of such nominees were reduced to seven, when the holders of the shares, contingent upon these surviving nominees, become entitled to a conveyance in fee by trustees of the entire premises, to be equally divided between them.

The nominee himself did not necessarily have an interest in the Association; for each subscriber, in naming some person—generally a child—looked to such as had the promise of "length of days."

The plan of this Association originated from the scheme of Lorenzi Tonti, a Neapolitan, who introduced it into France in 1653, under Louis the XIV., and hence the word Tontine came to designate "a loan advanced by a number of associated capitalists for life annuities, with benefit to survivorship."

There is, however, a distinction between the present plan and the scheme of Tonti. His intent was the establishment of a company who should each contribute a like amount of capital, to be loaned to a responsible party, at a certain rate of interest, which was to be divided equally between the members of the same age; but where there was a diversity of age, according to a fixed ratio, the elder received more and the younger less. As the members died off, the survivors absorbed their respective interests, and when the last survivor died the borrower took the whole capital.

But in the plan of this Tontine Association, the owners of the seven surviving shares, depending upon a like number of lives, take the whole property in equal proportion to their surviving nominees; and, as in this case, all the nominees are dead, who represented several interests from the circumstance of their selection by different subscribers, the remaining shares are now respectively represented by, and depending upon, a similar number of lives, which, in May, 1851, were reduced to sixty.

The above constitution bears date on the 4th of June, 1794, but the nominations by the subscribers were not completed until March, 1795. The Association, in their preamble, named the building the Tontine Coffee-house, and it was thereby directed to be kept and used as a coffee-house. But on the opening of the Exchange, a little higher up in Wall street, the interests of the shareholders demanding a change in this special appropriation, they applied to the Court of Chancery for permission to let the premises for general purposes; and by its decree in 1834 the above restrictions were removed.

Subsequently, doubts having arisen respecting the validity of the trusts, under which the trustees took and held the property, in consequence of the Revised Statutes on the subject, the Legislature, in 1843, passed an act confirming the same, and altered the name to the Tontine Building, and directed that the management of the affairs of the concern be by "The Committee of the Tontine Building," who receive, besides their other duties, the income from the establishment, and divide the net proceeds on the second Tuesday in each month of May among the owners of the shares, depending on the nominees alive on the previous past day of the same month.

This Association, on the 4th of June, 1852, will have existed fifty-eight years. In examining the statistics in reference to the successive diminution of shares by death, the interesting fact is disclosed, that the lapse of shares, from year to year, is in proportion, with slight variation, to the relative number of both males and females. The existence of so many of the nominees, after such a lapse of time, is admitted, by the compilers of annuity tables, here and abroad, to be very unusual, if not unprecedented; but it should be recollected that the nominees originally selected were children of persons in easy circumstances; and that these were not, in general, subjected to the exposure and privations incident to the masses, the average of whose lives forms the basis of the usual calculations on this subject.

From an interesting article on the subject of this association, published by the Journal of Commerce about a year since, we make the following extract:—

"There are few, however, whose age links them to the olden time, when it was the chief centre of the commercial interests, who cannot recall scenes within its walls 'the like whereof we ne'er shall see again.' A public meeting convened within its roof, sent forth a decision which was almost universally respected. As a single instance of this let us turn back for forty years, when the habit of distributing expensive scarfs to bearers and others at ordinary funerals was so prevalent, that many poor families were sorely pinched to provide this necessary mark of respect for a departed relative. Some benevolent individuals, seeing the evil influence of such a fashion, called a meeting at the Coffee-house, when nearly two hundred of those whose weight of character gave force to their decisions, signed a pledge to abstain from the custom of distributing scarfs, except to the attendant ministers and physicians. This was the death-knell of the oppressive fashion. In matters of more vital moment, when great public interests were at stake, a voice has gone out from the said Coffee-house, which, like a recent echo from Castle Garden, has been heard throughout the length and breadth of the land. Some of the noblest charities, too, which the world has ever witnessed, received their first contributions beneath this time-hallowed roof.

"But the history of this organization is highly instructing in another point of view. The longevity of the nominees has been remarkable, we believe, beyond any similar experiment of the kind ever witnessed. It is true that the circumstances, under which their names were selected, would naturally lead us to expect for them a longer average period of existence, but this average has been so far extended as to be quite extraordinary. Of the 203, whose names were handed in about fifty-seven years ago, 60 still survive! Of these, the youngest is about 58 and the oldest 79. This is about one-third greater longevity than the average of European estimates. Only five of the nominees died in 1850, or one in every 15, which, considering their average age, was very remarkable. In this connection we may digress for a moment to speak of the greater age which the majority of people in easy circumstances throughout this State attain, as compared with those of other countries. About fifteen years ago, a gentleman, then President of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, wishing to ascertain some particulars upon which to base calculations for a safe rate of premiums for life insurance, addressed 5,000 circulars with tabular forms annexed, to as many different families, asking that the tables be filled, and returned to him. Of these about 3,000 were returned completed, showing an average longevity greater than was ever before exhibited in an actual compilation since 'the days of man was shortened.' Unfortunately the papers have not been preserved, but they were forwarded to London at the time they were first recorded, and excited universal astonishment. It is easy to see that from the character of those who would answer the Circular, the families must be selected from among those whose circumstances were most favorable to longevity; but they embraced all professions and occupations, and bore the marks of great care in preparation."

The subscribers who originated the scheme, and their companions of those days, have left to their successors, however, a better legacy than the old coffee-house—a name for integrity and probity—an example of industry, liberality and promise-keeping, which cannot be valued too highly. May their spirits never be wanting in those who bear the enviable name of New York merchants, which they render so illustrious.

The view accompanying this article, of this interesting old building, (taken in 1797,) which is said to be nearly the only one left standing in Wall street, which was erected during the last century, will present, to many, reminiscences connected with this busy thoroughfare, like those associates with the pleasant faces of long absent periods, again returned to greet us with their welcomes and their smiles. Here, it is said, died the renowned Cook, that eminent tragedian, whose delineations of the tragic muse, in his day, was without competition; surrounded by many of his contemporaries, patrons of the house, who continued with him in that last act in the drama of his eventful life. Hither men from every section of the country were attracted by its reputation; and they regarded a visit to the Tontine, in those days, as essential to the comforts and agreeability of their temporary sojourn in this city.

Mark now the changes which a few short years have produced in this growing and populous metropolis. The spirit of the age is in the breathings of the iron horse, and in the glowing movements of the wonder-working Press. Here, night and day, George F. Nesbitt & Co., from their extensive steam-printing and stationery establishment, supply the wants of this vast commercial community with promptitude and dispatch, and have added to the renown of this relic of a past age, by their well-appointed, efficient and thoroughly established printing-house, which transmits through the commercial houses of this city and elsewhere information connected with the trade, the resources, the supplies, and the wants of almost every part of the habitable globe.

THE ARRIVAL OF HENRY HUDSON AT SANDY HOOK.

LITTLE is known of the eventful life of the celebrated navigator, Henry Hudson, except that he was an Englishman, born in 1659, of good education, and an experienced and bold seaman. He early entered into a maritime life, and soon attained a distinguished rank in his profession. He resided in London, and had a family; and his only son, a youth of great promise, shared with him in all his perils. His first voyage of discovery was in 1607, when he sailed from Gravesend to the coast of Greenland, and made important discoveries, and returned in safety. The next year he made a voyage to the northern regions. Both of the foregoing voyages were made by him in the employment of a company of merchants at London; but they not wishing his services any longer, Hudson went to Holland, and entered into the service of the Dutch East India Company, who provided him with a small ship called the Half Moon, and a crew of twenty men. He left Amsterdam on the 4th of April, 1609, and after sailing along the coast of America, and touching in different places, he entered the bay inside of Sandy Hook, on the 3d of September, and devoted one month to the exploring of the coast in the vicinity, and in ascending the river that bears his name. His narrative is full of interest, and his voyage and adventures up the river, and his intercourse with the natives, are told in a faithful and descriptive manner, but our limits will not admit of any minute details. The reader that is desirous of any further information on this subject, is referred to the eloquent description in Moulton's History of this State, which does full justice to it.

The island of Manhattan, at that period, presented a rough aspect; a thick forest covered those parts of it where vegetation could find support; its beach was broken and rocky, and had several inlets; the interior was hilly, with occasional rocks, swamps and ponds. All traces of this roughness have long since disappeared from the southern part of the island, where the city is now built, and great inroads have been made on all sides into the waters of the harbor; but to the curious, a lively idea may still be given of what was formerly the appearance on the city's site, by examining the interior of the island, five or six miles north, on the middle road, or the Third and Eighth avenues, especially the latter, and also on the banks of the Hudson and East rivers, by which may be discovered the immense labor and expense that have been bestowed, by preceding generations, in altering the natural appearance of this island.

Hudson, on his return, was forced to put into England by his crew, of whom a part were natives of that country; and he subsequently perished on a voyage to the great bay that bears his name, by the mutiny of some of his sailors.

A portrait of this distinguished navigator is in the City Hall, painted in 1592, when he was 23 years of age. He is represented with a frill round his neck, and holding a compass in his hand; he has a youthful and very interesting appearance. It was deposited by an ancient Dutch family, and is of undoubted originality.—Goodrich's Picture of New York.

RICHMOND HILL HOUSE,

Of which the above is an engraving, stood at the corner of Varick and Charlton streets, and has associated with it many interesting events of former days. It was occupied, during the Revolutionary War, as a country residence, by Sir Guy Carlton, Lord Dorchester, and several other distinguished noblemen, and has been the scene of many a gay party. After the war it came into the possession of Colonel Aaron Burr, who resided there for many years;—here it was that he killed himself in the use of the pistol, by dint of daily practice, for the purpose of meeting General Alexander Hamilton in a duel, the unfortunate result of which was the death of Hamilton. This event caused much feeling against Burr, and he was obliged to seek safety from a summary expression of the indignation that was generally entertained against him, in flight to a foreign land. It has since been used as a theatre and public house, and has been much altered of late years to adapt it to modern taste, and has also been lowered over twenty feet, to conform to the grade of surrounding streets.

The Compiler is indebted to CASPER C. CHILDS, Esq., for the following extract, relating to Battles fought in America, from his invaluable work entitled, "Trensury of Knowledge."

KIP'S MANSION.

THE edifice represented in the above print was erected by Jacobus Kip, the first Secretary to the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens in New Amsterdam (an office similar to that of Clerk of the Common Council of the present day). Jacobus Kip was appointed secretary in 1653. The following year he married, and built a dwelling-house on his plantation at Kip's Bay, on the East River. The first house was destroyed in 1696; and the mansion above illustrated was erected upon its site. Five generations of the family have been born upon these premises. On the opening of Thirty-fifth street, within a few years past, the destruction of this ancient edifice became necessary, and scarcely a vestige of it now remains.

The first landing of the British, at the taking of this island in the revolutionary war, was at Kip's Bay.

Coenraat ten Eyck, Joost Goderus, Stoffel van Laar, & Hendrick Jawzen van der Vin, appear in court to testify the truth regarding the riot which occurred on the 19th instant

The above-named Coenraat ten Eyck declares to have been standing on the bridge, where some children came, who said there come three soldiers, who say that they will clear the street; which soldiers coming on the bridge, said (as far as he could understand,) Let every one go home and attend to his business. One of them drawing his sword from its scabbard, attacked him, whereupon he ran away; offering, if need be, and he is required, to confirm the same on oath.

And the above-named Joost Goderus, City Burgher, aged, as far as he knows, six or seven and thirty years, declares that he was standing on the Bridge about seven o'clock in the evening of the 19th of this instant June, and saw three soldiers come on the Bridge, one of whom drew his sword, striking Coenraat ten Eyck, Joost Carlesen, and him three blows, whereupon Hendrick Obe, constable, charged him to go to the Fort, to call the soldiers; and having been a little way in the street, he stopped and saw that they had drawn their swords, and struck the aforesaid constable, and that the said constable called for help, whereupon he, deponent, returning back, took up some stones to go to his aid, and saw that one Jouck Kerel came running out the house of Tomas Kocks, who fired with his gun, whereupon the soldiers left the above-named constable; declaring further, that the soldier who struck him, Joost Carelsen, and Coenraat ten Eyck, was freckled in the face, having on a blue shirt, and was the first to commence the game, offering to confirm this his declaration by oath, if need be, and he is required.

Further, Stoffel van Laar, Burgher of this city, aged twenty-six years, declared that he was standing on the Bridge, near Hans Dreppers, about seven o'clock in the evening of the date aforesaid, when three soldiers came to sit on said Bridge, one of whom stood up and drew his sword, driving the boys from the Bridge, after which he ran at Coenraat ten Eyck, who, having retreated, he followed him and struck him; whereupon, going away, he went to stand on the strand, and thereupon the above-named soldiers went to Hendrick Obe, and that some called for help for the said Hendrick, whereupon he, with others, went to him, and saw that he was all wounded, and that he retired, offering also to confirm his declaration, if necessary, and he be required on oath.

And the aforesaid Hendrick Jansen vander Vin, Burgher of this City, old about fifty years, declares that he was standing on Nicolas Backer's stoop, after the trouble had ceased between the soldiers and sailors, and saw two soldiers coming from the Fort, one of whom, apparently much excited, drew his sword, and went to the Bridge where many folks were standing, among others, Hendrick Obe, the Constable, and that the soldiers drove away the boys who were standing about the Bridge; after which, coming on the Bridge, they also drove away the people who were standing on both sides of the Bridge, striking them with the naked swords; and that Hendrick Obe stood by one of the soldiers, at the corner of Hendrick, the Backer's fence, speaking to him, and held him by his coat, and, as well as he could remark, would have the soldier accompany him; whereupon the two soldiers fell on the aforesaid Hendrick, struck him with all their might with the naked swords, and assaulted him in such a manner that he was obliged to retire; and he saw when the aforesaid Hendrick had retired to Jacob the Baker's corner, that one soldier ran after him with a gun, and discharged the same, and further hath not seen; offering to confirm on oath, if necessary, and he is required.

Lodowyck Pas, his wife and daughter (the wife of Arent Juriaansen Lantsman) entering, the aforesaid Lantsman's wife requests to be divorced from her husband, as she cannot keep house with him.

Were told to postpone the matter until the next court day, when the said Lantsman is to be heard, and the aforesaid Lodowyck Pas was allowed to retain his daughter with him during that time.

This day, after the usual ringing of the City Hall bell three times, is published a certain proclamation regarding the confiscation of the West India Company's effects, in consequence of the Company inflicting all sorts of injury on his Royal Majesty's subjects; pursuant to the proclamation prints thereof.

Isaack de Forrest entering, demands an attachment against the person of Francis Douty for a debt he claims of him.

The Petition is granted; and tis decreed that Francis Douty shall remain in this city, or give bail for fl.500.

Pl't says that the defendant being arrested on the 7th June last by Chas Ver Craick, broke his arrest and went Fort Orange; concludes therefore that Def't shall be condemned in a fine of fl.60 according to placard. Def't answering says that pursuant to the order of the Court dated 6 June last he then applied to the Heer Timotheus Gabrie old Schepeu at whose instance the Court had ordered the ac. in dispute between him and the S Verbraeck to be examined by Sums Christoffel Hooglant and Clars Lock but no ac could be got as Verbraeck was then absent.

LODOWYCK PAS, Plt'ff, }

ARENT JUNIAANSEN LANTSMAN, Def't. }

Plt'ff, complaining as Father of Beletie Lodowyex, maketh known the unchristian and insufferable treatment and behaviour of the Defendant towards the aforesaid Beletie Lodowyex, the Defendant's lawful wife, to this end exhibiting divers alterations and declarations executed by various credible Persons in the Premises, demanding that Def't, shall be condemned in such penalty as the magistrates shall deem on the merits proper; and, further, that his said daughter, Beletie Jacobsen, be not constrained to return again to her husband against her will.

Def't, answering, denies that he improperly treated his wife, Beletie Jacobsen; but says has different words, whereof said Lodowyck Pas and his wife were the principal cause, exhibiting a declaration to this effect, requesting that his wife be obliged to return again to him, promising to live henceforward with her as man and wife ought to do.

Plt'ff, replying, says that he hath now been full three different times before the Court regarding the improper treatment of his daughter by the Defend't, and he each time promised amendment, but never performed his promise; persists, therefore, in his entered suit.

The Heeren Deputy Mayor and Aldermanen having heard the debates of parties on both sides and examined the produced papers and documents, postpone the decision to the next court day, and, meanwhile, their worships shall authorize some honorable and fitting person to reconcile, if possible, the parties to love and friendship; if not, to report their action to the Court. Ady as above.

Nota.—The acte of authorization stands herewith registered. This for memorandum.

Mr. Harman Wessels entering, requests that the attachment issued by him in Jan Damen's goods, in the hands of Seervyn Laurensen, may be declared valid.

Fiat quod Petitur. Ady as above.

Greitje Jans being sent for by the Court at the City Hall, on the complaints of the surgeon and others touching scandalous, irregular, whorish, and evil life and behaviour, is informed (whereas she now being with child is excused from further corporal punishment, which she well deserves) that she must depart within 14 days or three weeks' time from this city, on pain of bodily correction, as above.

Whereas, now at divers times complaints have been lodged before the Court of this City against the unbecoming comportment and irregular house-keeping of Arent Jureansen Lantsman, which ought to be corrected, as an example to others. This, however, has, as yet, been deferred at his earnest entreaties and promise of amendment. But, whereas, instead of amendment, serious complaints are made de novo of the late behaviour observed by him towards his wife, as more fully can be seen by the declarations produced; and though there is now reason sufficient to make an exemplary correction in the premises, yet, on the proposition of some of his friends, we yet abstain from any extreme measures, but have referred him and his wife, as we do hereby refer them, to the reverend Dome. Johannes Megapolenses and Dome. Samuel Driesius, who are requested to arrange, if possible, the question between Arent Juriaens Lamitsman and his wife, and to reconcile them: then, on the promise of amendment, and that such should not again occur, shall the past be forgiven; but if one or the other party will not abide by, nor submit to advice and arbitration of the Revd. preachers dominus Megapolensis and Driesius between this and the next Court day, then proceedings may be expected according to the Style and custom of law, as an example to other evil housekeepers. Marretie Cornelis and Tomas Lourens' wife being called in, declare they know not what the above-named Josyn Verhagen had said, as they were occupied about their own business.

Pl't'ff demands from Def't 45 gl in Zewan balance of account.

Def't admits the debt, but says he has not been, hitherto, in circumstances to pay.

The Heeren Major and Aldermannen having heard the demand and the Def't's acknowledgment condemn the Def't to satisfy the Pl't'ff within two months from this time. Ady as above.

BARENT HARMENS, Plt'ff, }
against
 FAMIS DAVIS, Def't. }

Plt'f wife appearing says that her husband being at Onckeway with Famis Davis agreed together with one Paemer of Auckeway to aid in driving some cattle from there hither for the sum of 4 guilders per day in seawan and whereas said Paemer was forbidden to drive them here and so refused detaining her husband from day to day, he was under the necessity of coming here without the cattle, having been out six days, requesting that def't shall be ordered to pay her accordingly.

Def't answering says that Plt'f is the cause that his cattle were not brought, denies therefore that he owes any thing, as he had agreed with him to aid in driving the cattle, but requests that the same may be postponed to the arrival of said Paemer as he is expected here every day then to be better able to prove his statement.

The Heeren Mayor and Aldermannen having heard the debates of Parties order Def't to deposit the money with the Sec'y Nicolass Bayard until the above named Paemer coming here shall furnish further explanation and proof when further order shall be given according to the merits of the case.

Arent Juriaensen Lantsman entering in Court communicates by petition in substance that he and his wife were, pursuant to the order of the Heeren Major and Aldermannen, dated 4th inst., with the Revd Ministers Dae Johannes Megapolensis and Dae Samuel Drusius, but that his wife's Parents would not come to any agreement nor listen nor submit to the advice or arbitration of the venerable ministers requesting therefore that the Court would please order his wife to return to him as he could not any longer live without his wife, promising again to live with her as honest man ought to do.

Whereupon Arent Juriaensen Lantsman wife appearing assisted by her Father, Lodowyck Pas, and the above request having been read to her and being asked if for this time she would not go with her husband on the promise of amendment given by him.

Answers no. as he had already repeatedly promised the same, but never kept it.

The Heeren Mayor and Aldermanen having heard the agreements on both sides, and considered the declarations and other documents produced, Declare that they have contributed all in their power, as well through the clergymen as otherwise to reconcile parties in love and friendship, but all in vain; and whereas by divers declarations as otherwise it is sufficiently apparent to their worship that the parents to wit Lodowyck Pas 2nd his wife are the chief and principal cause of the trouble which has arisen between the parties, they therefore order hereby the aforesaid Lodowyck Pas not to detain the abovenamed Beletie Lodowyck wife of Arent Juriaensen Lantsman in their house beyond 14 days within which time parties shall have to be reconciled to each other or default thereof they must again make joint application to them; and further the above named Arent Juriaensen Lantsman is hereby notified and warned that, if again, any complaint should be made of his improper behaviour he shall then be delivered over to the hands of the Honble Governor General to be punished by his Honor in such manner whether by separation from bed and board imprisonment or otherwise as by his Honor shall then be deemed proper as an example to other house-holders.

Defts answer they are willing that the accounts be made up.

Parties being heard by the Heren Major & Aldermannen, they order Defts to make up & settle the accounts which they had in partnership with each other in the Brewery & and that within eight days time. Ady as above.

Plt'ff says that he remained bail to Def't for Claes Boot and that said Boot hath now sent to Plt'ff & Hhd of Tobacco in payment of his debt, and that he hath offered the same to Def't, who hath refused it.

The Def't answers that the tobacco is not merchantable, & further, that the tobacco ought to have been paid full two years ago, and as it is now of less value than it then was, he maintains he is now bound to receive it in payment.

The Heeren Major & Aldermannen having heard parties, refer the matter in question to Sieuvs Jacob Leysler and Direk van der Clyff to inspect the Tobacco and to reconcile Parties if possible ; if not, to report their conclusion to the Court. Ady as above.

The Heeren Major & Aldermanen having read the petition, order that the matter be placed in the hands of the preceding sworne Jurymen.

Whereupon the aforesaid Judgment dated 11th instant, together with the other papers in and appertaining to the case, being considered by the jurymen, they decide that Beletie Lodowyck's wife of the aforesaid Lantsman shall return home to her husband, and that the aforesaid Lodowyck Pas shall no longer harbour the wife of the aforesaid Lantsman, without the consent of her husband, or allow others to harbour her and pay the costs herein.

The Mayor and Aldermannen, having heard and read the said verdict delivered by the Jurymen approbate the same, and order the same to be executed according as it shall appertain. Ady as above.

Jacob Vis appearing in Court, states that the late Burgomasters and Schepens of this City, on date 2d March, 1665, had referred him and Lyman Jansen Roymen, in quality of Attornies of Jan Withart to Sieure Nicolaes de Meyer & Isaacq Greveraat to examine in presence of Sieur Coussean the case in dispute between them, being for the purchase of a parcel of impure amber (amber noir) bought by said Vis and Withart in Comp'y, and if possible to decide & reconcile parties, but they could not bring it to a termination up to this time, thro' lack sufficient proof, and whereas he hath now rece'd additional proof, he requests the worh'll Court to be pleased to nominate and authorize some persons to hear the matter in question discussed, and to examine and oversee the additional proofs.

Heren Major and Aldermanen having heard the request, grant the same, and for this end accord the following acte :

WM. HALLET, Plt.

The Plt. by his declaration saith that he recd. a bil from the defft. of 3,333 lbs. of Tobacco, 40 Beavers, and £5 Silver, w<sup>ch</sup> Tobacco was to be paid with blankets at 10 gilders pr. pace, or other goods equivalent to it, and he having accation for some goods before the bil was due, & Mr. Coussean being alsoo willinge to deliver him the same, Provided that the Plt. did set his hand to the deft.'s booke, w<sup>ch</sup> he did; but when the Plt. did set his hand to the deft's booke, it was only on account of the Particulars without any price. The Plt. declares furthermore, that he did order the deft. to Pay to Luke Watson fl.252, for which summe the deft. makes him debtor without any specification of the particulars to w<sup>ch</sup> s<sup>d</sup> summe the s<sup>d</sup> Watson denyes to have Rec<sup>d</sup>, & doth yet threaten the Plt. to sue him for it; therefore he desires this honor<sup>ble</sup> Court to consider iff the s<sup>d</sup> Coussean paid monney by his order, he must proue the payment or free him from the debt; and doth further desire this honn<sup>ble</sup> Court seriously to consider the premises, & that he did not understand Dutch, nor did not knowe what he did write, al w<sup>ch</sup> more largely by his declaration may appear.

Magdalena du Tellit, in the behalf of her husband Mr. Jacques Coussean, answereth firstly, belonginge Mr. Coussean his Person, he is in this Country esteemed a person of credit and honesty, & in noe manner suspect of fraudelent dealings contrarie to the Plt's declaration, and therefore ought the Bookes of such a Marchant to have credit. It kan sufficiently appeare that Mr. Coussean doth use in his bookes a short stile moreover that Mr. Hallet did receive the goods in several sorts, soo that only in gros manner the summe is set downe without any of the particulars therein inserted or mentioned.

Besides, al this is of more Pouwer & without any controversss, that when Mr. Hallet did set his hand to Mr. Coussean's booke, by forme of acquittance, with promis to deliver the obligation backe againe, he hath confirmed all what conserninge the Plt. in the deft.'s booke was written, and therefore the oath of the Plt. to the contre cannot be sufficient in this case. But his hand & subscribinge ought to prevaile al other pretended sustenues & considerations.

Belonginge that Mr. Hallet sais he could not understand dutch, &tz. It is indisputable that Mr. Coussean doth speake English Linquo sufficient for to translate Mr. Hallet the Tennor of what he did subscribe, recitinge therefore the Plt.'s pretended sustenues & consideration, & prayeth that hur good damage might be graunted, &tz.

The honn<sup>ble</sup> Court did order that both Partyes should give in their evidences to the followinge sworne Jurymen, & doe further order the said Juries to give their Verdict uppon the same.

Verdict of the Juries in the case between Hallet and Coussean:

That the Plt. Wm. Hallet shall deliver up the deft.'s obligations & pay costs.

The honn<sup>ble</sup> Court doe give their assent & approbation to the above standinge Verdict, & doe confirm ye same as above.

The Plt. Wm. Hallet, not accepting the Court's Judgem't, appeals to the Court of Aszizes, to be held of New York on the 28th of September next.

The Plt.'s wife, in absence of her husband, doth declare that the deft. did unjustly from him the Plt.'s obligation, & prayeth therefore Judgment that the deft. shal be ordered immediately back again the obligation of the Plt. accordinge to his promis & subscribing in the Plt.'s Booke, No. 6, Fol. 100, & in case of opposition she doth demand the cost & charges, &tz.

The deftt. gives noe other answer as he declares, w<sup>ch</sup> more largely by his declaration appeare in the office of Records, filed upon the file of declarations.

The Jurs brought in y<sup>er</sup> verdict against the deftt., viz. That the deft. Wm. Hallet shal deliver up Plt.'s obligation, and to pay cost.

The honourable Court doe give their approbation to the above standinge Verdict. Ady as above.

The Plt. declares that he, on the 3<sup>d</sup> day of Aprill, 1664, did covenant with the s<sup>d</sup> deftt. for certain howse & land, &tz., situate, lyinge & beinge in N. Utreght, by w<sup>ch</sup> covent both Partyes where engaged to Performe the several conditions, in the said grant specified.

And whereas the deftt. doth not performe the covenant, not being able to make good his title to part of the land to the Plt. great damage, more than one hundred pounds sterlings.

The Plt. therefore prayeth that the Deftt. may make good his covenant, & that he may enjoy it wholly, or have his money and damage made good, and the bargaine void.

The defend<sup>t</sup>, in answer to the Plt.'s declaration, doth declare that he conveyed the above s<sup>d</sup> Land to the Plt. with domineing, servetutes & privileges, as the same by the deftt. was possessed accordinge to the ground-brief to w<sup>ch</sup> the same is referred.

But in case that the English (within the time of payment w<sup>ch</sup> was to be in foure several times) might take away and appropriate the Land to themselves, that the bargain should be void, al w<sup>ch</sup> more lardgely is expressed, & may appeare by the s<sup>d</sup> Bargain, by w<sup>ch</sup> it clearly doth appear the afores<sup>d</sup> Bargain doth speake of a General takinge away of the Land in question, & in noe manner, directly or indirectly, to form part of the same. Which Land meddows, &tz., the said Albert Alberts hath delivered to the Plt., according to the conditions in the Bargain specified, since w<sup>ch</sup> time the Inhabitants of Gravesand, upon the last general meeting at heemstead, did move question agst the Inhabitants of N. Utreght for certaine strooke of meddowe by the late meddowe, by the late Govern<sup>r</sup> and Council graunted to N. Utreght, w<sup>ch</sup> they pretended to be theirs, and is by the s<sup>d</sup> meetinge allowed to Gravesand. It is Notoir and evident that the Losse of the s<sup>d</sup> meddowe the Inhabitants of N. Utreght in general is conserninge, and that the same is not applyable to the late Possessor, Albert Alberts in opticular.

And whereas the Plt., besides the other inhabitants of N. Utreght, was possess<sup>d</sup> of the s<sup>d</sup> meddowe, therefore the Plt. must leave the Losse of the same equally with the general Inhabitants of N. Utreght.

The Plt. doth also abusively declare the pretended damage of 100 pounds sterling, whereof he doth not prove the least iot thereof is the same by the deft't rejected. There is noe reason that for a small defect, as this is, the s<sup>d</sup> agreem<sup>t</sup> should be void. Moreover, the Plt hath taken Possession of the s<sup>d</sup> meddowe, &c., Long before the Losse of the same is fallen, and therefore must conforme himself with the inhabitants of N. Utreght, as aforesaid

The Defendant, therefore, concludes that the Plt. shal make good one his Part the conditions of the s<sup>d</sup> bargain, and that his impertinent suit by yo<sup>r</sup> honn<sup>s</sup> shal be non-suited cum expencis, &tz. The honn<sup>ble</sup> Court doe order that both parties shal give in their evidences to the before-standinge sworne Jurymen, and doe further order that the s<sup>d</sup> Juries to give in their verdict uppon the same.

Verdict of the Juries.

The Juries doe find for the deff't & Plt., to stand to their Bargaine, only in consideration that the meddowe is taken away by order of the General Court of the Island, and not by the English, and that both parties had treated about puttinge of the differance to arbitration. Wee doe allowe the Plt. to abate uppon his last payment the summe of five hundred gilders wampum, and each partie to bare his own charges, and pay the cost of the Court.

The honn<sup>ble</sup> Court doe give their approbation to the above standinge verdict, and doe affirme same. Ady as above.

 JAN EVERTS BOUT, Deft. }

Plt'ff demands, according to ac. and obligation, the sum of fl.130 3 12 in Hollands, and fl.97 17 in this country currency. Requests that the Deft. shall be ordered to pay the same to the Plt'ff forthwith, with the interest accrued thereon.

Def't admits the debt, but says he has some offset acs., which, being first deducted, he offers to pay the same on the first opportunity.

The W. Heeren Mayor and Aldermanen, having heard parties refer the parties in question to Sieurs Steenwyck, Johannes de Peyster and Isaac Greveraat, who are hereby appointed to examine the acs. to be produced by Parties to hear arguments, and, if possible, to bring about a reconcilliation and settlement; if not to report their action to the Court. JAN FENNISSSEN, of N. Haarlem, Plt'ff, }
agst.
 RESOLVEERT WALDRON, Constable there, Deft. }

Plt says that Def't accused him with being a thief. Demands reparation of character.

Def't says that there was recently stolen in their village a quilt from the house of one Jan, the soldier, whereupon the Deft., as constable, searched all the houses, and could not find it. Finally, he assembled all the townsfolk together in the square, and told that a quilt was stolen; and as no stranger had been in the village some of the Inhabitants must be guilty. Whereupon he was informed by Pierre Croysen that Jan Teimirsen, the Plt'ff herein had told him one day before Jan, the soldier's quilt was missed, that said Jan soldier had only an empty chest in the house, etc.

Whereupon Deft. had some suspicion of the Plt'ff, as he caused Johan Verveelin's negro, last winter, to bring about a schepel of corn in his own sack to his house from said Verveelin's barn, in which said Verveelen caught him, and obliged him to bring the same back in disgrace to the house; all more fully appearing by the declarations existing thereof. He therefore asked him how he know that there was nothing at all in Jan the soldier's chest. Being thereupon insolently answered by said Jan Termissen, he said he might as well have been guilty of stealing this quilt as of Jiem Verveelen's corn, etc. Demanding that Pl't'ff shall indemnify his, Deft's, lost time, and pay costs incurred.

The Heeren Mayor and Aldermannen, having heard parties, order Pl'tff to pay Deft's lost time and the costs incurred herein; and if any further complaints on his improper behavior shall come before the Court, that he shall be punished as the merits of the case shall deserve, as an example to such others. Ady as above.
